Who would ask for any better weather?

Corn gathering has commenced in full force.

One week from next Tuesday is election day.

Sheriff Lawrence was a Nemaha visitor Tuesday.

The fusionists will hold a meeting at Nemaha Nov. 2.

Considerable ice froze on standing water Monday night.

Clifford N. Catlin went to St. Louis Tuesday to attend the exposition.

The Christian and Methodist churches have got new song books recently.

Mrs. Lillie Stevens of Brownville is visiting Mrs. E. H. Knapp this week.

Miss Iva Catlin and her cousin, Miss Jennie Catlin, started for St. Louis Wednesday.

Remember J. H. Seid's Poland-China hog sale on Saturday, Nov. 5. He will sell some good hogs.

Only a few days more of the campaign and then we will not be bothered with so much politics.

Mrs. W. E. Wheeldon who has been visiting at Wagne, Kansas, returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Essie White came in from Auburn Friday on a visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hadlock.

J. H. Seid went to Sabetha, Kansas, Tuesday, to attend a combination hog sale. He took some hogs down to sell.

John H. Kearns of the Auburn Herald was a Nemaha visitor Tuesday and gave these headquarters a social call.

Chas. O. French is a good lawyer, a hard student, and will do good work as county attorney. See that he is elected.

Union prohibition meeting at the Christian church Sunday night. Addresses or sermons by both Rev. Sapp and Rev. Ayers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rowen, who have been visiting their brother, Rufus Rowen, for some time, started for their home in Iowa last Saturday.

Yes, we have a few sticks of dimension and finish that grew where knots are not known.

Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

Mrs. S. E. Sims of Denver, Colo., is visiting her uncle, Henry Clark, and family. Mrs. Sims was formerly Miss Dozier and has many friends here now.

Six young men went to see the same young lady Sunday afternoon. It was hard to tell who enjoyed it the most—the young lady or the young gentlemen.

G. W. Cummings will make a good county commissioner. He is a farmer, a business man, well posted, of good judgment, and will do justice to all. Vote for him.

A pleasant farewell surprise party was given Miss Maye Gaither Monday night. About twenty were present and spent a delightful evening with music, conversation, games, etc.

Just arrived, another car containing nice lot of that $20 white pine lap siding and white pine fencing for $20 per thousand.

Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

Mrs. Kate Strickler and daughter of Denver, Colo., arrived in Nemaha Tuesday on a few day's visit with their brother and uncle, Henry Clark, and other relatives. They expect to start home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott and John Cathreal of Pawnee county drove in to Nemaha Sunday and are visiting R. I. Brown. Mrs. Scott is a daughter and Mr. Cathreal a nephew of Mr. Brown.

Miss Maye Gaither went to Lincoln Tuesday, where she will study music and at the same time give music lessons. Miss Maye is a talented musician and will be greatly missed in Nemaha.

Will F. Sanders and Herb Aynes went to Peru on a 3-wheeler Saturday afternoon to see a football game, but the game was not played. Their 3-wheeler broke down and they came back on the freight.

A union prohibition meeting will be held at the Christian church in Nemaha next Sunday night, at which time Revs. Sapp and Ayers will both speak. There will be no services at the Methodist church that night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Russel, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howe, and Robt. I. Smith started for St. Louis Monday afternoon, going to Nebraska City, crossing the river and taking the K. C. They expect to return Saturday or Monday.

J. J. Alexander writes to N. B. Scrivener that he is now located in Indiana. He has bought a good 7-room house, two lots in fruit trees, good cellar, well, cistern, etc. He says to give all his Nemaha friends his kindest regards.

Misses May Kerker and Nellie Sanders say Herbert R. Howe gave the Advertiser office a pleasant call Tuesday in the absence of the editor, stayed some time, and didn't say a word about politics, but both say if they could vote they would vote for him.

T. B. Finch, who was for 22 years a citizen of Nemaha, has been visiting his old friends here since last Saturday. Tom has been located at Telluride, Colorado, for the past ten years. He expects to stay at Brownville this winter, visiting his daughter, Mrs. Roberts.

If you want a republican United States senator elected, vote for Good, Howe, Peabody and Ernst. If a republican legislature is elected E. J. Burkett will be our next United States senator—an able man, an experienced legislator, an orator, and better than all else, an honest, clean man.

The skeleton found on the sandbar three or four miles northeast of Nemaha, Thursday of last week, was identified as one the Gallant boys, who were drowned a few months ago at Nebraska City. The young man carried $2,000 insurance in the A. O. U. W., which his widow will now get.

Last Sunday Delbert Webb and Willie Kerker were amusing themselves at the depot and got to throwing at each other. Finally Willie threw a jagged rock that struck Delbert on top of the head, cutting a gash to the skull. It took three stitches to close it. They will be a little more careful hereafter.

R. C. Morton's property was sold at sheriff's sale Tuesday, to satisfy a mechanic's lien held by Joe Bunker and a claim by Edwards & Bradford Lumber Co. It was bid in by Walter S. Maxwell, who pays $700 for it. Walt owns the property north of it, and this will give him a half block with a house on each end of it.

A few of our enterprising citizens have arranged for a lecture course this winter. The first number will be a concert on the evening of Nov. 22. Season tickets for the course will be sold at $1, including reserved seats. The course will be composed of four entertainments—two concerts, a lecture and a monologist. It is hoped our citizens will patronize this course liberally.

Take the wagonette when in Auburn if you want to go to any part of the city. John McElhaney prop.

The wild animal that has been agitating the people of St. Deroin and Hillsdale, and which was seen on the sandbar east of Nemaha last week, was killed on the sandbar east of Brownville last Friday by Sherm Kauffman. It proved to be a catamount. It is not known how the animal ever got here.

B. V. Johnson of Aspinwall precinct had a terrible experience with a big boar last Saturday. The hog attacked him, grabbing him by one hip and dragging him over the ground until Mr. Johnson managed to get away. The doctor had to take two or three stitches to close the cut made in his hip.

Among the Nebraskans who have been awarded medals at the St. Louis exposition there are many from Nemaha county.

Gold medals were awarded to C. W. Brush on oats, speltz and corn, and to Fred Dysart on wheat; E. Snow on rye; A. Stoddard, wheat; D. W. Watson, oats; F. Bourlier, wheat; George Coulter, wheat; A. Cooper, wheat, E. Cox, wheat; J. Kinghorn, wheat. W. Luntzman, wheat; F. Meyers, oats; H. M. Wright, wheat. Bronze medals to W. E. Keough, wheat; H. Ottens, wheat; Nels Paulson, wheat, H. F. Peterson, wheat; H. Umland, wheat; W. Hastie, wheat; S. L. Cunningham, oats; O. P. Dovel, corn. The state normal school was awarded a bronze medal for collective exhibit in the department of education.—Granger.

A divorce case in which Kansas City society people are especially interested was decided in the circuit court yesterday when Mrs. Cora A. Andrews, 4009 Broadway, was granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Dr. B. Bell Andrews, formerly of Kansas City but now located in Chicago.

The proceeding yesterday were quietly conducted, Mrs. Andrews, accompanied by two friends and her attorney going before Judge Douglass late in the afternoon, and after the business of the day has been disposed of. She testified that her husband had threatened her life, squandered part of her inheritance and subjected her to various indignities.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrews were married in 1898. One child born of the union was given to the custody of Mrs. Andrews by the court yesterday.—Kansas City Journal—Oct. 29.

A mutual drainage district was organized at Auburn last Saturday, comprising all the owners of land on the Nemaha bottom from Auburn to the mouth of the Nemaha river. Each owner signed an agreement to pay one dollar per acre for the purpose of straightening the river. It is estimated that this will make about $3 per rod of ditch to be cut. The following committee was appointed to oversee the work: C. D. Nixon, Frank Gerlaw, T. J. Crummel, Ben T. Skeen and Harry Hoover.

Work is to begin immediately all along the river with the expectation of having it completed before the ground freezes.

The water in following the channel of the stream has to flow some sixty-three miles from Auburn to its mouth. By digging about six to seven miles of new channel the water can reach the Missouri river in about fifteen miles. By this saving in distance the water that now takes thirty six hours to run out will reach the mouth of the river in twelve hours or less. The assessment of one dollar per acre will raise $950 per mile and this amount will cut off all the long bends in the river. The farmers along the river will do much of the work to be done on their respective farms. A shallow channel will be cut in many places and left for the high water when it comes to finish.

Remember we have a big stock of white pine grooved roofing. This is also matched the same as flooring, which saves the expense of battens. Edwards & Bradford Lbr. Co.

Last week J. H. Dundas made the following announcement in the Granger: "I have received a number of inquiries as to whether I am or am not a candidate since the conventions have been held and I was not nominated, and I answer that I am. It will take but a few hours to secure the balance of the necessary names to the petitions and my name will be on the ticket that may cause sighs or even cuss words from those supposed they were compassing my defeat by their efforts to manipulate conventions. I did not ask for nor look for a nomination from either convention, for while there were many to compliment me on my course as a newspaper man and as a senator there were several who would sacrifice anything rather than see me elected. The reasons are well known. Hence petitions for signatures were prepared at the time I made my announcement. "It is not pleasant for me to enter upon this contest, because it looks too much like self laudation, but as I pursued a course consistent with right and justice and with my oath of office while in the senate in 1897, and have pursued a like course as a newspaper man, and have only received kicks for not going contrary to my oath for party sake, I know no reason why I should lay down at the bidding of a few would be bosses while honest voters are urging my election."

We do not know whether Bro. Dundas learned that there was not such an overwhelming demand for his return, and therefore the people did not rush in and sign his petition, or whether the bosses scared him out, or what was the reason, but this week he makes this announcement:

"My name will not appear on the ballot as a candidate for senator as per announcement last week. Having been too busy to even take a day to secure the balance of the necessary names to my petition, I yielded to the almost tearful wail of a number who feared that my candidacy might hurt the party and allowed the matter to go default. I have regrets over the fact that another campaign and another legislative session are likely to be spent in chewing the dirty party rags of the past, and that I will not be in the position to help wrongs by enacting and amending laws in justice to the whole people, and to be one to stand in the way of those who help with or allow wanton waste for party sake. But my ben shall still be employed and I shall continue to expose corrupt proceeding although in doing so I may hurt some party or some individual."
