C. Shuck, proprietor of the Nemaha Valley Berkshire farm, won the following premiums on his hogs at the Auburn and Salem fairs:

At Auburn he got first premium on boar, sweepstakes over everything on boar, and sweepstakes over everything on sow and pigs.

At Salem Mr. Shuck got first premium on boar, sweepstakes over everything on sow and pigs, first premium on yearling sow, second premium on sow, first premium on boar, first premium on pig seven months old, second premium on pig five months old, and second premium on boar pig.

As Mr. Shuck had but few hogs on exhibition the showing is a remarkably good one.

Local News.

Muddy roads.

The grip still rages.

Dr. B. Bell Andrews was over from Stella Monday.

Mrs. Fannie Fairbank returned from Auburn Sunday.

Stephen Scarlett returned from White Cloud, Kansas, Tuesday.

THE ADVERTISER editor has had his share of the grip this week.

P. G. Swan went to Peru Tuesday afternoon, returning the next morning.

Mrs. J. M. Sanders, of London predict, is visiting Nemaha friends this week.

Daniel Higgins shipped a load of cattle and hogs to Kansas City Monday night.

Sam Anderson has had seven hogs die in the last few days. He has only three left.

A minister of the "Church of God" preached at the Christian church last Friday night.

Hon. T. J. Majors came down from Peru Saturday, to attend the funeral of John Strain.

T. J. Majors was elected Senior vice commander by acclamation at the G. A. R. encampment at Hastings last week.

Mrs. Fannie Fairbank has ordered a good stock of millinery and notions for the spring trade. Due notice will be given of their arrival.

Two hogs were killed at the poor farm one day last week that weighed 600 and 700 pounds. Over forty gallons of lard were rendered from the two hogs.

Mrs. H. A. Brand, who has been visiting east during the winter, has returned. She has been visiting at Verdon and in Nemaha and vicinity since her return.

L. H. Barnes thinks he is having his full share of sickness. He is just getting over the grip, his wife is sick with the same disease, and his children have the whooping cough.

Mrs. E. T. Smith, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Minnie Thurman, of Atchison, Kansas, arrived in Nemaha Monday night, and are visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Woodward.

Rev. H. O. Scott, formerly a very popular Presbyterian minister at Brownville, but who for several years has been located at Hastings, is to begin a protracted meeting at Auburn next week.

W. E. Bolejack, living south of Aspinwall, has a natural curiosity in the shape of a three legged chicken. The chicken is several months old and is lively as any of its mates. The third leg is on the back, near the tail.

We had the pleasure on Tuesday of a short visit from S. C. Strain, of Burwick, Iowa, and W. H. Strain, of Moorhead, Iowa. They were called to Nemaha by the death of their brother John Strain. They left for their homes Thursday.

Mrs. Caleb Brogan and Mrs. Alex.
Curl went to St. Joe Tuesday. Mrs.
Curl goes to receive medical treatment Mrs. Brogan will visit at St. Joe for a few days and then go to Chillicothe and from there to Kirksville, Mo., to visit relatives and friends.

The Methodist ladies' aid society will give a supper Monday evening Feb 22nd—Washington's birthday—in the lower west room of the opera house. Price of supper, 15 cents; children, 10 cents. Supper will be ready at 5 o'clock. Everybody invited.

The funeral of John Strain was held last Saturday, at the Cumberland Presbyterian church northwest of Nemaha.
The services were conducted by the Masonic fraternity, to which order Mr.
Strain belonged. Rev. C. H. Gilmore preached the funeral sermon. The large church would not hold near all the congregation of friends and neighbors. The remains were followed to the Nemaha cemetery by a large number of friends of the deceased.

Mr. Strain had lived on the farm where he died, in London precinct, for about forty years. During this period he always took a prominent part in all public affairs, and made a great many warm friends all over the state. Identified from its inception with the republican party, he was always a strong adherent to the principles of that party, and was one of those with whom the leaders always consulted. In the neighborhood in which he lived he was highly respected by all. He was a good neighbor and a safe counselor, always ready to help in times of sickness and distress.

The editor of THE ADVERTISER has known John Strain from boyhood of the writer, and the loss of one of our old friends and one whom we so highly respected and esteemed is keenly felt.
To the bereaved wife and children we extend heartfelt sympathy in their great loss.

CARD OF THANKS

The wife, children, and brothers of the late John Strain, deceased, desire to return thanks to the friends and neighbors who so faithfully and efficiently assisted in caring for our loved one during his sickness and at his death and burial. Only those who have passed through a like experience can realize the comfort given us in the sad hour of affliction by the devotion and kindly attention of friends and neighbors.
May they never lack for like assistance when the hour of bereavement comes to them.

MRS. LETITIA A. STRAIN
AND FAMILY,
S. C. STRAIN
W. H. STRAIN.

DIED

At the home of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Webber, Friday evening, Feb. 12th, 1897, of pneumonia fever, little James Wallace, son of Cora White, aged three months and ten days.
The little one was the pet of the family, and so sweet that every one who knew him loved him. Everything that medical skill or loving hands could do was done for him.

Another darling is laid to rest.
Another brow is white and cold;
He was called away by the angel death To meet his God in the heavenly fold.
Did you say death to one so young,
To one so sweet and fat?
Death to this mortal sense of ours, But life, sweet life, is there.
There is in that home a vacant place; Another ray of sunlight is gone.
He has gone that heavenly home to share And sing with others around God's throne But oh, 'tis hard to give thee up, Thou pure and gentle one,
Even though we know thou art at rest, Where suffering will never come,
A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude and thanks to the many friends who were so kind to assist us during the sickness, death and burial of our darling little Wallace, and may God in His mercy provide them with friends as kind and faithful when the hour of affliction comes, is the wish of CORA WHITE,
MR. AND MRS. J. W. WEBBER
AND FAMILY.

Judge E. W. Thomas of Falls City was killed at that place last night by a Missouri Pacific freight. He was returning from Tecumseh and left the B. & M. train at the crossing, that point being nearer than the depot to his home. Mr. Thomas stepped onto the track in front of an approaching train and was instantly killed, his body being horribly mangled by the cars.—Granger.

We pay 15 cents a bushel for corn taken on subscription.

Dr. J. L. Melvin.

Office at residence, south of Minick store building.

J. T. Bailey, of Perry, Oklahoma, arrived in Nemaha Wednesday of last week and visited his brother-in-law, S. F. Bridge, over night, and then went on to Peru, where his wife is visiting her father, Wm. Bridge. Mr. Bailey drove through. He is well pleased with Oklahoma.

For the benefit of the young ladies we will give the information that Adam Folmer, the new proprietor of the livery stable, is a single man. If he resists the fascinating influences of the young ladies of Nemaha he is certainly a hard hearted man.

Charles M. Welton, who has been farming near Hutchinson, Kansas, for the past three years, has returned to his old farm adjoining Johnson. He arrived in Nemaha on the freight early Thursday morning, with his household goods, farming utensils, etc., going on to Johnson on the afternoon freight.

Stephen Cooper has sold the livery stable to Adam Folmer, of Shubert, who will take charge at once. Mr.
Cooper has made the best liveryman Nemaha ever had. He is energetic, accommodating, and a good business man who attended to the business himself. He expects to move on his father's farm south of Nemaha, about the first of March.

FOR SALE.—A span of good mules nine years, perfectly gentle. Apply at this office.

It is said that the wolves are getting more numerous since the hunters have been after them so often. The wolves seem to consider that the nearer they get to the hunters the safer they are, and the result of the numerous hunts do not contradict this opinion, as not a wolf has been killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Scovill celebrated the twenty-second anniversary of their wedding last Sunday—St. Valentine's Day—by partaking of a big dinner at Pera Barker's. As Saturday was Os's birthday and Monday was Otto Barker's birthday, the three events were celebrated by one big dinner.

Mrs. Engles, mother of County Treasurer A. M. Engles, died Tuesday morning, at her residence in Auburn. Mrs.
Engles was an old settler, coming to this county in 1857. She was 83 years of age. About three weeks ago Mrs.
Engles had her thigh broken by being thrown to the ground by a large dog jumping over a fence and striking her on the shoulder. Then she was attacked with the grip, and this, with the injuries she had received, caused her death. The funeral was held Thursday, at the Catholic church, to which deceased belonged.

A few months ago Mr. Byron Every of Woodstock, Mich., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. His right leg was swollen the full length, causing him great suffering. He was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first bottle helped him considerably and the second bottle effected a cure. The 25 and 50 cent sizes are for sale by Taylor.
