

Early Riser Flour
Anchor Diadem
 Have you used those brands? If not, try one sack and you will find that you never had any better bread on the table.....
 Ask your merchant for this flour and if he says "the other brands are better" it is because he makes more money on the other brands. On the Early Riser, Anchor or Diadem he only makes a small per cent.....
 Buy a box "Best of the Wheat." It is ahead of all oatmeal and will take the place of oatmeal and many other foods. It is cheap—only 10c a box or 3 for 25c. Ask your grocer for it and if he dont keep it send to the mill.

This one firm sold over $12,700 worth of groceries to Nemaha merchants in 1901—an average of over $1,050 a month. They sold more goods here than at Howe, Brownville and Peru combined.
 The Bank of Nemaha received another safe Monday. It is one of the celebrated Mosler screw safes, and has been in use in the First National bank of Auburn for some time, that bank selling it in order to put in a larger one. It is just the same as the one in the Carson National bank and almost exactly the same as the one in the new Nemaha County bank. It is as near burglar proof as they make them. A vault will be built soon.
