SUMMER FALLOW

Grant Barrett, who lives eight miles north west of Merna, in Dale Valley had a field of Turkey Red wheat which yielded over forty-five bushels per acre. This wheat was on summer fallowed ground, and 450 bushels were threshed from it. Fourteen bushels an acre was the largest yield of any of the other wheat, which was mostly Kanred that was threshed by this company. Much of the other wheat went six and seven bushels to the acre. Oats averaged about six and rye seven bushels per acre.—Custer County Chief.

A GOOD JOKE

Last Saturday Henry Wakeman came to the Times office with two fine looking water melons which he presented to the editor. We took them, thanking him very much for his thoughtfulness and kindness and promised to say something nice about him in the paper some time. But since we found the melons to be only half ripe and we were not able to eat them we'll be dadburned if we know whether we will ever say anything good about him in the paper or not. Next time you come down, Henry, bring a ripe one or two and square yourself with the Times force.—Paxton Times.

SHERIDAN'S RIDE

H. Sheridan, who by the way has the edge on all the boys on the range in this vicinity when it comes to hats, was at the J. B. ranch one day last week on his cow pony when the question of transporting a hive of bees to Greenacres came up. Sheridan said if someone would place the bees in his lap on the saddle he would deliver the goods. Fred Tepley of the A. E. F. was present and volunteered to go over the top. So Sheridan received the bees as per specifications said "giddap" and was on his way. Old cow pony failed to stun his toe once in the two miles and Sheridan made the delivery proper without a missing stinger.—Gothenburg Independent.

Lopez Real Discoverer. Francisco Lopez, the discoverer of gold in California, died in poverty, and the place of his burial is unknown. Marshall who accidentally discovered gold in the mill race at Sutter's Ford six years afterward, was given $3,000 a year by the state and a monument of brass was erected to his memory. Sutter, who had nothing to do with the discovery, and did not own the land upon which his mill stood, also was given a pension. Lopez immediately reported his discovery to his employers. Sutter and Marshall kept the discovery a secret until they had taken possession of large tracts of land, for which they gave the Indians almost nothing. Both Sutter and Marshall knew that their claims as first discoverers of gold were false. They were adventurers, and were at San Fernando in 1846 during one of the Mexican revolutions, and had heard of the gold fields in the San Fernando district.
