C. Shuck, who has been visiting in Iowa for some little time, returned home Tuesday. He went to Auburn Wednesday.

Mrs. Will F. Keeling started for Gentry county, Mo, Thursday, where she will visit relatives and friends for about a month.

On account of the weather, Mrs. Alice McCandless postponed the recital she was to have given at Shubert last Saturday night.

Mrs. Mollie Ginn has been studying magnetic healing, has graduated therein and is now prepared to treat diseases by that method.

Prof. Frank L. McNowen seem to be one of the popular young men of the town, as he received ten May baskets Tuesday night.

Mrs. J. H. Seid is suffering severely with lumbago. Henry says he can sympathize with her as he knows just how bad it hurts.

We are advised by Dr. Seymour that those wishing to visit him in Lincoln should write in advance to be sure of seeing him, as he is extremely busy.

The hack team got scared at some loose paper at the depot Thursday and ran away, but they were stopped in front of Gilbert & McCandless' store without any damage being done.

L. H. Merritt on Monday finished up a good house just west of Champion school house for Frank Rider. A dance was given in the house Tuesday night. We suppose a wedding will be in order next.

F. L. Woodward and F. H. D. Hunt went to Lincoln Tuesday to attend the republican state convention. Woodward returned Thursday afternoon and reported that Hunt had strayed away and could not be found.

It rained again last Sunday—not very much, but enough to count against The Advertiser weather prophet. But he still hold to his prediction that it will not rain for seven consecutive Sundays because it rained on Easter.

Frank Woodward informs us that Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor have decided to move back to Nemaha and probably be here in a few days. They have been making their home with their son, Frank Taylor, in northern Nebraska.

Just received, a stock of cook stoves. Poultry netting, ropes, all sizes of bolts etc. And don't forget that we carry at all times a complete stock of lumber. Let us figure with you if you are going to build.

EDWARDS & BRADFORD LUMBER CO., Nemaha, Neb.

Work is being pushed on the court house at Auburn as fast as possible. The commissioners are keeping close watch on the work to see that everything is done according to contract. Commissioner M. T. Conner spends considerable time at the court house looking after the work and seeing that only the best of material is used. Nemaha county will have a court house to be proud of when it is completed.

Public Sale.

Having purchased an Oklahoma farm I will sell at public sale on the Frazier farm, ½ mile west of Nemaha, on Friday, May 11th, 1900, commencing at 1 p. m., the following described personal property: Cultivator, spring wagon, forks, post augur, scythe, wire stretcher, and other tools; 1 milch cow, 1 hog, 3 dozen black Langshan hens, bedsteads, carpets, stoves, window shades, crockery, chairs, refrigerator, cradle, fruit jars, and other articles. Frank Woodward says John Culp is engaged in building a large platform in front of W. J. Bryan's home in Lincoln. Bryan is going to pattern after McKinley's tactics in 1896, and let the people seek him instead of running around over the country hunting up an audience to talk to. The democrats are thus keeping up their usual practice of coming straggling along about four years after the republicans.

The wife of David Baker, of Brownsville precinct, died Monday. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. C. H. Gilmore, of Filley, were held at the Methodist church at Brownville at 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday. The body was laid away in the Nemaha cemetery.
