M. H. Taylor started for Omaha Thursday afternoon, to buy his stock of holiday goods. He will have an advertisement next week telling about the goods he bought. J. W. Taylor is staying in the store during Minor's absence.

The drug store was very liberal with perfumery Wednesday. Every one staying in the store very long had his clothing perfumed, but many did not like the scent. Some people are very particular.

We learn of the death of a friend and former schoolmate, Robert McComas, who has been living in California for a number of years. The deceased was a son of E. M. McComas, of Brownville and the body was brought to Brownville for burial. We understand the funeral services were held Thursday afternoon. The bereaved relatives and friends have our sincere sympathy.

C. Campbell Smith, an eccentric old pachelor who has been a resident of Beatrice for many years, was found dead in his dwelling last Friday. It is supposed he died the night of November 10th, as he was last seen alive on that day and was then sick. He got some medicine from a physician but had only taken one dose. It was not known that he had relatives in this part of the country, but it has since been discovered that he has several, one of whom is Wm. Campbell, of Auburn.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lyon Center, Ill is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, and a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these chosen from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by M. H. Taylor, Druggist Nemaha, Nebraska.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, sallow skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills but great regulators. M. H. Taylor.

We never knew until last Saturday that chestnuts were raised in Nebraska. But on stopping at Paine & Son's store we were informed that the very excellent chestnuts displayed in their window were raised on the Kauffman farm near Brownville and that they were being marketed in considerable quantities. We sampled them and can say that we never tasted better nuts. They were remarkably free from the imperfections that usually mar the value of the eastern grown nuts, and were undoubtedly the best we ever saw. We are prouder of Nebraska than ever, and since we learned that one of the farmers west of town had raised quite a patch of good cotton this year we begin to think that anything and everything can be raised in this salubrious climate. Don't be surprised if Weidon Compton starts a tea and coffee plantation here next spring.—Tecumseh Chieftain.

A fellow came to the poor house a few days ago and announced his intention of staying with Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell. He said he had been at the poor house in Richardson county but heard that the inmates were treated so much better here that he decided to try it. The next day he was set to work, which so disgusted him that he left. He was determined not to work for a living.

Prof. C. O. Smith, of Salem, is now with Elder Barnes in the revival meeting here and is leading the song service. Prof. Smith is a most excellent leader of song and teacher of music. The meeting will continue over next Sunday. It will be a great blessing to the church, as the church is being revived and new interest awakened. Elder Barnes will probably become pastor of the Christian church and preach for them one-half of his time during the year 1898. All the members of the church are desired to be present next Sunday. **

KLONDIKE.

What does it cost to get there? When and how should one go? What should one take? Where are the mines? How much have they produced? Is work plentiful? What wages are paid? Is living expensive? What are one's chances of "making a strike"?

Complete and satisfactory replies to the above questions will be found in the Burlington Route's "Klondike Folder," now ready for distribution. Sixteen pages of practical information and an up-to-date map of Alaska and the Klondike. Free at Burlington Route ticket offices, or sent on receipt of four cents in stamps by J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb.

All you guess about difficulty in selling Stark Trees may be wrong. If you wish to know the truth, drop postal to Stark Nursery, Louisiana, Mo., or Rockport, Ill. Name references. Cash pay to salesmen each week the year round. Outfit free—takes no money to try the work. Also want club makers—get their trees free.

To heal the broken and diseased tissues, to soothe the irritated surfaces, to instantly relieve and to permanently cure is the mission of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. M. H. Taylor.

W. W. Sanders, Notary Public. Pensions papers of all kinds made out accurately. Legal documents drawn up. All business given prompt and careful attention.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good." Sold by M. H. Taylor, Druggist, Nemaha, Nebraska.

Ed Buell, who has been carrying the star route mail between Nemaha and Barada, met with an accident Saturday that will cripple him for some time. The horse he was driving ran away between Aspinwall and Hillsdale, upsetting the cart. Mr. Buell had one ankle badly dislocated. He crawled a short distance until he got hold of a stick, with which he managed to hobble to the dwelling of James W. Wolfe. He was brought home that afternoon, and under the care of Dr. Melvin is getting along fairly well, but it will be some time before he gets out.

A COMPANION FOR ALL AGES.

A gentleman who used to read the Youth's Companion when a boy, and reads it with the same interest now that he is a middle-aged man, was asked the other day if he had not outgrown the Companion. "I don't believe," said he, "that I can ever outgrow it. I find in it not only that cheery, hopeful spirit of youth but the wisdom and experience of age. I like it just as much as when I was a boy, though perhaps in a different way. But I know that it is the same Youth's Companion with which I grew up, for my boys and girls like it as well as ever I did. It is a good paper to grow up with."

The Youth's Companion will contain the best thought of the best thinkers of America and Europe during 1898. It will print serial and short stories of absorbing interest, and true tales of adventure. The various departments of the paper will be a current record of the best work that is being done in the world. Present readers of the Companion who renew their subscriptions, and all new subscribers, will receive free a beautiful illustrated calendar, printed in twelve colors, and embossed in gold. It is the richest and costliest calendar ever sent to Companion subscribers. New subscribers will receive the Companion every week from the time the subscription is received until January, 1898, and then for a full year to January, 1899.

An illustrated prospectus of the Companion for 1898 may had by addressing Perry Mason & Company, 205 Columbus ave., Boston, Mass.
