The passenger train from the north was wrecked Tuesday morning one mile north of Brownville. The train consisted of a refrigerator car, box car, combination express, mail and smoking car, and one coach. The refrigerator car jumped the track and was followed by the other cars. The track was torn up, the ties being caught and piled up between the box car and baggage car half way as high as the car. The trucks were torn off the refrigerator car and those on the box car were twisted around. The brakeman was standing in the door of the baggage car and when he saw the refrigerator car go off the track he jumped, rolling down a ten-foot embankment and spraining one leg. No one else was injured. A wrecking train came down from Lincoln and got the track cleared by Wednesday morning. Tuesday afternoon the train from the west ran up to the wrecked train, where passengers, baggage, express, mail, etc., were transferred and the train then went west getting to Nemaha about 6 o'clock. The wrecked train got through the next morning about on time.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equalled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me, though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters, and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney Troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Keeling, druggist.

The work of straightening the channel of the Nemaha river commenced here Wednesday morning. On Tuesday Mr. Moore of Falls City arrived in Nemaha with his big ditching outfit, consisting of a big plow manufactured especially for this purpose and twentyfour yoke of bulls. Wednesday morning they commenced work on the "Lockwood bend," south of Nemaha, cutting a ditch across it. In the afternoon they ploughed across the Howe bend and another bend farther north and Thursday went through the bend on the Seely farm, west and northwest of the Bennett bridge, and that afternoon went to Bracken, where they will run a ditch across F. E. Allen's farm, draining the lake. It is quite a sight to see the outfit at work. Forty-eight bulls are yoked to a big plow, twelve yoke abreast pulling on a big cable running through a block and tackle attached to an anchor and from there running back to the big plow which cuts a ditch about six feet wide and two feet deep, throwing the dirt up on both sides. Three drivers are between the two strings of cattle, swinging big whips and yelling at the top of their voices, calling the cattle by name and whipping those that do not pull. When the boss driver calls out "All together!" the cattle lean forward and begin to pull. They are well trained. It is surprising what a ditch is cut.

We understand the land owners will now hire men to dig the ditch deeper, with the expectation that when high water comes next spring it will be washed wider and carry off the surplus water. The work attracts a crowd.

SCHOOL NOTES

"The lovely things men build in days of strength are but the reproduction of the lovely thots that were whispered in their hearts in days of tender youth."

Mr. Frank Dressler paid us a visit last week. We haven't yet learned whether he was making an inspection in the interests of the school board or simply on a friendly call. However we would invite him to come again.

The three rooms gave a joint program Wednesday afternoon in the high school room. The room was decorated befitting the occasion with fruits of the harvest. A good number of patrons was present and all, pupils, patrons and teachers seemed to enjoy a pleasant evening. After the exercises school was dismissed till next Monday. In the meantime the inside work on the school house will be finished.

Thanksgiving week is here. Have we as a school anything to be thankful for? Now is a good time for a summing up. Look back over the year and count the things you haven't done that ought to have been done and those you did. How do the lists compare? Do you find anything in that to be thankful for? In our school, have we been blessed with good, well behaved, interested pupils, have we had kind, conscientious teachers, have we a board that has sought and is seeking to make our school a success, have we patrons who have by word and deed shown an interest in our school? If we answer these questions we should be able to decide.

Written excuses are required in some schools when a pupil is tardy or absent. The object is two-fold; to check inattentance and to serve as a medium of mutual understanding between teacher and parent. Children are sometimes tardy when the parent knows nothing about it and the teacher in her turn thinks the pupil was kept out to do some work. When the child has to bring a written excuse and the parent has to write it the child is going to try to be tardy just as seldom as possible and parent is going to see that it isn't as well. It also serves to stop truancy if there is any. No parent who gives the matter consideration will refuse to write an excuse if there is any excuse to offer.

Night was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind. "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me, and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Keeling's drug store.

Robbed the Grave

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to take Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a wellman. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed at Keeling's drug store.
