The Richardson Quartette gave a concert at the Methodist church Monday night, to a crowded house. The concert was one of the best ever given in Nemaha. After the concert a class was formed and a convention organized. About forty joined the class. A. L. Richardson is a first class instructor and is giving the very best of satisfaction. The members of the class are learning fast. A concert will be given at the church Saturday night.

Mr. Hanson, of Omaha, traveling auditor of Swift and Co's refrigerator car line, was in town Wednesday, looking after the business of Swift & Co. When Mr. Hanson was here last fall he carried a large pumpkin to the train for R. V. Muir, of Brownville. Peter Kerker wrote in to the house that Mr. Hanson was on his way home loaded for pumpkin pie, and when the popular traveling man reported he was promptly interrogated regarding the pies.

The National Association of Manufacturers which met in New York city Tuesday, says the St. Joe Herald, is said to represent a larger aggregate of capital invested and value of products than any other business organization in the world. The chief purpose of the association is to extend our foreign trade in manufactures chiefly in the South and Central American countries. The convention is therefore of interest to the people of this nation, who will eagerly follow the proceedings.

One of the Nemaha ladies concluded one evening this week that she would have some mush for supper. She went to the box where the meal was kept and got what she thought was the meal sack, put on the water, salted it, and then began to stir in what she supposed was the meal, but the mush would not thicken up. As it was getting dark, she finally took the kettle to the light to see the reason why the mush was not getting along better, and then discovered that she had been using granulated sugar instead of meal. She now has a good supply of syrup already made.

Last Sunday two young fellows became engaged in a dispute in Charley Curtis' restaurant. Marshal Jarvis arrested the boys, and Monday morning they were taken before Judge Smiley, and fined $1 and costs for disturbing the peace.

J. H. Seld bought two fine Poland China sows last week at auction—one at Sterling and one at Lincoln. They are finely bred. Henry is adding to his herd of Poland, and now has one of the best herds in the state. He has disposed of his Jersey Red hogs to a man living near Verdon, and will devote all his time and attention to the Poland. If you want good stock go and see him. His prices are very reasonable.

Auburn numbers one less of its colored population. Marshal Colby took Uncle Jack to the county house near Nemaha City Wednesday. For some time Jack has occupied the office at the fair grounds and has been provided with food and clothing largely by our charitable citizens. His age and enfeebled condition made it plain that the old man must be placed in more comfortable quarters and he very willingly allowed himself to be placed under the care of John Maxwell.—Post.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy (which is every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. LEW MATHER DEAD.

Lew Mather died at his residence in Nemaha Friday, Jan. 21, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon. The deceased had suffered for a long time with a diseased leg, which had bothered him at times for years. A few weeks ago a surgical operation was performed, a small piece of bone taken out, and the bone scraped, and it was hoped he would then recover, but his entire system had become poisoned to such an extent that medical skill could not avail anything.

The deceased was an honest, industrious, upright man, and had a great many friends and so far as we know not an enemy. He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his early death.

Mr. Mather was born May 3d, 1867, and was at his death 30 years, 8 months and 18 days of age.

The funeral services were held at the Christian church Sunday, at 11 o'clock a. m. Rev. C. H. Gilmore preached the funeral sermon, after which the Woodmen of the World, of which deceased was an honored member, took charge of the services, and went through with the beautiful ritualistic service at the church and cemetery. The church was crowded with friends who came to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed one.

The deceased carried a policy in the Woodmen of the World for $1,000.

The bereaved wife and little children have the sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

All that is necessary to make a secretary of the board of transportation get up and stamp the floor is to ask him if the board has made a decision in the Tibbles case. It will be remembered that a long while ago T. H. Tibbles filed a complaint with the board alleging that local rates on all railroads in the state were unreasonable. After a long and interesting hearing the board decided that Mr. Tibbles' complaint was defective, that it would have to be amended so as to make a specific charge as to the extent of alleged unreasonableness. Mr. Tibbles then put up it at 33 1-3 per cent unreasonable. All this caused a delay and Mr. Tibbles was roasted by some of the pop papers for lack of good faith, and he got so angry under the castigation that he gave the snap away by showing that the secretaries themselves drew up the original complaint and had him file it before them, and they were the fellows who sat on their own complaint by deciding that it was defective and should be changed. The complaint still reposes in a pigeon hole and any reference to it is not received with pleasure.—State Journal.
