A RED-HOT CAMPAIGN
The present campaign will be the most exciting one fought since the war. There will not be a day when something of unusual interest will not transpire. The State Journal has made up its mind to surpass all its former efforts in the direction of news-giving, and will give its readers the most complete details of the campaign, giving all the news from an unbiased standpoint. Republicans will want The Journal because of its staunch republican principles, it being recognized as the standard-bearer of the great republican party of Nebraska. Populists and democrats should read it for the news it gives. The Semi-weekly Journal will go to thousands of new homes during the campaign. You should subscribe, as it will only cost you 25 cents from now until November 15. Two papers every week, making it almost as good as a daily. Subscribe through your postmaster or send your order to The State Journal, Lincoln, Neb., or hand to THE ADVERTISER.

Bob Smith says he has been getting down to hard work about six days in the week, and the assertion is evidently entitled to belief, strange as it may seem, as Bob hardly ever comes to town, and if he wasn't sick or at work he would never stay away so much.
As we go to press we learn that Mr. and Mrs. Will S. Thompson's baby died Friday. The funeral services will be held at the Christian church Saturday afternoon. A farther notice will be given next week. The bereaved parents have our sympathy.
The body of a boy ten or twelve years old was taken from the Missouri river Tuesday, at Aspinwall. Coroner Opperman held an inquest Wednesday, the jury rendered a verdict of death from drowning. The boy had evidently been in bathing, as the body had no clothing on. It had been in the water for several weeks.
J. J. Blakely Maddox, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Maddox, died Sunday, July 26th, at 11:30 a. m. at the residence of the parents in South Auburn. The funeral services were held at the Lutheran church on Monday, at 3:30 p. m. Rev. Chas. H. Gilmore, of Nemaha, preached the funeral sermon. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends in Nemaha in their affliction.
Those who attended the McKinley and Hobart ratification meeting at Auburn last Saturday night report a great big glorious time. An immense crowd was present, the opera house was crowded, and hundreds could not gain admission. Judge Allen W. Field of Lincoln made a splendid address, that awakened great enthusiasm, Congressman Strode made a short talk, but said he was not there to make a speech but would return later in the campaign to do this.
FRESH COW FOR SALE.
I have a good milk cow for sale—half Jersey, four years old.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. C. H. Gilmore, were held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon. The sympathy of the community is extended to the afflicted parents in their bereavement.
"A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
"God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given,
And though the body moulders here
Our Ray is safe in heaven."

CARD OF THANKS.
Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Chambers desire to return sincere thanks to the many kind friends for their aid and sympathy during the sickness, death and burial of their darling baby.

There was considerable electricity in the air Tuesday night. It could be seen running along on the ground after a dash of lightning, and Mrs. Hartwick received a shock that paralyzed her for an instant by stepping on the ground that had just been run over by an electric discharge. The same night Mrs. Ollie Scovill also received a shock, the electricity striking the umbrella she was carrying and running down the handle. No serious results followed in either case.

Thursday afternoon Rabe Elliott, Minor Taylor and Stephen Huntington were sitting on the sidewalk at the corner of Joe Littrell's yard, Minor reading aloud the news from a daily, when Joe came out and ordered him to leave there. Minor refused to go. Joe pulled a revolver, Minor grabbed a brickbat, and it looked like war for a little while, but no blood was shed. Minor went to Auburn the same afternoon and swore out a warrant for Joe's arrest. The next day Joe appeared before the county judge and asked for a continuance of thirty days, which was granted on his giving bond for $200 to keep the peace and for his appearance. Frank Woodward and George Kittell went on his bond.

Senator Thurston of Omaha, the Nebraskan member of the republican national committee, has made an official statement which settles all rumors in regard to the place and date opening the campaign in this state. Senator Thurston officially announces that Roswell G. Horr will speak at Lincoln August 5, at the meeting of the republican state league. After that, according to present arrangements, he will speak at York, August 6; Hastings, August 7; Kearney, August 8 and Norfolk, August 10. That will complete his work in Nebraska, unless the time shall be changed to give him an address in Omaha, and if that shall be done, the date will be August 11.

Following Mr. Horr, Senator Thurston says Senator Burrows of Michigan, Senator Foraker of Ohio, W. E. Mason of Chicago, and Benjamin Butterworth of Cincinnati will all probably make more or less speeches in this state at dates to be fixed later.

All announcements of probable speakers in this state of national importance other than those heretofore mentioned. Mr. Thurston says, are without authority and not official. To the present time Mr. McKinley has expressed no intention of visiting the west or any portion of the country on a campaigning tour. What he may do later cannot be told, but it is considered doubtful if he will leave Ohio on political business before the election.

Mr. Thurston also has considerable work outlined for himself. He will make a political address at the Chautauqua at Madison, Wis., July 31, and will open the campaign in Wisconsin at Milwaukee, August 5, at the meeting of the republican state convention. The latter part of August he will go to Vermont, where he is billed for two speeches. He will make one each in Maine, Boston, New York city, Baltimore, in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, and from two to four each in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. These speeches are all conditioned upon his voice being able to hold out under that much of a strain.

The last weeks of the campaign he will be in the west, and give his whole attention to Nebraska.

STATE LEAGUE CONVENTION.
The state convention of the Nebraska republican league which is to be held in Lincoln on August 5, promises to be a very enthusiastic meeting. It is now certain that Roswell G. Horr will be in Lincoln on that day and deliver an address. He is one of the most able exponents of sound money doctrine in the United States and will meet with a hearty reception. F. W. Collins, president of the state league, is making arrangements for a big celebration at the time.
