A SCHOOL GIRL'S BATTLE.

From the Mail, Milford, Ind.

Miss Emma Rybolt, a prepossessing school girl of Milford, Ind., is of more than usual intelligence, and is ambitious to rise in the literary world. "In the fall of 1896," said Mrs. Rybolt, "Emma was taken ill. She was a close stu-dent and her work began to tell on her. She grew weak, pale and nervous, and complained of pains in her back, chest and limbs. A few weeks passed and she grew worse. The doctor said she was a victim of uer-yous prostration, and should have been taken from school weeks earlier. She gradually grew worse, her nerves were so tense that the least noise irritated her and she had a fever and a continual twitching in her The symptoms were much like muscles. St. Vitus' dance. FLORIDA CIGARS. One Hundred and Sixty Million Havanas Raised on Ameriean Soil.

The Cuban war has done one big thing for this country; it has compelled recognition, indirectly, of the value of Florida lands for the production of the finest tobacco in the world. In the course of his recent trip to the south Secretary of Agriculture Wilson was astonished to discover that 160,000,000 Havana cigars were actually grown and manufactured at present on the Florida peninsula. Already great areas in the western part of the state are planted with this erop, and exclusive arrangements have been made for its introduction into the central region. Thus, it may be expected that before long Florida will zival Cuba as a tobacco producer, in respect to the quantity of yield, while the quality of its cigar leaf seems to be quite equal to that of the famous Vuelta Abajo.

All the conditions of elimate in Florida favor the production of the highest grade of tobacco. The soil is much like that of Cuba, and by the aid of the system of spraying that imitates natural rainfall, the plants are ripened in fortyfive days after they are put out. Tobacco can be grown almost all the year, and crops can be set out in every month nearly.

A vast area is suitable and available for this branch of agricultural industry. The tobacco, furthermore, has all the qualities requisite for cigars. To be fit for making eigars the leaf must have a peculiar texture and composition. Cigar tobaccos will grow only in certain regions. If a manufacturing type of tobacco, fit for pipe or plug, he planted in Connecticut, it will acquire a likeness to the eigar type and vice versa. It is all a matter of soll and elimate. But it is a very curious fact that, whereas regions in the latitude of Sumatra. Cuba and Florida produce eigar tobaccos, one must jump over the intermediate space in order to find eigar tobaccos again in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. The tobaccos of Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and other intervening states are useful only for chewing, pipe smoking and the export trade.

The growers in Florida use seed imported from Cuba. They are able to get two and even three crops a year. Of course, some are better able than others, and often it is not possible to tell why. Only certain plantations in the Vuelta Abajo yield the finest cirgar tobacco, and it is the far west end of Cuba alone that furnishes the "weeds" so highly valued.-Cincinnati Eaquirer.

Not a few magazines bear the name of the publisher. This is a neat way out of the difficulty, but it is quite unenfeet and instantly takes the sting out of lightening. Of late years the fashion has grown of laying claim to some street or district of London. So we have publications, daily, weekly or monthly, named after Belgravia, Cornhill, Ludgate Hill, Pall Mall, St. James', the Strand, the Temple, Temple Bar, Westminster and Whitehall. The only predictions that one would have ventured to make would have been that the Cornhill would deal with finance, and that there would be a legal flavor about the Temple. These forecasts, however, keep it in the house. would have been as unfortunate as the expectation that there would be an especially courtly tone about the Wind-

SAMPLE UF "DROP-IN" TRADE.

The Dealer in Corn Salve Spoils the Real Estate Man's Proud Boast.

Real estate dealers often console themselves during these dull days by reminiscences of the periods of inactivity which have gone before. A well-known Washing-ton street dealer, while in a reminiscent mood told the following

"The period of inactivity through which we are now passing reminds me somewhat of the days of 1873 when a dealer who made a sale was looked upon as a marvel. I had my office at that time on the second floor of this building. On the main floor were the offices of Reece, Pierce & Co. I was in the habit of stopping in each morning and greeting Col. Pierce, and usually the greeting became a morning visit. One day I was complaining somewhat bitterly of the dullness of the market, and the colonel re-marked: 'I tell you that you miss it by not marked: getting down on the ground floor. Now we get a great deal of drop-in trade, so to speak, that never gets to you because of the stairs. "Just as he was closing this remark the door opened and in stepped a man with a valise. "There, what did I tell you, said the co'onel. 'Here's a man who probably wants to have a lot and who probably wants to buy a lot and who never would climb up to you.' I was duly impressed with the truth of the statement then, and we both became stient as the newcomer avanced. As he came up to us he bowed and smiled and chen blandly inquired: 'Can't I sell either of you some corn salve to-day?'

"The colonel was almost overcome, but he "The colonel was almost overcome, but he managed to express a decided negative and the visitor retreated. When he had closed the door behind him I burst out laughing and exclaimed: 'Colonel, if that's the kind of drop-in trade you get down here I want none of it. Now, that man would never trouble me because he could easily see that any man who could frequently climb the stairs of this building could not massible stairs of this building could not possibly have corns.' I went upstairs to my office, leaving the colonel speechless."-Chicago Chroniele.

Lake Crystal, Minn., July 31st, 1807. April 5th, 1802, my little boy, just four years old, was terribly scalded by falling backward into a pail full of boiling water He fell into it in such a manner that he re-mained doubled up until his mother, who was in the next room, could come to his res In tearing his clothing from him, the skin and flesh came off in strips, and mother's hands were badly burned. the The skin came off his body from above the middle of the back to below the calves of his legs. The burn was deep and the case desperate. For two months he was under the care of our family physician. We then took him to St. Paul and acting under his alvice called in one of the leading surgeons of the city, who took the case in charge. Other physicians were called in consultation; sixty pieces of skin were grafted at one time, yet notwithstand-ing all the skill of the doctors and the most unremitting care, two months afterwards all hope had been given up. For months atterwards all hope had been given up. For months he had lain on pillows with his face down and suffered terribly. He had no appetite and could retain nothing on his stomach. The sores were indolent and for two months had lain verfectly downard. We months had lain perfectly dormant. My attention was then called to Allen's Ulcerine Salve, and in desperation, ready to try anything that promised help, we commenced its use. Results were apparent at once. It at once aroused the sores to action and stimu-lated a healthy discharge. We kept the boy's strength up with a preparation of beef's blood and wine, and in about two months he was well on the road to recovery, and we were able to remove him back to our home. I believe that Allen's Ulcerine Salve saved his life, as when we commenced its use all hopes had been given up, and blood poisoning was expected to set in any moment. THE DUTY OF MOTHERS.

Daughters Should be Carefully Guided in Early Womanhood.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer." and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination; but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham and secure the most efficient advice without charge. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

The following letter from Miss MARIE F. JOHNSON, Centralia, Pa., shows what neglect will do, and tells how Mrs. Pinkham helped her:

"My health became so poor that I had to leave school. I was tired all the time, and had dreadful pains in my side and back. I was also troubled with irregularity of menses. I was very weak, and lost so much flesh that my friends became alarmed. My mother, who is a firm believer in your remedies from experience, thought perhaps they might benefit me, and wrote you for advice. I followed the advice you gave, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as you directed, and am now as well as I ever was. I have gained flesh and have a good color. I am completely cured of irregularity."
