DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE FREE.

And what a magazine it is! For 1895 it will be more brilliant than ever before. New management, new methods, new ideas. Each copy contains an exquisite reproduction in colors of some celebrated picture by a famous artist, worthy to adorn the walls of the most refined home. It is affirmed that Demorest's is the only complete family magazine published combining all of the most excellent points of its contemporaries, besides having inimitable features of its own. Demorest's is actually a dozen magazines in one.

It is a Digest of Current Events and Ideas for the busy man or woman. A Review and Storehouse of Interest for all. Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters can find exactly what they need to amuse and instruct them, also practical hints in every department of domestic and social life, including the furnishing and ornamenting of the home, embroidery, bric-a-brac, artistic and fancy work of all kinds, etc., and suggestions and advice regarding the wellbeing and dressing of their own persons.

The scope of the articles for 1895 and 1896 will cover the whole country and its varied interests, and the articles will be profusely illustrated with the finest engravings, and in addition it will publish a Review and Digest of Fiction. It treats at length of Door Sports, Home Amusements and Entertainments; it gives a great deal of attention to the Children's Department, and "Our Girls," and has a Monthly Symposium by celebrated People, in which are discussed important questions of the hour of interest to the older readers.

Let us have your subscription at once. You get more value for your money than it is possible to secure in any other magazine. The Magazine one year for $2.00. Or six months for 1.00.

Over 250 different garments are shown each year, in terms of all of which are obtainable by subscribers at 4c each. Sample copy with pattern coupon sent for 10c.

FRIDAY, DEC. 6, 1895.

Congress is now in session.

A man in Sherman county, Nebr., has been arrested by the authorities for running an illicit still. He has been manufacturing an excellent quality of whiskey from sugar beets.

The G. A. R. post held the annual election Wednesday. The following is the list of officers so far as we got them:

Commander—S. Gilbert.
Quartermaster—D. T. Smiley.
Chaplain—Jesse Farmer.
Surge—W. T. Whitten.
O. D.—I. N. Cooper.
O. G.—G. W. Neal.

Friday evening of last week Ally McCandless, who had been at Shubert, got into his buggy and started home, but had gone only a short distance when the bolt holding the double-trees gave way or pulled out, letting them against the horses' legs. The horses sprang forward, and Ally was jerked over the dashboard and out of the buggy, falling on his face, which was considerably skinned up. The horses got loose from him and started up the railroad track on the run. Ally searched for them on the way home, but did not find them. The next morning they were found by the side of the railroad track, the train having caught them. The iron gray had one leg broken and had to be killed. The bay had one leg badly cut, and cannot be used for some time.

Piles of people have piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them. When promptly applied it cures scalds and burns without the slightest pain. Taylor, the druggist.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn for any part of the city. Easy riding Quick time. All trains met. John McElhanev, proprietor.

One Minute Cough Cure is rightly named. It affords instant relief from suffering when afflicted with a severe cough or cold. It acts on the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs and never fails to give immediate relief. Taylor the druggist.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

SOME READING THAT WILL PROVE INTERESTING TO YOUNG MOTHERS.
HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THE DISEASE.

Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post them concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by M. H. Taylor.

W. W. Sanders, Notary Public. Pensions papers of all kinds made out accurately. Legal documents drawn up. All business given prompt and careful attention.

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by M. H. Taylor.

Women as "Good Fellows."

At a recent Bohemian gathering, the toast of the evening was to the hostess, who was voted "a jolly good fellow." This sentiment was received with great applause, and every man present felt that no higher compliment could be paid the little woman whom each desired to honor. A little thought, however, given to this sentiment makes it less a matter for congratulation and more a topic for serious consideration. The world is full of women who are able to be good fellows, says the Philadelphia Times. It doesn't require much. Merely a gift of repartee, a ready wit and a kindly heart, but the womanly women, the gentle loving creatures, who think the greatest honor in life lies in being devoted wives and mothers, they are not so readily found, but once a man does discover such a treasure the "good fellow" is forgotten, and the more essentially feminine, though less brilliant, woman is placed in the sacred recesses of his heart, where she dwells forever and aye. Girls, it does not pay to cultivate a reputation for good fellowship; rather eschew all conduct that does not lie parallel with lines of refinement, duty and womanliness. The transient honor attached to a sovereignty of this sort is not to be compared with the lasting homage that is always given a true woman. The shores of Bohemia are composed of jagged rocks, on which many a bark bearing the name, "woman's reputation," has been shattered. The wisest woman that ever lived cannot be too careful in her manner. The world at large does not appreciate the doubtful compliment that the woman anxious for a certain kind of public recognition thinks so desirable. It is the easiest thing to step over the border; therefore watch out for thorough womanliness if you desire thorough happiness and the best returns the world can give.

Not Quite All the Earth.

Henry Miller and Charles Lux, cattlemen of San Francisco, confess to owning more than fourteen million acres of land in three states. As the San Francisco Examiner puts it, this makes an estate equal in area to the states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut together. It is half the size of New York and three times the size of New Jersey. It is about the size of West Virginia and a eighth of the entire area of California. It is as large as Greece, with the Ionian Isles, of which Byron wrote. It is four times the area of Alsace-Lorraine, over which France and Germany fought. It is but little smaller than Ireland and half again as large as Switzerland. It is twice as large as Belgium and one-third the size of England and Wales together. These two remarkable men are natives of one of the Rhenish provinces of Germany.

MONEY does not always bring happiness. Since inheriting seventy-five thousand dollars from her brother, "Diamond Joe" Reynolds, of Arkansas, Mrs. Divine, of Hurleyville, N. Y., has become demented in her fear that she would lose her money. She has made three attempts to end her life. She attempted hanging from a bedpost, lowered a heavy window sash on her neck, and with an old penknife inflicted twenty cuts on her neck, wrists, legs and feet. She was discovered when she plunged the knife into her side and tried to drive it further with an iron stove lid. The suddenly acquired wealth may, after all, be the death of her.

A LIST of the casualties at the late republican primaries in Chicago is forty-two names long—of men with faces smashed, eyes gouged, stomachs kicked, and generally bruised or beaten. Ambulances were in great demand, while ballot-boxes were smashed, judges of election kicked out of doors, and a reign of bruisers inaugurated. The contest raged over the attempts of the rival city hall and county factions to capture the delegates to the county convention. There is nothing like a political gathering to stir a man's fighting blood.

A LATE dispatch from Rome says that living in open air all summer has improved the pope's health, which was never better than it is now. He is entirely free from the fainting spells that used to come upon him in the spring months and when pressed with business. Dr. Laponi says: "If nothing unforeseen happens, the holy father's constitution is so sound that he may well attain his hundredth year."

A ROOM in the Lawrence house at Exeter, N. H., has on its walls the original paper that its former proprietor, the late Jotham Lawrence, imported from Italy at great expense when the house was built in 1809. It is known as landscape paper and is made up of scenes of the bay of Naples, no picture being duplicated. A house that has such paper can well dispense with pictures on the wall.

THE NAME OF THE NEXT

President OF THE United States

WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN THE

New York Weekly Tribune

of November 4th, 1896.

Public interest will steadily increase, and the disappointment of the men whose votes turned the scale at the last election, with the results under the administration they elected, will make the campaign the most intensely interesting in the history of the country.

The New York Weekly Tribune, the leading Republican family newspaper in the United States, will publish all the political news of the day, interesting to every American citizen regardless of party affiliations.

Also general news in attractive form, foreign correspondence covering the news of the world, an agricultural department second to none in the country, market reports which are recognized authority, fascinating short stories, complete in each number, the cream of the humorous papers, foreign and domestic, with their best comic pictures, fashions plates and elaborate descriptions of woman's attire, with a varied and attractive department of household interest. The "New York Weekly Tribune" is an ideal family paper with a circulation larger than any other weekly publication in the country issued from the office of a daily. Large changes are being made in its details, tending to give it greater life and variety, and especially more interest to the women and young people of the household.
