Will Swan had an experience Thursday evening of last week that caused him to do some lively thinking. As he was driving down the near home a cow tried to run in front of the team. This frightened a young horse he was driving and it began to plunge and both horses started down hill on the run. Mrs. Swan jumped out with the baby and escaped with a few scratches and bruises. When Will saw he could not control the horses he lifted his little girl over the side of the buggy, holding her as low as he could, and let her drop. She also escaped with a few scratches. Immediately after this the buggy upset with Will underneath, but fortunately it got off without dragging him, and he received a few scratches. The horses then tore loose from the buggy, ran a little ways and were stopped without damage. The buggy was not much injured.

The fourth of July was celebrated in good style in Nemaha. At an early hour the national salute was fired with anvils. Then the small boy took up the refrain and made life miserable for nervous people and was correspondingly happy himself. The town was soon well filled with people from the surrounding country. The ladies' cornet band of Rockport, Mo., was on hand early in the day.

The exercises at the ground began with music by the band. Rev. E. S. Chamberlain offered prayer. Patriotic songs were sung by our musicians. Miss Mellinger Minick gave a recitation that won applause and universal praise. Her delivery was fine. Hon. Chas. B. Letton delivered a splendid address, full of patriotic thoughts. He was followed by Hon. W. H. Kelligar, who spoke on the duties of citizenship, the sacredness of the right of franchise, the necessity of right training at home, etc. Both addresses were short, especially that of Mr. Kelligar. Adjournment was then taken for dinner.

In the afternoon Dr. B. Bell-Andrews gave an excellent talk. There was a procession of the Woodmen of the World, headed by the band. The people had a good time visiting and enjoyed themselves hugely.

At night there was a good display of fireworks which was witnessed by a fair number.

The ladies' cornet band is a good one and furnished excellent music and lots of it. They remained here until Tuesday morning.
