It is now said that recent earthquakes have shoved this section of the country one thousand miles farther south, so far as climate is concerned. This is said to be the cause of the remarkably mild winter we have had.

When we got about half the papers printed last Friday the press broke down, and as we could not get the break repaired until Saturday afternoon, many of our subscribers had to wait until this week for their paper.

Rev. E. S. Chamberlain writes us to announce that he will preach at Nemaha next Sunday morning and evening, the Lord willing. He closed the Nebraska City meetings Sunday night, and is engaged in a meeting at Nehawka, Cass county. There were forty additions to the church at the Nebraska City meeting.

W. M. Kent, of Auburn, was in town a short time Monday. Mr. Kent is a member of the Soldier's Relief Commission of Nemaha county, and was here looking after some of the comrades that need relief. He went from here to Brownville.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lesley Wednesday, but the babe only lived twenty-four hours. The funeral services were held at the residence Friday forenoon, by Rev. C. H. Gilmore. The bereaved ones have our sympathy in their affliction.

J. H. Littrell was arrested while in Auburn Thursday charged with having a revolver during the rumpus on our streets one day last week. Joe plead guilty, and was fined $5 and costs. If every one guilty of such actions was promptly arrested there would be less trouble, and many times serious difficulty would be avoided. All should be served alike.

Rev. J. W. Kimmel, of Leavenworth, Kansas, was in town last week, selling church matches. Two or three years ago the Lutheran organization at Leavenworth built a $6,500 church, going in debt for the whole amount, and Rev. Kimmel, the pastor, is paying off the debt by selling matches. The first ones sold here were of a poor quality but this has been corrected and they are now all right.

When the boys got home from Auburn Thursday, after the trial of Taylor and Sampson, they formed in procession at the depot, headed by a darkey with a guitar and harmonica, and marched in triumphal procession up the middle of the street to the drug store. That night the darkey gave an exhibition at the drug store that was said to be first class by those who saw it. He is a fine musician, acrobat, class eater, and in fact is a whole show by himself.

A lot of the worthless dogs in Nemaha almost caused a serious accident Tuesday. As Mrs. Estera Purvis was driving along the streets four or five worthless curs ran after the buggy and frightened the horses by their barking. They started to run and in going over the culvert south of H. A. Kyle's residence Mrs. Purvis was almost thrown out. In turning the corner by Mrs. Crother's home the buggy came near being upset. Fortunately the dogs stopped here, and the horses were soon checked up without any damage being done. The next day a dog jumped at a lady as she was going along the street past a residence, tearing her dress and frightening her very much. It would be a good idea if a big majority of the dogs in town were killed.

R. M. Gillan and Jerry Marlatt are the only authorized agents for Nemaha county for the sale of stock in the Southeastern Nebraska Building and Loan association.

J. M. BURRESS, Manager.

On Valentine's Day Mrs. J. H. Littrell received several of the cheap and so-called comic valentines. They were very objectionable to her, and she had her suspicions as to who sent them, and claims she has good proofs, so she went to Auburn last Saturday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Minor H. Taylor and Robert Sampson. Taylor and Sampson went out to Auburn Monday and surrendered. The trial was set for Thursday, and a number of our citizens summoned as witnesses, but on Thursday the trial was postponed for thirty days and it is likely this is the last of it, as it is not thought anything can be done. The whole affair was very foolish from beginning to end, and it surprises every one that our county attorney should pay any attention to the complaint. The valentines were the common printed ones, such as are kept for sale at all places handling such things, and it is very seldom that any one takes offense at receiving them. Of course whoever sent them to Mrs. Littrell was acting in a wrong spirit, if they knew the way she felt about such matters, but it only makes things worse to carry it into court.

Rev. C. H. Gilmore, pastor of the M. E. church, is proving so popular a preacher that the seating capacity of the church is not enough to accommodate the people who attend. During the recent protracted meeting over fifty chairs were borrowed, and then many nights a great many had to stand. It is now proposed to buy a number of chairs to use in the church.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILL.

DIED.—At his residence, about six miles southwest of Nemaha, Sunday morning, February 16th, 1896, Mr. Nathan Smith, aged 87 years. Mr. Smith was sick only a short time, with typhoid pneumonia fever. He leaves a wife and one son to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father.

The deceased was born in September, 1858. He came to Nemaha county in 1865, with his father, J. K. Smith, and has made his home here ever since. In 1870 he married a daughter of Levi Johnson, who survives him.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church at Nemaha on Monday, at 12:30, the services being conducted by Rev. C. H. Gilmore. The church would not hold all the friends who came to pay the last tribute of respect to their neighbor. Nat Smith, as he was always called, was respected and liked by all his acquaintances. The loved ones have the sympathy of all the community in their bereavement.

The county commissioners have been wrestling with the question of loaning the county funds again this week. A few weeks ago the county treasurer advertised for bids for the funds. The Peru bank offered five per cent for $1,000 to $6,000. The Carson National and First National banks of Auburn, and the banks at Johnson, Brock and Julian put in bids of three per cent for various sums. The treasurer refused to submit the three per cent bids to the commissioners, and the Peru bank was awarded the amount asked for. Since that time the remainder of the funds, amounting, we are informed, to about $40,000, has been drawing no interest. The commissioners heard arguments Thursday from G. W. Cornell, attorney for the treasurer, and Church Howe, attorney for the banks. The argument became so heated that the sheriff had to step between the disputants and command peace. The commissioners took the matter under advisement.
