EDITORIAL

Christ said: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."—Matthew 28:19.

Lincoln said: "I must stand by any body that stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he is wrong."

Turn to another page and read the letter by Mrs. Axtell on What is the matter with North Platte as a place in which to raise boys. It was the only editorial received and shows the mothers of boys in North Platte to be pretty well satisfied with conditions here. Now for the girls. We will offer a prize of three dollars to the North Platte mother of a girl who will write the best editorial about the advantages of North Platte as a place in which to raise a girl. Contest closes Wednesday, October 4th.

The editor regrets to see John Null remove from this city. John has done a great deal for the boys here. His bicycle races never aroused much enthusiasm among the automobile people but the youngsters who pedaled were his friends. He was good hearted, considerate, of good habits and kind to his mother with whom he lived and who is now probably looking forward to a trip to California to visit him. Such fellows are rather rare these days and when they move away they leave a hole which is often not filled very well.

A Mr. Campbell of Medford, Oregon was here Saturday trying to buy a carload of white-faced cattle of the highest breeding for importation to his farms on the coast. He was unfortunate in not being able to locate most of the larger breeders of this part of the country. Local persons interested in the cattle industry took him out to see some of the breeders but they could not supply him with the number he required although he said the quality was just what he wanted. He left for Cambridge to interview the Mousel Bros. That is certainly a good argument in favor of pure-bred cattle raising. Men with fat pocket-books don't travel from Oregon to North Platte to buy scrub cattle. It is too bad Lincoln county could not have filled this man's bill for if it had there would be other western buyers who would have heard of us and who would have made similar trips here to buy of our surplus.

Abe Lee left yesterday for Lincoln where he will visit for a few days.

"All Aboard!" Tickets on sale at the Rexall Drug Store.

Russell and Lester Langford will leave this evening for California where they will attend Leland-Stanford University.

L. Lipschitz and son left this morning for Columbus and other points in the eastern part of the state where he will celebrate the Jewish holidays.

Plenty of North Platte evidence of their worth.

Mrs. M. E. Wood, 208 E. 8th St., North Platte says: "I always have a word of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills. They have done me a great deal of good. I had a very severe attack of kidney complaint and suffered terribly for awhile. My back hurt me so I couldn't get around at all. A neighbor told me how Doan's Kidney Pills had cured her and I took three boxes. It was not long before they relieved me. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly after what they have done for me."

BEAVER CULTURE A MEANS OF FUR AND FOREST PRODUCTION

Although the practicability of beaver farming has not been fully demonstrated, the United States Department of Agriculture believes that the business of raising beavers for their fur may develop, under proper control measures, into a profitable branch of fur farming. With a small beginning the enterprise seems to promise an advance to good returns and even great possibilities.

A fertile field for beaver culture may be found in connection with projects for the reforestation with conifers of burned or cut-over timberlands. Many of these areas, cleared by ax or fire and later covered with a second growth of aspen, willow, and pin cherry, are for the time considered almost worthless. Over much of the northern border of the United States and still larger areas of Canada where such land is found it is generally unsuited for agriculture and would not pay taxes until again covered by valuable forest timber, but would supply ideal food for beavers, and if stocked with them could be made to yield an income while the process of reforestation is going on.

The animals should not be introduced uncontrolled into places where their activities may menace irrigation or power ditches, important road or railroad grades, or agricultural districts. A suitable food supply and permanent water should be assured.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rathman returned the last of the week from Colorado where they have been spending some time in the interests of Mr. Rathman's health. Mr. Rathman went on to St. Paul, Minn. where he will attend a two-week's session of the buyers for the J. C. Penny stores.

Mr. Koester, the state Game Warden passed through the city Saturday with a car of pheasants which he will distribute over the northwestern part of the state.

Miss Bernedetta Connor of Omaha will arrive the latter part of the week and will spend a few days visiting at the J. F. Schwalger home.

A. T. Brown left yesterday for Kearney where he will transact business for a few days.
