During the evening the following program was given. Invocation by Rev. Moore of the Episcopal church, suggestions about work in China by Mrs. Gilman. Progress of Christian work in China by Rev. Gilman, a vocal duet by Dorothy Voseipka and Thelma Krowartz. There were fifty guests present. The basement was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. At the close of the evening sherbet and wafers were served.

AS TEDDY JR SEES IT

Editor's Note: The recent triumph of progressive Republican candidates in various states and upset of other Old Guard leaders brought forth the following comment from Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the Navy, when approached by the Washington representative of this newspaper:

I AM delighted with Gifford Pinchot's victory in Pennsylvania. It indicates a general trend toward progressive ideals. In this connection, however, it is necessary to bear in mind that since 1912 lines are blurred considerably on progressive policies. For example, a very large part of the 1912 progressive platform has already become the law of the land. In this, woman suffrage is a specific incident.

LATE-MOULTING HENS SHOULD BE SAVED FOR BREEDING STOCK

That culling of the poultry flock to get rid of all those birds except the vigorous, prolific layers results in noticeable improvement in the progeny is shown by recent investigations at the United States Experiment Farm, Beltsville, Md. The late moulters selected from a flock of 100 Rhode Island Reds in the fall of 1920 laid seven eggs per bird more during their second year than the original flock as pullets. They were used as breeders the following spring and the first Red pullets to commence laying in the fall of 1921 were found to be the offspring of these late-moulting hens. Their pullets in a period of seven months have already averaged about two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock.

But it is not alone in number of eggs that the late-moulter's progeny excel, but also in the value of the product, as the distribution was more even, a much larger proportion of the eggs being laid during the winter months. In the last seven months the daughters of the late moulters not only averaged two dozen eggs more per bird than the original flock, but the value of their product was, figuring at the same prices, about $1.04 per bird more during the same period. It is expected that this margin will increase during the next five months.

Miss Bridie Matin spent Sunday in the city visiting Miss Anne Rubis enroute from Denver to her home in Iowa.

Miss Jennie Carlson and mother Mrs. Anna Carlson left Sunday for Gothenburg to visit at the Erickson home.

Mrs. Chas. Cohagen left Saturday for Kearney to visit for several days. She was accompanied by Miss Ardis Crosscup.

CORN ON THE COB FOR A CHANGE

Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach, likes to attack "Corn on the Cob" whenever he gets the opportunity, though the great baseball player is not in any way cannibalistically inclined. He is seen here engaged in his second favorite sport.

Miss Helen Schupman of Broadwater underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Platte Valley hospital and is reported to be getting along nicely.

Mrs. Pearl Pettit will be given a hearing this morning in police court the discharging of fire arms in the city limits.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cooney and daughter Babe of Overton spent Friday in the city visiting their daughters Mrs. K. A. Moorehouse and Miss Nell Cooney.

POEM BY UNCLE JOHN

APROPOS OF SPRING

We've stood the howl of winter, an' endured the dismal days, when the pesky zero stung us an' the gripe was everywhar, and the weather man so reckless, piled it on us forty ways, as we couched an' sneezed every time we struck the air. We carried in the fuel, an' wa set around the blaze, sorter wonderin' what would happen if the winter never quit, an' our mind went back to summer with its glorious fishin' days, especially the Sundays when the biggest suckers bit. . . . Now at last we're on the threshold of another joyous spring, when the sun busts all the rivets that has held the clouds together, an' she'll warm the aughin' waters as they tickle down the streams, sorter chordin' with the red bird as he sings about the weather. Then rally round the pancakes, an' the luscious maple sap—a man could preach a sermon on the arly mess of green. The bluebells an' the buttercups are wak'n' from their nap—it's time to dig the sassafra an' plant our kidney beans.

The Meter Is As Accurate as Your Watch

It has to be! It would mean a big loss in dollars and cents and in the good will of our customers (which is worth a good deal more) if every meter was'n't just as accurate as a fine watch.

We don't make our own meters, of course. They're made by an outside disinterested manufacturing company who has but one object—to turn out a perfect product.

No meter can register unless gas is passing through it. No meter, correctly adjusted, can register more gas than is passing through it. Every meter is tested before it goes into your home, of course. In some sections of the country, meter inspectors are employed by city or state. Their job is to test meters and do nothing else.
