Paul said: "Follow peace with all men and holiness, without such no man shall see the Lord."—Hebrews 12-14.

Lowell said: "Democracy is that form of society in which every man has a chance and knows that he has one."

Many a man in Lincoln county has passed during the last few days upon learning that Congressman Kinkaid is dead. He was buried yesterday at his home in O'Neill. Many a man in Lincoln county owes his start to the bill which became the Kinkaid law. Many a man in Lincoln county has been called a Kinkaid because he took advantage of that law to secure a home. Perhaps there was some fraud in the carrying out of its provisions just as there is in most of the other good laws which have been passed. The good that was done western Nebraska through the operation of the law far overcame any harm and it was of tremendous importance in settling up this western country and getting the land out of the hands of the government and into the hands of the citizens. That one law has written his name large in the history of this country and he will never be forgotten.

Voting at the primary is a privilege. In order to prevent illegal and fraudulent voting the law requires that each man and woman living in North Platte shall register before voting. It is a new law but it is to be enforced. One man says he would like to see them keep him from voting, register or not. He says he has voted every election for twenty years. This man does not realize that North Platte has grown to be a city of about 11,000 people and that election frauds are possible which would not have been thought of twenty years ago and that the law is a safeguard to his vote as well as the vote of every one else. If he does not register and comes up to the primary it will be his own fault if he is refused the privilege. He still has a chance to register and unless he takes that chance he can only blame himself if he is denied the privilege.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

Your gas bills should be thrifty bills. Plan your cooking so as to make one burner or one oven cook more than one article of food at the same time.

While the meat is roasting in the oven, for example, you may not only bake other things, but use the floor space of the oven to boil vegetables.

Also give thought to the selection of proper utensils. You know how important it is not to have more heat applied to a utensil than it can absorb at once. Flat bottom utensils with a base broader than the gas flame are fuel savers.

If pots and pans discolor above the water mark on the inside, the reason is that you have tried to bring the water to a boil too quickly by using too large a burner or too much flame. Use the burner that is just a little smaller than the utensil so that the gas flame does not overlap the sides.

To The Voters---

As a candidate for the legislature from Lincoln county I would like to let the voters know where I stand on a few of the questions in which I believe they are interested.

I believe two of the greatest problems we have to deal with now are taxation and transportation. I believe in cutting down public expenditures as far as possible, consistent with good government. I am opposed to a sales tax.

I think it is every person's duty to talk and work against the freight rates that burden the country. I object to depriving our State railway commission of all power in the administration of the railroads and the fixing of rates. The interstate commerce commission should not have absolute control over local rates.

I am opposed to the weakening of any of the liquor laws. All of my interests are in Lincoln county and as a taxpayer myself, I am vitally interested in every thing that affects our country.

If nominated and elected, I shall expect taxpayers having suggestions along legislative lines to make them known and I assure you they will receive due consideration.

Very Respectfully, Scott Reynolds

Good Government: An Editorial.

No matter what we chance to have and to hold in the shape of lands, buildings, stocks, bonds, mortgages or money, none of these can be compared as an inheritance for the next generation alongside the gift of good government that we may make to our children for their material good and spiritual comfort. * * * To have good government fit for free men and Christians, resting on enlightenment and justice, the makers and administrators of the law must be true to the ideals of their constituency—not mere self-seekers and time-servers, nor shifty demagogues and professional politicians, but carefully chosen men who will honestly discharge their public trusteeship and make satisfactory accounting of their public and official acts. * * * An emergency has arisen in the Sixth Congressional District of this state where a successor must be chosen for a congressman who has given a full generation of faithful service, and republican voters who have the selecting of a candidate are looking several men over from which their choice will soon be made. There are four candidates. Of this number the fellow citizens of Bruno O. Hostetler have insisted that he become their candidate. In short, they have "drafted" him, and are supporting him as a candidate for this office. * * * No man in public life in Nebraska has a more honorable record than Judge Hostetler. He has been tried by all the tests of citizenship and official service for thirty years; as a citizen his life is above reproach; as an official, as mayor and judge of the courts, his course has shown ability, fitness, integrity, firmness of purpose, and a sense of justice to suit every occasion and fit every circumstance. * * * Judge Hostetler's "home friends" present his name for consideration by the voters of the Sixth District with the full conviction that his selection now and election later will be one sure step in the direction of good government and the attainment of their highest ideals.—Kearney Daily Hub, July 6.

Comments of a Few Newspapers of the Sixth District Commendatory of Judge Hostetler For Congress.

WILL NOT BE BOSSED BY POLITICIANS.

This may be said of Judge Hostetler, that he will not be bossed by politicians should he be elected, and he will vote to the best interests of all concerned. The people are getting tired of politics, and we believe that if the judge gets elected that he will cut out some of the "rough stuff" that is being dished out at Washington. When congressmen have to vote a party label on every question, we will no longer have popular government, and we have faith to believe that B. O. Hostetler is elected to congress, he will not be bossed by politicians.—Loup City Times.

A GENEROUS AND HAPPY RECEPTION.

Judge B. O. Hostetler of Kearney was in Gothenburg last Saturday, and met with a generous and happy reception. He is in the congressional race in the "big sixth" district for the republican nomination at the July primaries. We believe Judge Hostetler is the man of the hour, worthy to step into the shoes of Uncle Moses Kinkaid who so faithfully served the people of this district for twenty or more years. We are certain that his training and ability qualify him for the Kinkaid succession.—Gothenburg Independent.

BOTH SATISFACTION AND CONFIDENCE.

The people of this community, nearly all of whom are personally acquainted with Judge Hostetler, will be highly elated over the foregoing announcement, and it is the general opinion that they will show their appreciation by rallying to his support at the polls July 18. Of the numerous would-be successors to Congressman Kinkaid, Judge B. O. Hostetler appears to be the only one who is fitted by experience and ability to take up the burden of the former and carry it to the satisfaction and with the confidence of the people of the "Big Six"—Litchfield Monitor.

Many Other Newspapers in the Sixth District Commend Hostetler's Candidacy.

Question of Eligibility Is Entirely Without Warrant. Hostetler Is Eligible.

A movement is on foot in some quarters to discredit the candidacy of Judge Hostetler for congress by asserting that he is not a qualified candidate for the office, because he is holding the office of district judge. To support the assertion, reference is made to Section 1139 of the Revised Statutes of Nebraska, which provides that no judge of the district court of this state shall be eligible as a candidate for any other office, except a judicial office, during the time he is occupying the office.

The meaning and effect of this statute was considered before Judge Hostetler became a candidate, and has been considered by parties interested in other congressional districts. It will be remembered that Judge Harry Dungan, of Hastings, was a candidate for congress in the Fifth Congressional district on the democratic ticket when this same statute was in force. He and his friends then concluded that this statute was no bar to his candidacy for congress, and it has been said by good authority that this provision of our statute refers only to other state offices and can not refer to federal offices.

The constitution of the United States fixes the qualifications of members of congress. They must be 25 years of age, seven years a citizen of the United States, and an inhabitant of the state in which he shall be chosen. All in which he hold that it is not competent for any

BELIEVE HIM TO BE THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

The writer has known Judge Hostetler for upwards of 25 years, and we knew him when he was struggling to establish his law practice, knew him when he was mayor of the city of Kearney, before he was called to the bench, and we know of no man in the district that will fill the place M. P. Kinkaid now occupies with greater distinction, or better qualifications. The enterprise is not a partisan paper, though the editor is a republican, and always has been from the time that he was able to think for himself, yet were it otherwise we would still be for Judge Hostetler in the election, for we believe him to be the Man of the Hour.—Anselmo Enterprise.

COMES NEAREST FILLING KINKAID'S SHOES.

Following the announcement of the Kearney man's entry in the race, it was stated that he had been drafted by his friends and fellow citizens who believe that he is the logical "man of the hour." Judge Hostetler was born on a farm near Jamesville, Iowa, in 1861, and in 1887 came to Kearney and engaged in the practice of law. He was elected mayor of Kearney for two terms, and in 1904 he became judge of the twelfth judicial district of Nebraska comprising the counties of Buffalo, Custer, Logan and Sherman. He has been district judge for eighteen years, and has made a most enviable record.

Judge Hostetler is well qualified for the office he seeks, and in the event of his nomination and election will doubtless come as near filling Mr. Kinkaid's shoes as any man that could be picked from this congressional ticket.—Shelton Clipper.

MANY WARM FRIENDS IN DAWSON COUNTY.

Judge Hostetler has many warm friends in Dawson county, and has been a resident of Central City, Neb., for thirty-five years, eighteen of which he has served as a district judge. He is a man that is well seasoned in public life, has ability, is a hustler, and his integrity is above question. He has a host of friends in this vicinity who would be glad to see him in congress.—Lexington Pioneer.

FRIENDS GLAD TO SEE HIM IN CONGRESS.

Judge Bruno J. Hostetler of Kearney was in the city Thursday looking after his candidacy for congressman from the Sixth district on the republican ticket. He has been judge for eighteen years, and would now like to take Congressman Kinkaid's place in the House of Representatives. Judge Hostetler has many friends here who would be glad to have him in congress.—North Platte Tribune.

Judge Sears' Opinion.

Omaha, Neb., June 26, 1922.—Hon. B. O. Hostetler, Kearney, Neb.—My Dear Judge: Answering your letter of several days ago will say that I have no intention of resigning from the bench myself. Frank Howell, J. P. Breun, Louis TePoe and several other lawyers of first rank quality have told me that in their opinion district judges who are running for federal offices are not in any manner controlled by the sections of our statute, and I am inclined to that view. Judge Dungan, of Hastings, whom you know very well, ran two years ago without resigning, for the same office that you and I are seeking, and undoubtedly he looked the matter up quite thoroughly before he concluded on that course. The World Herald and the entire democratic press supported Judge Dungan without calling on him to resign, and as far as I know no republican newspaper suggested that he resign. I thought of all these things before I decided upon my course.

With kindest regards, W. G. SEARS.
