North Platte people are being asked to buy Christmas seals this week and the response has been quite satisfactory to the Campfire girl council. It is not unusual for someone to purchase fifty cents worth or a dollars worth just to help the cause. The Campfire girls do not get a cent of the money. Half of the amount is sent to the state headquarters for the work of fighting tuberculosis in Nebraska and half is retained in this community to be used in health work of some kind. The sale will continue until every person has bought all he or she will buy.
