John Stephenson of Auburn was visiting some of his many Nemaha friends Thursday. We have only two things against John—his politics and because he moved to Auburn instead of Nemaha.

Conrad Schreiner, an old citizen of Brownville, died at his home at 1 o'clock a. m. Tuesday. Mr. Schreiner had been in poor health for a long time. The funeral was held Wednesday. The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Peter Kerker.

The night cap social at the home of Dr. H. S. Galtner last Saturday night was a most successful affair in every respect. The lawn was lighted with lamps, lanterns and Chinese lanterns presented a beautiful appearance. A goodly sum was taken in.

August 27 seems to be a popular day this year for old settlers' picnics. Nemaha will have her picnic on that day, the old settlers of Lancaster county have set that date for their picnic at Lincoln, and Nebraska City will also have an old settlers' picnic on that day. The old settlers of Richardson county will have their annual gathering on the 26th and 27th. But we venture the assertion, without fear of successful contradiction, that the Nemaha picnic will be the best of all.

H. T. Minick showed us some specimens of a small fruit called the strawberry raspberry Saturday. The fruit partakes of the nature of both the strawberry and raspberry; grows on a low bush begins bearing about the middle of July and bears until frost. There are blooms, green berries and ripe berries on the same bush at the same time.

The Little Girls' Band of Hamburg, Iowa, has been engaged to play at the old settlers' picnic Aug. 27. This band is composed of Prof. Booe and wife and ten little girls, none of them over twelve years of age. These little ladies belong to some of the best families of Hamburg and have been carefully trained by Prof. Booe. They are highly praised by the Omaha Bee, World-Herald, Hon. W. J. Bryan and other papers and prominent men who have heard them. They will remain over night and give an open air concert in the park the night of the picnic.

You never heard any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied.—M T Hill.

Catarth of the Stomach.
When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarth of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kedol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by W. W. Keeling.

Reveals a Great Secret
It is often asked how such startling cures, that puzzle the best physicians are effected by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Here's the secret.
