Pretty Home-Made Gifts

Among Home-Made Toys

Among the things that delight little folks are dolls and small animals made of elderdown flannel or Turkish toweling, and painted with water color paints. The doll and dressed-up kitten pictured here, are among them. The doll's face may be made of a piece of ribbed stocking and the kitten's face and clothes are painted on.

To Frame Fair Faces

Every Christmas brings new breakfast caps. Here are three of them made of net, lace and ribbon in different shapes and decked with tiny ribbon flowers. Each has a short, elastic tape set in a casing across the back, to fit it to the head, and they are among the welcome gifts that can be made by their donors.

Lovely Ribbon Gifts

Some one you know is hoping to find a new pair of garters or a rich ribbon bag in her Christmas stocking and here are garters and bags that are guaranteed to please. One pair of the garters is made of narrow silver ribbon finished with tiny ribbon roses. Satin ribbon and narrow black lace make the other pair. Black moire ribbon with silver filigree mounting and ring handles serve for the handsome bag lined with rose colored satin. The other bag uses black and silver brocade with a tortoise shell mounting.

Things That Men Like

Here is a decorative bag, of printed cotton challie 25 inches long and 17 inches wide. A scalloped edge turns up over a straight edge at the bottom and each scallop has a buttonhole, fastening over a glass button. The bag is supported by a coat hanger, faced at the top and bottom with plain challie and French knots made of heavy sephry decorate it. Hung in the closet it makes a handy receptacle for soiled collars and handkerchiefs, which are thrust in at the top and fall out at the bottom when the bag is unbuttoned. Men like such conveniences.

Pretty Neckwear Sets

Every woman loves dainty neckwear and it is twice welcome when the donor herself has made it. There are many pretty sets this year made of white or colored organdie and other sheer fabrics. A collar, vestee and cuff set is shown here of white organdie cross-barred with black. Little flowers in red, green and purple floss are embroidered on the pieces in lazy-daisy stitch. For girls Peter Pan collars and cuffs to match are made of checked tissue gingham, edged with ready-made, scalloped trimming of plaited organdie, or other edging.

Cardboard Doll Cradle

Little girls get much joy out of dolls' furniture. A Dutch cradle and the pieces that make it are shown here, in heavy cardboard. The tabs on the side pieces (Fig. 2) are perforated and slip through slots in the bottom piece (Fig. 1) and through the head and footboards (Fig. 3). Little wood pegs, thrust through the perforations, hold the pieces together. Fig. 1 is 8 1/2 inches long and 4 inches wide. Fig. 2 is 9 1/2 inches wide at top, 8 1/2 inches at bottom, 2 1/2 inches wide at head, 2 1/2 inches at foot. Fig. 3 is 5 1/2 inches high and 5 1/2 inches wide. The rocker measures 6 1/2 inches across. The cradle may be finished with painted decorations.

A Graceful Lantern

No decoration will be more effective in dressing up the house at Christmas time than lanterns and candle shades of crepe paper and tinsel. A graceful lantern is illustrated here, made on a wire frame over which the paper covering is pasted and cut-out figures are pasted to the sides. The long tassel may be of tinsel or crepe paper. Festoons of flower petals, strung on cords, finish this pretty decoration.

Rich Table Scarfs

Very handsome scarfs for the library table are made of black velvet with an applique of wide brocaded ribbon down the center. They are a little shorter than the table and have fish-tail ends with a silk tassel pendant from each point.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

A Trying Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Phila., Pa.—"When I was going through the Change of Life I was weak, nervous, dizzy and had headaches. I was troubled in this way for two years and was hardly able to do my work. My friends advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am very sorry that I did not take it sooner. But I have got good results from it and am now able to do my housework most of the time. I recommend your medicine to those who have similar troubles. I do not like publicity, but if it will help other women I will be glad for you to use my letter."—Mrs. FANNIE ROSENSTEIN, 882 N. Holly St., Phila., Pa.

The critical time of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 60, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness, irritability, melancholia. Heat flashes or waves of heat appear to pass over the body, cause the face to be very red and often bring on headache, dizziness and a sense of suffocation.

Another annoying symptom which comes at this time is an inability to recall names, dates or other small facts. This is liable to make a woman lose confidence in herself. She becomes nervous, avoids meeting strangers and dreads to go out alone.

Detroit, Michigan—"During the Change of Life I had a lot of stomach trouble and was bothered a great deal with hot flashes. Sometimes I was not able to do any work at all. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in your little books and took it with very good results. I keep house and am able now to do all my own work. I recommend your medicine and am willing for you to publish my testimonial."—Mrs. J. S. LIVERNOIS, 2061 Junction Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women at this time. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. Let it help carry you through this time of life. It is a splendid medicine for the middle-aged woman. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics.

COAL OF VEGETABLE ORIGIN PLAN TO CONTROL WEATHER

Abundant Proof That Huge Forests, In Former Epochs of the Earth, Became Petrified.

Scheme Has Been the Dream of Many Scientists, but Nothing Practical Has Been Evolved.

Although in most instances there are comparatively few traces of its vegetable origin left, coal owes its existence to the vast masses of vegetable matter deposited through the luxuriant growth of plants in former epochs of the earth's history, and since slowly converted into a petrified state.

Three or four years ago a Sheffield (Eng.) workman claimed to be putting the finishing touches to an instrument to enable him "to focus beams of ether oscillation" and so control the weather. Unfortunately, the instrument could not have been so perfect as he thought, for nothing further has been heard of it. Before that a Leeds scientist had come to the conclusion that it was "within the scope of human possibility to prevent disastrous cyclones, hurricanes and storms, and even to improve permanently the weather of the British Isles." The idea was the production of an instrument enabling the operator to collect or disperse the molecules which form the atmosphere, securing the degree of density desired and so arranging the best weather required for any district or seasonal occupation. More than twelve years ago Sir Oliver Lodge demonstrated that fog could be dispelled by electricity, though the process was too costly for adoption generally.

Coal fields today present abundant indications of the existence of huge ancient forests, usually in the form of coal formed from the roots of trees. Several such forests have been uncovered, one of which in Nova Scotia is a good example. Remains of trees have been found there, six to eight feet in height and four feet in diameter. In a colliery in England, in a space of about one-quarter of an acre, there have been found the fossilized stumps of 73 trees, with roots attached, and broken-off trunks lying about, one of them 30 feet long, and all of them turned into coal.

A Foreign City. A friend, who spent several months in the East, says the thing that impressed him most about New York is that it is a foreign city. The municipal signs are printed in English, Italian and Yiddish. You hear more foreign language than English in the subway, and everywhere foreign language newspapers are seen. In large sections of the city you do not see an American, or hear English spoken.

Work Without Proper Aim.

I respect the man who knows distinctly what he wishes. The greater part of all the mischief in the world arises from the fact that men do not sufficiently understand their own aims. They have undertaken to build a tower, and spend no more labor on the foundation than would be necessary to build a hut.—Goethe.

A lot of men who think they are broad-minded are simply too shallow-minded to afford anchorage for an opinion.

As a rule, a man's insignificance is in exact proportion to the importance of his telephone voice.
