J. E. CROTHER
 Nearly Perforated His Life.
 A runaway almost ending fatally started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. For four years it defied all doctors and all remedies. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for burns, skin eruptions and piles. 25c at Keeling's drug store.

All our farmer readers should take advantage of the unprecedented clubbing offer we this year make, which includes with this paper The Iowa Homestead, its Special Farmers' Institute editions, and The Poultry Farmer. These three publications are the best of their class and should be in every farm home. To them we add for local, county and general news our own paper and make the price for the four for one year $1.35. Never before was so much superior reading matter offered for so small an amount of money. The papers named which we club with our own are well known throughout the west and commend themselves to the reader's favorable attention upon mere mention. The Homestead is the great agricultural and live stock paper of the west. The Poultry Farmer is the most practical poultry paper for the farmer published in the country, and the Special Farmers' Institute editions are the most practical publications for the promotion of good farming ever published. The advantage of this great offer.

H. D. Beebe, resident manager of the Edwards and Bradford Lumber Co. at Petersburg, Neb., in remitting his subscription for another year, writes that the town is suffering from an outbreak of smallpox, and if the disease increases in the next week as it has in the past, half the town will have it. He writes that he expects to come down with it any day. We sincerely hope he will escape it or have it in a very mild form.

Lot Clover died very suddenly Wednesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John B. Stiers, where he was visiting. He came to his daughter's last Saturday expecting to visit for a month. He was apparently in usual health Tuesday evening. About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning Mr. Clover called Mrs. Stiers and asked her to give him something as he had a pain in his breast. She gave him a dose of medicine which relieved him and he went back to bed again. In a short time the pain came back and Mrs. Stiers got up and started the fire in the kitchen to heat some water. Mr. Clover dressed himself and went into the kitchen and sat down in a chair. In a few minutes he straightened out and died without making a sound.

Mr. Clover was an old citizen of the county, having lived here about 40 years. His wife died last winter. Mr. Clover leaves one son, Mayward Clover, living near Glenrock, and three daughters—Mrs. John B. Stiers and Mrs. John H. Argabright of Nemaha precinct and Mrs. Joe Parsons of Richardson county.

Last Monday evening about fifteen or twenty of Miss Hettie Seid's friends and schoolmates assembled at her home to celebrate her thirteenth birthday. The family were joyously eating supper, not knowing that the parlor was filled with guests, when at a sudden moment their merry voices broke forth. Mr and Mrs. J. H. Seid began to think the resurrection day had come. The evening was happily spent in playing games, also listening to some beautiful selections of music that were rendered. At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room to partake of delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and popcorn. After the refreshments were served the guests departed to their homes, wishing Miss Hettie many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. S. T. Argabright came near being burned to death one day last week. She was burning some trash in the yard when her skirt caught fire in the back. She tried to put it out with her hands but could not and ran to the door and called to her sister, Miss Lizzie Lewark. Miss Lewark tried to put out the blaze but finding she could not, ran into the house and got a pail of water, throwing it over Mrs. Argabright and extinguishing the fire. Mrs. Argabright was considerably burned, but the woolen skirts she was wearing probably saved her life. It was a narrow escape.
