British Silver.

Edward Atkinson calls attention to a fact apparently overlooked by Mr. Bryan in his denunciation of "British gold"—that British owners now hold a large part of the silver stocks of this country and nearly all the productive silver mines of the world elsewhere. Mr. Atkinson quotes the report of one British mining company which has paid its shareholders in the past eight years over $40,000,000 profits on a capital of less than $2,000,000, in spite of the prevailing low price of silver. Such a company could afford to pay handsomely to have its profits further increased. But of course there are no contributions of "British silver" to this campaign—Philadelphia Times.

Wages Go Up Slowly.

Every cheap money experiment ever tried in this or any other country has demonstrated that, while prices respond quickly to changes in the value of money, wages respond but slowly. Hence, though wages appear to rise when currency is depreciating, they are in reality falling. The difference in rapidity with which wages and prices go up has been illustrated by prices going up in elevators, while wages walk up the stair steps. It is certain that wage-earners always lose and never gain by being paid in a depreciated or depreciating currency.

How Bryan Will "Do" the Trusts.

Mr. Bryan to the Trusts—You fellows are not in it with me. You think you're doing great things when you put up the price of one thing at a time—and you get cussed for it besides. But my little silver trust scheme puts up prices on everything at once, and I make 'em think we're doing 'em a favor. You fellows are too slow.

Goldbugs in the Wheel.

Goldbugs must have got into the wheat fields, judging from the way in which wheat persists in going up while the price of silver is falling. The Bryanites must find some other standard of comparison than their favorite bushel of wheat, and they have not much time left in this campaign.—Boston Transcript.

STATE RECORDS TALK.

Correcting More of Governor Holcomb's Misrepresentations.

GIVE CREDIT WHERE DUE.

The Governor Plays Little Part in the Transaction of Business—An Unjust Fight on Superintendent Corbett—General Churchill and Mutual Insurance.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 24.—At the beginning of the last week of the campaign the atmosphere of the state capital has a decided tinge of republican confidence in the outcome, and no republican connected with the management of the canvass has any reason to change his estimate of a liberal republican majority for the entire ticket. Populists are basing some hopes on the trip which their candidate will make through the central part of the state November 2, but there is every reason to believe that republican sentiment is so perfectly crystallized that it cannot be shaken at any point by Mr. Bryan's flying tour.

There are indications that the managers of the democratic-populistic campaign have little hope of carrying the state for Bryan, and are preparing to hedge and make a strong bid for support for Holcomb during the last week of the campaign. Already reports have been received from a number of counties stating that the popocrats and demopops are offering to give McKinley votes in exchange for Holcomb votes, and while it is not probable that many republicans are disposed to make the exchange, it is nevertheless not amiss to caution them against such trades. The state is good for a majority for the entire ticket, national and state, and it will be wise for every republican to vote his ticket straight instead of considering trading propositions.

So far as Governor Holcomb is concerned, he has been running a campaign strictly for himself for a couple of months past, and has had campaigners out working in his personal interest. His leading card has been a misrepresentation of republican state officials and a glorification of himself. His representations in regard to state educational funds have been referred to in a previous letter, wherein it was shown that the credit of the management and investment of the permanent school fund has been entirely due to the republican officials who comprise the board, and of which the governor is merely the presiding officer. So there is nothing in that.

That Two Hundred Thousand Dollars. Governor Holcomb and some of his speakers have been very industrious in telling the voters of the state how he has saved two hundred thousand dollars by his careful and economical administration of affairs. In the first place there has been no such saving. The appropriations of the last legislature were pared down so that no such saving could be effected, the business of the various departments and state institutions already being on an economical basis when Holcomb came into office. He does not, in fact, have the disposition of any state funds except those appropriated for the maintenance of his own office. He has the appointment of heads of most of the state institutions, but he has little to say as to how the funds for these institutions shall be expended. Supplies for the state and all of the state institutions are purchased by the board of purchase and supplies, on competitive bids, and contracts are awarded to the lowest bidder. The conduct of the various institutions is entirely in the hands of the board of public lands and buildings. It will be found upon the closest investigation that the interests of the state have been carefully consulted by these boards, and so far as Governor Holcomb's voice and vote have gone, he has been equally considerate. There is no intimation to the contrary. But when the governor takes to himself the credit for an impossible saving, and reflects upon his brother officials in the same connection, it is as well that the facts should be stated and generally understood.

A Campaign of Misrepresentation. During the past few weeks of the campaign there is a still stronger tendency of the populist press and speakers to break over the barriers of truth and make unfair attack upon some of the republican candidates. To the credit of republicans it can be said that they have not made this sort of a campaign, and have not even shown a disposition to retaliate, believing that the truth will be found out before election day and that justice will prevail at the outcome.

State Superintendent Corbett is one of the officials who has been subjected to attacks which have no foundation in truth, reason or justice. If the charges made against him by a few personal enemies ever required any refutation, it has been given positively and publicly long ago over the signatures of men and women of the highest standing in the state. Among these are the former superintendent of the Omaha public schools; Chancellor Canfield, formerly of the Nebraska state university, and Hon. C. H. Morrill of the board of regents of the state university. These have all shown most positively that Mr. Corbett's course has been above all reasonable censure, while his administration of his important office has called forth the highest praise from every intelligent source. The people of Nebraska, who appreciate him for the gentleman that he is and for the splendid work that he has given to the office of state superintendent of public instruction, will do him justice at the polls and the majority that he will have will be a rebuke to slander and a complete vindication of his course as a man and as an official. Attorney General Churchill is another official who has been attacked by willful misrepresentations. This attack is led by the officers of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company, which was refused a certificate to do business by the state auditor upon the opinion of the attorney general. The company brought suit in the supreme court, by mandamus, to compel the auditor to issue a certificate, but the writ was refused by the court. This is the extent of Gen. Churchill's "hostility" to the mutual insurance law. He is not in position to help or hinder these corporations, being a mere interpreter of the law, sworn to uphold it, and in no sense its executor. His general course has been one of friendliness to mutual insurance, and he has not at any time played into the hands of the old-line companies. Assertions to the contrary are utterly and absolutely false, made with the intention to deceive, and for the purpose of wreaking personal revenge upon a faithful and competent official.

Look Out For Eleventh-Hour Roorbacks.

It ought not to be necessary to caution voters against the "eleventh-hour roorback." But it will be remembered that the campaign just closing will be noted for the fakes and forgeries that have been put out by the democratic managers and newspaper press, to be reprinted and reissued and circulated long after their true character had been exposed. Hence it is not too much to expect that some new canard will be sprung during the last few days before election. Naturally this would be the last card of the desperate managers of a desperate campaign.

The fight is already won for the republican state and national ticket. It only remains for republicans to be vigilant and keep up an aggressive canvass until the close of election day, to make the victory one that will be memorable for generations to come.

A Few Facts.

In 1878 farm products were lower than ever before since the civil war, and the "greenbackers" were arguing that the preparation for resumption on January 1, 1879, had produced the hard times, and their advocates tried to postpone the date for resumption. But resumption came January 1, 1879, and No. 2 cash wheat sold at $1.15; by May it was up to $1.61 1/2, and by December, 1879, it was up to $1.33 1/2. Corn was 25 1/2¢ in January, 1879, but in December, 1879, it was 43 1/2¢.

Such facts need to be borne in mind at this time, when so many false theories are afloat.

... If a merchant marks up his prices and people refuse to buy, he still has his goods. If a workman undertakes to mark up his wages and employers decline to pay, where is he? What intelligent wage-earner can vote for the higher prices of cheaper money and trust to luck to increase his wages proportionately?

Want the Best Tools.

The farmer and the mechanic must be free to use the very best tools and implements, and the merchant and banker must be free to use the very best money and instruments of credit. An honest and stable measure of value is just as necessary to both as are honest and stable measures of weights and quantities, and it requires no argument to show that without these it would be impossible to transact the ordinary business of the country.—Hon. John G. Carlisle.

... There has been no time since the resumption of specie payments in 1879 when the depositors in savings banks could not get back as good money as they earned and put in. Do they want even to "chance it" on getting 51-cent or even 75-cent silver dollars?

Ripans Tabules: at druggists.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the Remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how it is, as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion Co., Florida. For sale by Taylor, the druggist.
