MEETING OF OLD SETTLERS.

The annual meeting of the Nemaha County Old Settlers' association will be held at The Advertiser office Saturday Sept. 9th, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the election of officers for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. All persons who came to Nebraska previous to its admission as a state are qualified to become members of the association.

Jake Shuck brought us in some samples of cucumbers Wednesday that are curiosities. Two are double cucumbers, one has three and another one five, all grown together. No wonder Jake is putting up so many pickles.

George Greene had a bad runaway Wednesday afternoon. He had been to Auburn and was coming home on the Brownville road. His aunt, Mrs. Mary Kittell, was with him. A short distance this side the Nemaha river the horse started to run. Part of the harness broke, letting the buggy run on the horse, and it began to kick. George got the horse checked and Mrs. Kittell jumped out, but the horse started to run and one wheel struck Mrs. Kittell, throwing her to the ground and injuring her badly. The horse soon upset the buggs, broke loose with only the shafts hanging to it, and ran to Mr. Coulter's farm, where it ran in the barn. George was kicked in the head once or twice and has a cut about two inches long in his forehead. Mrs. Kittell was unconscious for some time but finally rallied and was brought home. Her injuries are severe. The horse was not hurt but the harness is a total wreck, the shafts are broken into numerous pieces, and the buggy top is lopsided and has a badly demoralized look.

No Right to Ugliness

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bites is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50c at Keeling's drug store.

Old Settlers Picnic

On account of the rain last Saturday the old settlers picnic was postponed until Thursday. Early Thursday morning the people began coming to town and by ten o'clock there was a big crowd. The parade started from the opera house at ten, marched south two blocks, west three blocks, north one block and east to the northeast corner of the park. The parade was headed by the Auburn band. Next came the old settlers in carriages, then members of the G. A. R., followed by ninety young ladies and girls representing the states, territories, Hawaiian Islands, Cuba, Porto Rico, Philippines, Sulu, and other islands acquired from Spain, and a number of the larger cities in the United States. A number of smaller boys and girls came behind. All carried small flags. Then came the Woodmen of the World dressed in long robes, headed by the past Consul Commander, Dr. Keeling, wearing a wig of long white hair and a white beard. After this was the Highlander float, on which were some of the officers of Dunraven castle around a "refugee" who was trying to ride the goat—the latter being a live one of imposing appearance. Following the float were a number of members of the castle. All the Highlanders wore the regulation Scotch plaid sashes and caps. The float of Dr. Gaither, snowing before and after treatment, Keeling's drug store. The Advertiser, and Kerker & Hoover's meat market came next, with one of Johns Hoover's sheep bringing up the rear. The parade was a success.

At 10:30 the exercises began on the ground. After music by the band prayer was offered by Rev. John Gallagher of Auburn. An anthem was sung by the Nemaha singers. Ex Gov. Furnas then delivered the address of welcome in fitting terms. Miss Ona Tourtelott told how Brown got his hair cut. Hon J Sterling Morton, of Nebraska City, ex-secretary of agriculture, delivered a fine address, but could not refrain from giving his views on the money and corporation questions, which was thought to be out of place at a meeting of this kind. There were two songs by the Nemaha singers and music by the band during the program. Adjournment was then taken for dinner.

At 1:30 the audience was again called to order. Miss Ona Tourtelott gave several recitations in a splendid manner. The ladies' quartette—the Misses Dye, Miss Leach and Miss Reed—sang two or three songs that pleased every one. R W Furnas made brief but appropriate remarks in memory of the pioneers who have passed to the other shore during the past year. J H Dundas talked but took so much time in complaining because "politics and religion" had been prohibited that he didn't have much time left to talk about anything else. John evidently thinks he can't talk at all unless he talks politics. One of the best addresses we have listened to for a long time was made by Prof. F. G. Hawby. It made us feel proud that Fred was a Nemaha boy.

The game of base ball was between the Auburn and Rulo teams. It was a good game of ball. The score was 7 to 4 in favor of Auburn.

Mrs. Gaither, Misses Florence and Lillian Minick, Miss Veva Clark, Miss Grace Paris, and Messrs G N and Ed Sanders were the Nemaha singers, with Miss May Gaither as organist. Miss Eustace was organist for the Dye quartette.

One great complaint made was that the speakers could not be heard. There are several reasons for this. It is hard for a speaker to make himself heard by a large crowd in the open air. Then a large number of the people apparently wanted to visit and did not seem to realize that their talking kept others from hearing the speakers. But the worst nuisance was the balloon whistle. No voice, however strong, could be heard above the whistle.

The picnic was a great success if it did have to be postponed.

The comment was frequently heard that this was the best picnic the speaker had ever attended. The program was certainly a splendid one.

One of the attractive features was the display of fruit, corn, pumpkins, squashes, etc. The display was small but good.

Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, of St. Joe, came to Nemaha the latter part of last week to attend the old settlers picnic and visit friends for a few days. She went to Omaha Tuesday. She was the guest of Mrs. F. L. Woodward while here.

J. B. Berger, who has been very sick for some time with heart disease, is considerably better and is making preparations to go to Galveston, Texas.

J. P. S. Clark, of Mendota, Pa., arrived in Nemaha Thursday morning on a visit to his niece, Mrs. Cora Crother, and other relatives and friends.

H. T. Evans lost a bill book with light leather cover one day this week. He also lost a key chain. The finder of either of these articles will please leave at this office.

Glendyn Crother found some small white gourds a few days ago and came running to the house to show his mother what nice eggs he had found, with handles to them.

The contract for building the new court house has been awarded to W. M. Rowels & Co., of Omaha, for $40,832. The walls will be built of Nemaha county stone.

Charley Snow thinks the best way for the fusionists to do in order to get rid of the trouble about the clerk's office is to nominate an outsider, and he is willing to be offered up as a sacrifice if necessary.

Our people were greatly disappointed last Saturday in not having the privilege of hearing Congressman Burkett talk, but he has promised to come back in the future and make an address. He had an engagement for Thursday of this week or he would have been here then.

Mrs. Estella Haines, sister of Mrs. Ben Colerick and Mrs. John Knight, died at her home in Nebraska City Tuesday, of quick consumption, aged 24 years, 5 months and 18 days. She leaves a husband and three small children, the youngest only one year old. Mr. and Mrs. Knight drove to the city Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral.

These are dangerous times for the health. Croup, colds and throat troubles lead rapidly to Consumption. A bottle of One Minute Cough Cure used at the right time will preserve life, health, and a large amount of money. Pleasant to take; children like it. Keeling, the druggist.
