Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Fains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

ROCHESTER, GA., Jan. 30, 1903. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent me the medicine and now they are getting so fine. They are looking 20 per cent. better. S. P. BROOKINGTON.

SINCE THE RAILROAD CAME.

Growth of Comfort and Increase of Luxuries in the Ancient Land of Mexico.

Since railway connection with the United States was made, some 18 years ago, the growth of comfort in middle-class families here has been very noticeable, says the Mexican Herald. In the first place it began with the better furnishing of houses; foreign, and especially American styles, came into vogue, and the comfortable rattan furniture began to find its way into homes where formerly Austrian bentwood was considered the acme of good taste. Not that some of the finer forms of the Austrian furniture are not comfortable, but surely one cannot say this of the stiff and formal sofas and chairs. The Austrian rocking chairs were comfortable, but clumsy. Those of us who can recollect the middle-class housefurnishings of the early railway days have a mental picture of the comfortable chairs and sofas, of the tables made of pine and stained black, of the tasteless carpets, when there were any, and of the conventional arrangement of the chairs and sofa, the "estrado," which was a survival of Spanish colonial etiquette, the sofa being the place of honor and assigned to the guest. In some old-fashioned houses this arrangement still holds good, and yet one may expect to find furniture that does not demand rigidity of spine during the long hours of a ceremonial call.

Wealthy families who could bring their furniture from France or England were in very distinct case, but we are not considering them; they had their great mirrors, their pianos and all that, when the only means of getting them here was over the steep mountain roads from Vera Cruz, just as to-day all the household furniture of the people of Bogota has to make a mule-back journey over trails from coast and river. An old Mexican lady, well on into the nineties, speaks of the "great houses here" during her early youth, "with numberless servants, kept to indicate one's state and grandeur, who ranged themselves in the patio to receive the visitor; of the great sala, or parlor, with its huge mirrors, its rug on the tiled floor in front of the sofa and of the lonely candle lighted at dusk!"

In the old days there was, among the rich, a certain stateliness of life, and but little real comfort. The middle class, then much less numerous than now, lived in houses furnished with a simplicity that to-day can only be paralleled in some of the interior towns where things have changed but little. It was all very plain here at the capital, save among the socially eminent. French cooking was unknown, and chicken and punchero were staple articles of daily diet. A whole world of culinary discoveries awaited the palate of the frugal living upper class. Somewhere about the fifties a famous foreign banker, of Scotch or Irish blood, electrified high-class society by bringing here a French chef, whose achievements set all the "alta sociedad" a talking, and soon caused them to import good cooks.

People went to their country houses as they do now, but the suburbs were unsafe, and the furniture used in them was so simple that those of our readers who were not here to see it would be amazed could we present a photographic reproduction of the interiors of the "casas de campo" about the city. Plain deal tables, settles of the old sort, rough chairs, primitive bedsteads, all as rustic as could be. Nobody thought of furnishing a suburban house as is done to-day, often daintily and sometimes luxuriously.

What is Foley's Kidney Cure?
Answer: It is made from a prescription of a leading Chicago physician, and one of the most eminent in the country. The ingredients are the purest that money can buy, and are scientifically combined to get the best results.—M T Hill.

What Thin Folks Need

Is a greater power of digesting and assimilating food. For them Dr King's New Life Pills work wonders. They tone and regulate the digestive organs, gently expel all poison from the system, enrich the blood, improve appetite make healthy flesh. Only 25c at Keeling's.

DEAF MUTES WIN SUCCESS.

Men Lacking Two of the More Important Faculties Who Have Won Fame and Fortune.

Without speech and hearing it would seem impossible for a man or woman to achieve any positive success in the world. That it is possible for a certain amount of enjoyment to be brought into the life of a person thus afflicted is well known. It is generally understood that such a person can overcome these natural obstacles and live a life of reasonable contentment.

But that men thus handicapped have been able to enter the struggle for renown and riches and win without these all-important powers is not generally realized. The records of various institutions for the deaf and dumb throughout the country reveal the fact many persons so afflicted are forging ahead and becoming prominent in different walks of life, says the Chicago Tribune.

They are finding success in many occupations and professions—even in the law. They have their churches, their fraternities, and their old people's homes, all maintained by their own efforts. The record of the deaf and dumb in this country has been duplicated in Europe.

The arts have appealed naturally to the deaf and dumb as offering opportunities for success, and many of the men who have won renown in spite of their handicaps have devoted themselves either to sculpture or painting.

In enumerating the distinguished artists who are deaf and dumb one would mention the French sculptor, Ferdinand Homar, whose work, the Rochambeau statue, was recently erected in a park opposite the white house in Washington. Felix Martin, sculptor, who has attained a membership in the Legion of Honor; Paul Choppin, the sculptor and gold medalist of the Paris exposition, and Ernest Durageau, professor and member of the Legion of Honor, are others who have made reputations.

American artists have found equal success. H. H. Moore, who has taken up his residence in Paris, is one. Douglas Tilden, the California sculptor, is another. Olof Hanson is another deaf mute who has become prominent in architecture, he being one of the most prominent in his profession in Minneapolis.

Douglas Tilden's career is notable. At an early age he showed such an aptitude for art that his natural disadvantages would not be serious obstacles to his progress. He was sent to Paris to study, and there he worked under the direction of Paul Choppin, himself deaf and dumb. Returning to California, he began his work, and now evidences of his ability are found in all quarters of San Francisco. His first work, "The Ball Player," stands in Golden Gate park. The Native Sons' monument and the Donohue Memorial fountain, recently erected, are by him. For many years he was an instructor in the Hopkins art gallery, and later he became a member of the jury of the Columbian exposition.

Another deaf mute of California has been successful in business. L. C. Williams is the head of one of the largest contracting firms in that state. He started in the business world with an excellent education, despite the fact that all his information had been acquired with no other communication than pencil and paper. He started in the contracting business modestly, but with industry and utility became head of one of the great contracting companies, which now handles work all over California and has just been awarded a large contract in Honolulu.

Another San Francisco deaf mute is a politician, real estate agent, and notary public. Being energetic, he did a thriving business as a real estate man in his native city. Going into politics, he succeeded in landing a position in the city government. When he lost his position through a change of parties he was made a notary public by Gov. Gage, being the only deaf mute man in America to hold such rights.

San Francisco seems to be a favorite field of work for the deaf mute. Another remarkable instance of success in spite of defects is afforded by the case of another of the citizens of that city. This man is a lawyer. A lawyer who cannot talk seems an anomaly, but this one has been a success. He talks in the finger alphabet and his eight-year-old son interprets for the court. Recently he won a breach of promise case in which both the litigants were deaf and dumb, defeating a skilled lawyer who had the power of speech and winning the admiration of the court by his method of conducting his case.

The Nebraska Mercantile Mutual Insurance company of Lincoln, Nebraska, has over $6,000,000 insurance in force with the leading business men of the state. Ask to see a list of them. W. W. Sanders, agent.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Will Cure Consumption

A. A. Herren of Finch, Ark., writes, "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stage.—M T Hill.

A Surgical Operation

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure you when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them. I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Sumner, S. C. For Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve Sold by W. W. Keeling.

For Those Who Live on Farms

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends and I am confident that there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns. Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50, and $1.00 at Hill's.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called catarrh of the stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by W. W. Keeling.

You never heard any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied.—M T Hill.

Stand Like a Stone Wall

Between your children and the tortures of itching and burning eczema, scaldhead or other diseases.—How? why by using Bucklen's Arnica Salve, earth's greatest healer. Quickest cure for Ulcers, Fever Sores, Salt Rheum Cuts, Burns, or Bruises. Infallible for Piles. 25c at Keeling's drug store

Spring Ailments

There is an aching and tired feeling, the liver, bowels, and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite no ambition for anything and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is, that during the winter, there has been an over accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at Hill's.

To improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion, try a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. K. H. Seitz of Detroit, Mich., says, "They restored my appetite when impaired, relieved me of a bloated feeling and caused a pleasant and satisfactory movement of the bowels."

There are people in this community who need just such a medicine. For sale by W. W. Keeling, druggist Every box warranted.

Holds Up a Congressman

"At the end of the campaign" writes Champ Clark, Missouri's brilliant congressman, "from overwork nervous tension, loss of sleep and constant speaking I had about utterly collapsed. It seemed that all of my organs were out of order, but three bottles of Electric Bitters made me all right. It's the best all-around medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter." Over-worked run-down men and weak, sickly women gain splendid vitality from Electric Bitters. Try them. Only 50c.—Guaranteed by Keeling.

Better Than a Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the affected parts, is better than a plaster for a lame back and for pains in the side and chest. Pain Balm has no superior as a liniment for the relief of deep seated, muscular, and rheumatic pains. For sale by W. W. Keeling, Druggist.

Traveling is Dangerous

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much, suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. E. Hausan locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes, "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure.—M T Hill.

World-Wide Reputation

White's Cream Vermifuge has achieved a world wide reputation as being the best of worm destroyers, and for its tonic influence on weak and unthrifty children, as it neutralizes the acidity or sourness of the stomach, improves the digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens the nervous system and restores them to the health vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at Hill's.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given to children.—M. T. Hill

In the Interest of Humanity.

Chris Miller of Fremont, Nebr., writes: "I suffered from dyspepsia for more than 10 years. I was under the care of a number of doctors, made three trips away, and still no relief. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure being recommended to me by several who had used it, and as the last straw, I concluded to try it. After the first two or three doses I began to improve and have taken several bottles and feel like a new man. I write you this in the interest of humanity, hoping it may fall into the hands of some sufferer, and my prayer is that they may secure the same benefit that I have." Sold by W. W. Keeling.
