W. W. SANDERS, Publisher

FRIDAY, MAY 1, 1903.

J. A. Ranney, publisher of the Brownville Biograph, whose office was destroyed by fire at that place last Friday night. was in the city Monday. The only thing of value he saved was his subscription list. Mr. Ranney while here was undecided whether or not he would resume publication of the newspaper.-Auburn Herald.]

Oliver, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Jones of near Howe, came home Sunday from Des Moines, Ia., where he has been studying music in the piano department of the Des Moines Musical college under Prof. Henri Ruifrok, We understand Olivee has made great progress in this line of work and expects to be a 1904 graduate at that place.-Post.

President Roosevelt made his tour through Nebraska the first of this week, and was greeted with great enthusiam everywhere. He stayed Sunday at Grand Island, and on Monday made a half hour stop at Lincoln; Monday night he was at Omaha. At Lincoln and Omaha .he spoke to immense crowds. He should feel proud of the welcome be received.

The contract was let Saturday and the dirt began to move Monday for the new Avenue hotel at the head of the boulevard. H. Bellas was awarded the contract for the construction of the building and September first was the limit of time upon which it should be completed. The building will be three stories high with basement and will contain about forty rooms. The north frontage will be seventy feet and the east seventy-two, with a kitchen and engine room separate at the back. The completed building is expected to cost about $16,000. R. R.

Dutter and son, the former popular landlerds of the Talmage house, will be the managers of this hotel when finished.-Auburn Post.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Shurtleff, who have speut the winter in southern California, returned home on Monday morning, looking as though their sojourn on the Pacific coast had benefity ted the health of both. When they left in the fall the Herald stated that they might possibly make their future home in California, which Mr. Shurtleff stated was far from their intentions. The state of Nebraska, which has so long been their home, is too dear a spot to make another state their home, and they say they are mighty glad to get back again after their winter's absence. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Shurtleff were likewise glad to see them back and hope that the health of both will be so good in the future that a change of climate will be unnecessary .- Herald. All our farmer readers should take advantage of the unprecedented clubbing offer we this year make, which includes with this paper The Iowa Homestead, its Special Farmers' Institute editions, and The Poultry Farmer. These three publications are the best of their class and should be in every farm home. To them we add for local, county and general news our own paper and make the price for the four for one year $1.35. Never before was so much superior reading matter offered for so small an amount of money. The papers named which we club with our own are well known throughout the west and commend themselves to the reader's favorable attention upon mere mention. The Homestead is the great agricultural and live stock paper of the west. The Poultry Farmer is the most practical poultry paper for the farmer published in the country, and the Special Farmers' Institute editions are the most practical publications for the promotion of good farming ever published.

The current publication of the terms of office served by the governors of Nebraska since it was admitted into the union presents a record that is worth preserving for its historic value.

We give it as follows: David Butler, 1866-71 Wm. H. James, 1871-72. Robert W. Furnas, 1872-74. Silas Garber, 1874-78. Albinas Nance, 1878-82. James W. Dawes, 1882-86. John M. Thayer, 1886-90. James E. Boyd, 1890-92. Lorenzo Crounse, 1892-94. Silas A. Helcomb, 1894.98. W. A. Poynter, 1898-1900. Charles H. Dietrich, part of 1901. Ezra P. Savage, 1901.02. J. H. Mickey, 1903.

One highly interesting feature of this gubernatorial exhibit is the longevity of the governors of this state. Here is a list of fourteen, reaching back thirty-seven years. Of these fourteen twelve are still living-and ready to hold office at the drop of the hat. Only the first two, Butler and James, have gone beyond. For a peroid of thirty-one years death has not claimed a governor of Nebraska. None have encountered the keen edge of Father Time's sickle. May their years in the land be many.

Ponce de Leen searched in vain for the fountain of youth. He did not find it, because Nebraska was an unidentified part of the unknown west. It had not yet been carved out of the Louisiana purchase and been made a political sub-division where men might become govenors and live happy ever after.

It is a little wonder that, viewing the record, there are many who seek the glory and perpetual youth of the executive chair. Some there are who have died trying to get into it, but only two of the whole number who succeeded in reaching it.

Long may the governors of Nebraska wave.-Fremont Tribune.

A Weak Stomach

All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hear ing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodel I concluded to try it. SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Oured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"When I had the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry Editor of the Enterprise, Shortville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times keep from coughing myself to pieces by taking one teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bade me adieu."
