ROPES INSTEAD OF BELTS.

English System Adopted by a Big American Cotton Mill.
 Not a little interest has been created among manufacturers of textiles by the improved mechanical equipment introduced in the new Whitman mills, New Bedford, Mass. The engines are pronounced remarkable in every respect. They are of the upright type, totally unlike anything in use in American cotton mills, are said to show great efficiency, and, though so ponderous, are run more quietly than three-fourths of the engines of the mills of the country. The engines are characterized by the peculiar distinction of having an open rope drive, a feature which has attracted considerable attention, says the New York Sun.
 The face of the driving wheel is about nine feet and is cut in grooves some four inches from center to center.
 The ropes sink into these grooves and are covered with a preparation made for preserving them, the covering to be applied, say, once a year. Cotton is the material of which these ropes are made, and, although they have been run steadily for more than a year, no trouble has been thus far experienced, and the drive is pronounced the most nearly noiseless one that has ever been devised. One point of preference expressed in favor of this arrangement is that in damp weather the drive acts so differently from the ordinary belting, inasmuch as it shrinks instead of growing flabby and slipping.

A Valuable Cat.

Howard Reed, of Milford, Pa., started out hunting for partridges and woodcock, and was followed by the house cat. All efforts on the part of the young hunter to drive the cat back home were futile; it was bound to go with him, and it illustrated its ability as a hunter by its "pointing" a woodcock which young Reed shot. Then it "flushed" a partridge, which was also bagged by the hunter. Reed says he would not part with the cat for the best bird dog in the country.

THE HAUGHTY DAME.

How a Young Man Got Even with Her for Rudeness.

She was a tall woman and somewhat angular. Her clothes were in the extreme of fashion and her big summer hat was alive with nodding flowers.
 There were traces about her of former beauty, but most of them were only dimly reminiscent. She walked the streets as if she held the deeds of them in her white-gloved hand, and people looked after her in profound wonder.
 When she reached Pittsburgh station at Euclid avenue she failed to notice the ting-ting-ting of the bell which warningly heralds the closing of the safety gates, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. She stalked steadily forward and the bar which falls across the sidewalk was descending directly above her devoted head. A half dozen people called to her. A policeman shouted.
 She never turned her nodding headgear. Then, just as the descending timber touched her hat a man sprang forward, caught her by the arm and pulled her aside, the heavy bar grazing her as it descended.
 "Sir," she cried, "what do you mean by this rudeness?"
 "I beg your pardon, ma'am," said the stranger, "I simply endeavored to save you from a cracked skull."
 "You should be punished for your roughness," said the haughty dame. "I ought to hand you over to this officer." The policeman bowed deferentially.
 "You will excuse me, too, ma'am," he said, "but the young man used no more roughness than was necessary to save you from a bad thump on the head."
 "I will report you for impudence," said the tall dame, with a withering look at the policeman. Then she turned again to the young man. "Let this be a lesson to you," she said, "and never repeat the offense."
 The young man lifted his hat.
 "Madam," he said, "I trust that nothing will make me forgetful of the duty I owe to the aged."
 Then the haughty lady turned away hastily and swept along.—St. Louis public.

ASTUTE INSURANCE AGENT.

Fooled the Man Who Tried to Claim Money on Burned Cigars.

"Some time ago," said an insurance man, according to the Philadelphia Record, "a man asked me to accompany him home, as he had some things there to be insured. When we arrived at his house he showed me 100 boxes of cigars, which he wanted insured. There were 100 cigars in each box, making 10, 000 in all, and were valued at ten cents each, so I insured the lot for $1,000.
 A few days ago the man came to me and asked for the insurance money.
 'You've had no fire at your house,' I replied. 'No, but I've smoked them,' said he, 'and according to the paper I am entitled to the money, as it says distinctly that if the goods are consumed by fire money is paid on application.' As far as technicalities were concerned he was all right, but I knocked him cold about a minute later by saying in a very stern manner: 'All right, sir; you'll get the money; but, according to your own confession, I will proceed at once to make a charge against you for incendiarism.' 'Well, I'll be hanged!' was all he said, and the room shook violently after he banged the door."

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy (sold in every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.
 Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention THE ADVERTISER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., in writing up the interests of Nebraska and setting our state's advantages before the people of the whole country. Nebraska's prosperity will bring thousands of farm buyers to our state.
