John G. Sanders, editor of the Grundy County Gazette, published at Spickard, Mo., visited his brothers, W. W. and Carl E. Sanders, Monday night.

G. H. Swan, of Maitland, Mo., was shaking hands with Nemaha friends Thursday. He gave The Advertiser a call and our pocketbook is heavier in consequence.

Mrs. Davidson Plasters, of Brownville, is in a very critical condition at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. S. McIninch, of Auburn. She is suffering from a cancer.

G. Lilly, of Auburn, was in Nemaha Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning. He came down to visit his daughter, Mrs. Ed Thomas, and to look after his farm.

Marion Seid has moved on the farm where Tom Howard has been living for several years, near Aspinwall. Tom has moved on a farm he recently bought on the county line northeast of Shubert.

J. L. Halth last week sold his farm one mile south and a little east of Nemaha to a Mr. West, of Auburn. The farm contains 105 acres and he receives $40 per acre for it. He will remain on the farm for another year.

George McClure was well enough to resume his duties at the depot Saturday. Tom Majors jr., who acted as agent last week, went to Peru Saturday afternoon and visited his parents until Monday, when he returned to Tecumseh.

Having bought the harness stock of John A. Hiatt, we will hereafter carry a complete stock of harness and harness supplies, whips, halters, saddles, robes, etc. Prices guaranteed right. Call and see us.

EDWARDS & BRADFORD LUMBER CO.

I want the people of Nemaha to understand I go and come and dress myself with my own money and that money is made honestly and respectably. I warn you to hold your tongue. You say I have not a good word for the church. I defy you to bring the person to me. ALICE WADE.

The farmers living on "Johnnycake Ridge" and vicinity gave another one of their delightful surprise parties last Sunday. This time it was to celebrate the 81st birthday anniversary of Mr. Carson Fisher. The party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillespie, on O. K. Fisher's farm, with whom Mr. Fisher is now staying. The Advertiser force was remembered and a box of good things sent us.

All interested in good garden seeds should buy from the old reliable seed house, P. Kerker, who sells Mangelsdorf Bros.' seeds, the best seed house in the west. We notice these "tested seeds" patrons have to fall back on the Old Reliable House, who handles all kinds of seeds, garden and field, cheaper than any other house in this county.

The Goldsberry gang, living near Auburn, will pass the next few years of their lives in retirement. They have for years been connected with a gang of horse thieves. The old man has been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and Sunday morning the jury found the old man and the two sons guilty of horsestealing. Judge Jessen of Nebraska City presided at the last trial.

J. N. Rowen and family, who have been visiting Mr. Rowen's brother, Rufus Rowen, for the past month, started for Marshalltown, Iowa, Tuesday. Mr. Rowen was one of the fortunate ones to draw a claim in the Oklahoma drawing last summer. He moved down there and lived on the claim for a short time but did not like it, so he sold out and has returned to his former home at Marshalltown.

J. C. Brown, living across the river in Missouri, was circulating a subscription paper last Saturday among the business men of Nemaha to assist him in building a large flat boat to be operated as a ferry boat at this point. He had no difficulty in raising the amount needed, and expects to have the boat running next month. There is a fine crossing at Nemaha, with better roads on both sides of the river than any point we know of.

As the editor stepped off the train at Nemaha Wednesday evening we were surprised to see the platform crowded with people. As we began to express our surprise at being so warmly greeted after so short an absence we were informed that they did not come down to meet us but to see Carrie Nation, who had lectured at Auburn the night before, and it was supposed would be on the train on her way to Peru. But Mrs. Nation drove from Auburn to Peru and the crowds that had gathered at the depots at Nemaha and Brownville were disappointed.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia; but for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we would have had a serious time of it! It also saved him from several severe attacks of croup. —H J Stickfaden, editor World-Herald, Fair Haven, Wash. For sale by W W Keeling.

A LETTER FROM CHARLEY CURTIS

LA JARA, COLO., March 9, 1902.
NEIGHBOR SANDERS:—I will write a few lines to you and the rest of the neighbors. I am at present in the San Luis valley, between two mountain ranges. This is a lovely valley about 200 miles long and 75 miles wide. The weather is fine. It never gets colder than four or five degrees below zero here and that don't last more than a day or two. No snow here. I am in about the center of the valley and in a good farming community where they can raise all kinds of grain and fruit. It is as yet a new country and there is plenty of vacant land here which can be bought for $3 to $10 per acre with water right. The soil is good and the people are kind and sociable. Stock runs out all winter here and keeps in good condition. You can see the mountains rising on all sides. The majority of the people here are from Nebraska and Iowa. Gold can be found all along the foothills in the spring after the snow goes off the mountains. Yours,
C. A. CURTIS.

Read It in His Newspaper.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by W W Keeling.
