ONE DOLLAR TO 1899.

For a dollar bill The Semi-Weekly State Journal will be sent from now until Jan. 1, 1899. A good long time to get two big papers every week with all the news of the whole world; all the state news and in fact more news and general reading matter than you get in any other state paper. The Journal is spending money and effort in writing up the interests of Nebraska and setting our state's advantages before the people of the whole country. Nebraska's prosperity will bring thousands of farm buyers to our state. You should read the Journal which is not an Omaha paper nor a Lincoln paper, but a state paper in its truest sense. "What will be for the best interests of Nebraska?" is the first question asked by the Journal when called upon to decide. Every Nebraskan should do his best to keep the State Journal before the people and that best means by sending in One Dollar which will pay for the paper to January, 1899. After you read it send it to your friends in the east and let them see what great things we are doing in Nebraska. Send in your dollar to the State Journal Lincoln, Neb. The sooner you send the more papers you will get for your money.

Moments are useless if trifled away; and dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where One Minute Cough Cure would bring immediate relief. M H Taylor.

A grain blockade is again threatened in the Burlington freight yards in Kansas City. There were 230 cars of grain, most of them from Nebraska points, in the yards Tuesday. The Burlington can accommodate only about 200 cars at a time in its yards. The grain men were informed that unless the grain was moved at once the Burlington would be forced to refuse additional shipments temporarily. —Nebraska City News.

THE RECENT VOTE.

Although the official canvass of the returns of the Nebraska election will not take place until next Monday, the Bee is enabled to present the following table of returns which with but a few exceptions are official and from which the figures of the official canvass next week will not vary appreciably. The total vote will aggregate a little over 193,000, of which Sullivan, the successful fusion candidate for supreme judge receives 102,737. The total vote polled by Judge Post, the republican candidate, is 88,921, the fusion plurality being 13,816. The vote for Switzer, the candidate of the national democrats, while not given in the table, does not exceed 800, while the vote of Strong, prohibitionist, approximates 1,000. Kaley, republican candidate for regent, has run ahead of Post by 1,600, while Dryden, the other republican candidate for regent, has polled substantially the same vote as Post. On the other hand Von Forell and Kenower, the fusion candidates for regents, have fallen behind Sullivan, by 5,000 votes, so that the average fusion plurality on regent is only 7,000. —Omaha Bee.

A LIBRARY IN ITSELF.

Few people are able to buy as many books as they would like, yet it is possible without them to keep in touch with all the leaders of literature, as well as to follow the world's progress in every department of science and industry. The Youth's Companion already provides the means for over half a million households, at an expense to each of $1.75 a year. Every issue of the Companion gives as much reading matter as a 12mo book of 175 pages, and the Companion comes every week. The quality of its contents is shown by the announcement for 1898, which promises contributions next year from the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Rudyard Kipling, Speaker Reed, Capt. A. F. Mahan, W. D. Howells, Lieutenant Peary, the Marquis of Dufferin, Senator Hoar, Justin McCarthy and more than two hundred other eminent men and women.

A handsome illustrated prospectus of the volume for 1898 will be sent to anyone addressing the Youth's Companion, 265 Columbus ave., Boston, Mass.

IGNORANT OF UNITED STATES.

Nova Scotia Natives Who Know Little of Uncle Sam's Domain.

"In some parts of Nova Scotia where I have been," said a doctor, who, according to the Chicago Times-Herald, had recently made a tour of the province, "you will find in places remote from railroads a remnant of that simplicity pictured by the poet of Evangelism. One of these primitive people was an old lady, who had never set foot outside of her native hamlet. She could have told from hearsay all the history of all the kings and queens of England. I do not doubt, but a certain bigoted loyalty to the crown kept her from knowing anything concerning the United States. When I was introduced to her as a Yankee she looked hard at me and inquired how it happened that I was so dark, with black hair and whiskers.

"I saw a Yankee once," she said, "and he had yellow hair and a yellow goatee, and I thought, all Yankees looked like that."

"She next inquired if I lived in the 'States.' I told her that I did when I was at home, whereupon she said she supposed I was often in New York and might see her granddaughter there. I asked her in what part of New York she lived, and she said in Minnesota, and that she looked exactly as she herself did at that age.

"And they do say she is very good-looking," said the old lady, with pardonable pride, "and I wish you would tell her to write home to the folks often."

"I promised to deliver the message, and hope I will be forgiven for making the good soul happy by the slight deception."

DESIGNS FOR PAPER MONEY.

Will Probably Prevent Raising of Government Notes.

Secretary Gage has presented the question of the advisability of a reform in the designs of United States paper money. There are at present in current use, says the Washington Post, three classes of government paper money—silver certificates, treasury notes of 1890, and United States notes, or greenbacks. In each of these classes there are nine denominations, making 27 in all, each being represented by a special design entirely dissimilar from the others.

Secretary Gage's plan is to have practically one design for the three one-dollar notes, another for the twos, and so on up to $1,000, the highest. The reading necessarily would be different on each denomination. In order that the three classes of paper money may be readily distinguished the seals and numbers in each class will be printed in distinctive colors. The numerals on each note will be made very prominent. The secretary argued that the new designs would in a great measure prevent the raising of notes, as the design would at once identify the denomination independent of the numerals.

The secretary had with him at the last cabinet meeting samples of the new designs, and all of the members present expressed themselves as highly pleased with the scheme. Unless something unforeseen occurs to prevent this plan will be carried out as soon as the plates can be prepared.

LIGHTNING ROD'S FUNCTION.

Discussion as to Whether Its Action is Constant or Intermittent.

An extended discussion has been going on in the German technical press as to whether or not a lightning rod during a thunderstorm is continuously acting to equalize the electrification of the clouds and that of the earth. Some assert that the function of the lightning rod is to offer a good conducting path to the earth for a lightning flash, while others claim that it offers a constant medium between the air and earth. Among the facts adduced by the adherents of the latter theory, says the Chicago Chronicle, was an instance which occurred during the construction of a lightning rod for a chimney 100 feet high, when the uncompleted work was interrupted by a thunder shower. A temporary wire was, therefore, run to a neighboring pond, so as to ground the rod, when it was noticed that considerable gas was formed on the surface of the submerged wire, indicating that a current produced by the silent discharge of the clouds was passing and decomposing the water by electrolysis. Another experiment was quoted, in which a plate lightning arrester, with a galvanometer in circuit, was connected in circuit with a lightning rod, when an almost constant deflection of the galvanometer needle was observed, showing that a continued equalization of electric charges does take place.

The World's Telegraph Lines.

The actual growth of the telegraph lines of the world is 7,000,000 kilometers—not including nearly 300,000 kilometers of submarine cable. This total is divided as follows: America, 4,050,000 kilometers; Europe, 2,840,000; Asia, 500,000; Australia, 250,000; Africa, 160,000. The entire length of all these wires joined together would permit of the establishment of 20 lines of telegraph between the earth and the moon.

Vesuvius' Lava.

It is computed that all the houses in London and New York could be built of the lava thrown out by Vesuvius since the first recorded eruption in A. D. 79.

BULLET COVERS.

New Process by Which Lead Balls Are Steel-Conted.

The discovery of a secret solution by which leaden bullets may be coated so as to render them superior to steel-cased bullets is announced by Charles W. Bales, a chemist, and Edward Berry, a surveyor, of Springfield, Ill., says the New York Sun. The ordinary leaden bullets, when used in the Krag-Jorgensen rifle, have been found to be too soft, and the lead has clung to the barrel of the rifle until the barrel was finally clogged, and the steel cartridges, which have succeeded the lead ones, have eventually torn the barrel—faults not found in the new article. In pursuing their experiments these inventors, it appears, succeeded in procuring some of the smokeless powder used by the government in the Krag-Jorgensen rifles, making numerous tests with their cartridges, and with results showing the remarkable efficiency of the new and secret preparation. Thus, at a distance of 30 yards they bored a hole through an ax blade and also through a flat-iron. In the latter case the bullet lodged in a tree, entering a distance of six inches.

Nature's Balloons.

The island of fire, known by the natives as "The Home of the Hot Devils," is a recent discovery in Java. In the center of a huge lake of boiling mud and slime exists a phenomenon absolutely unique, and so wonderful that tourists brave the difficulties of the long journey inland simply to see it. Scores of enormous bubbles are formed in the sticky slime by the gases which arise from the lower depths, and these grow and increase to an enormous size, looking like nothing so much as the large model balloons sent up sometimes to ascertain the direction of the wind. These bubbles, some of them, attain a diameter of five or six feet before they burst, which they do with a loud explosion. The sounds are described as resembling a constant series of heavy platoon firing.

French Cycling Custom.

The practice of carrying light canes on bicycles has now become almost a custom with the young men of France. The idea is to enable the riders to bring their wheels to a standstill by leaning a little to one side and supporting themselves with the cane while they engage in a chat with some acquaintance on the road.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, will be every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention THE ADVERTISER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.
