The school board last week decided not to have school begin Monday of this week because it was so hot, and Monday morning it was so cool that a fire felt very comfortable. But the school board are not weather prophets and could not see ahead.

Carl Skeen, son of B. T. Skeen of London precinct, and Miss Frankie Whitfield of Auburn were married Wednesday evening, Sept. 6, 1905, at the home of the bride's parents. The Advertiser extends hearty congratulations and best wishes to these worthy young people.

W. T. Russell had a stack of oats struck by lightning recently but without serious damage. The bolt struck the stick in the top of the stack charring it perfectly black and then burned a hole about three inches across to the bottom of the stack where it entered the ground without further damage.

John A. Farson had hard work getting the big stump out of the ground where Earle Gilbert is to have his store building. Monday afternoon several charges of dynamite were exploded in the stump but while they shattered it somewhat they did not help much and it had to be dug out, leaving a big hole. One of the shots of dynamite threw a big chunk of wood about 150 feet down the street and several men and boys did some lively running to keep from getting hit by it. It struck in front of the Masonic building.

Died—At his home in Verdon, August 26, 1905, Eli Corn aged 72 years, 6 months and 18 days. Mr. Corn was ill but a short time. The funeral was held Monday, August 28, at 1 p. m., at Salem conducted by Rev. Bonn.

The first fifteen years of his life was spent in Kentucky; from where he moved to Illinois, and from there to Nebraska. He lived in Nemaha City, Falls City and finally moved to Salem where he lived until a year or two ago. He was married to Miss Amanda Boyd in 1856.

Twelve children were given them: nine boys and three girls, three of the children being dead. He united with the Christian church of Salem, thirty-five years ago and has been a loyal member all that time. He is well known all over the country, and those who know him are grieved at the loss.

ROWEN-SANDERS

Married—At the home of the bride's father, Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1905, by Rev. J. W. Sapp, Mr. Alfred J. Rowen and Miss Nellie R. Sanders. The groom is the son of Rufus Rowen, one of the influential and prosperous farmers of Nemaha precinct. The bride is the only daughter of W. W. Sanders editor of The Advertiser.

Mr. Rowen has leased his father's farm, four miles southwest of Nemaha. The young couple will go to housekeeping at once.

The wedding was very quiet, only the immediate relatives being present. Many handsome presents were received.

Wednesday the infair dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Rowen.

May life's richest blessings be the portion of Alf and Nellie throughout a long life together.

A young fellow about 19 years old broke into the bunk car used by the B. & M. bridge gang Sunday morning and stole a pair of pants, suit of woolen underwear, razor, necktie, some tobacco and other articles, mostly belonging to John Gaskill, and struck out through the country. He was seen around the depot that morning, so when the robbery was discovered it was suspected that this was the fellow that got them. He started northwest, going out past the brick church. John Gaskill, Ed and Richard Knapp started after him, and ran across Sheriff Lawrence west of Brownville. They took three different roads and followed them, meeting at Peru by agreement, where they got their dinner. By inquiry at the depot it was learned that the fellow had gone up the track, so they got a handcar and followed him, but missed him, as he had gone to a farm house to get some dinner. They went almost to Nebraska City and then turned back, and ran across the fellow at Minersville. On being questioned he said he came from Falls City but did not come through Nemaha but Gaskill saw the razor in his pocket and recognized the pants the fellow had on, so the sheriff arrested him and took him to Auburn.

The Nemaha ball players covered themselves with glory at the Shubert carnival last week. The first game was played as Shubert vs. Falls City with five Nemaha players, with Aynes and Hadlock as battery for Shubert. The following is the score:

Shubert—0 2 0 1 2 2 6 1 x—14

Falls City—1 0 1 1 0 1 2 3 0—9

The second game Shubert played against Nemaha, Shubert taking all the players in town and Nemaha having to fill out with second nine players, with Broady and Hadlock as battery for Nemaha and L. Parriott G. Parriott and Eddie Maxwell as battery for Shubert.

Shubert—0 0 0 0 2 0 0 3—5

Nemaha—1 0 1 0 1 1 5 0 x—9

The third game was similar to the second with Shubert playing all the outside players and Nemaha playing all home men, filling out of the second nine. Aynes and Hadlock battery for Nemaha and G. Parriott, Cap Saylor, Brennen and Brunson as battery for Shubert.

Shubert—0 0 0 0 2 1 0 3 0—6

Nemaha—2 2 0 1 3 3 0 0—20

Charley Thomas, one of Nemaha's best players, was not able to play at all. In the last two games Guy Harper, one of Nemaha's players was playing with Shubert.

We have been looking over an old day book belonging to the late J. P. Hoover, who was a Nemaha merchant in early days. The accounts run from July 5, 1872, to June 9, 1873, and contain many interesting items. A frequent charge is for 1 pint whiskey 70 cents. Whiskey was then sold in grocery stores, the same as other goods. July 30, 1872, we find corn was worth 21 cents, to be "shelled, sacked and delivered at Nemaha City landing." Wheat was worth 85 cents; oats 12½ cents. Labor was paid for at $1.50 per day. Pine lumber was worth $35 per 1000 feet (kind not specified), and cottonwood lumber $20. Muslin 15 to 20 cents; gingham 20 to 35; calico 12½; bacon 9 to 11 cents per pound; coffee 25; tea $1.60 to $1.80; sugar 7 pounds for $1; soap 12½ cents per bar; 3 pounds granulated sugar cost 55 cents; nails 7 cents per pound; flour $1.65 to $3 per sack of 50 pounds; salt $3.25 per barrel; coal oil 40 cents per gallon; dried peaches 8 cents and dried apples 10 cents per pound; ladies overshoes $2 25 per pair; overalls $1.15 per pair; rope 25 cents per pound; axle grease 20 cents per box. Butter was worth 12½ to 15 cents; eggs 7 cents. This was before the great crime of 1873 took effect and also before the trusts got such a stronghold on the country. Who would like to go back to those good old times?

Eighty-one years do not rest heavily on Mrs. Janet Wycoff, 43 S. Addison st. Mrs. Wycoff is a remarkable woman. Born in 1824, when James Monroe was president of the United States, Mrs. Wycoff, in 1905, has not a silver thread in her hair. She steps quickly, with firmness, as though she were but middle-aged. She is in touch with all up-to-date topics, has many friends among the young as well as old people. She takes pride in the fact that she is the mother of twelve children, ten of whom are now living. They are, Mrs. Ellis White, Mrs. M. B. Hyde, wife of the pastor of Fletcher Place Methodist Church, Mrs. James Utterback and John R. Wycoff, who lives with his mother, all of Indianapolis; Mrs. T. B. Nugent, of Ashmore, Ill.; Mrs. Charles Swein, of Newton, Ill.; Mrs. John Adams and Andrew Wycoff, of Bloomington, Ind., and Ralph Wycoff, of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Mrs. Wycoff has 53 grandchildren, 46 of whom are living. She has 39 great-grandchildren, 33 of whom are living, and one great-great-grandchild. She is a member of the West Washington st. Presbyterian church and is a regular attendant twice on every Sunday.

Mrs. Wycoff was born in Scotland and came to the United States when 8 years old. She has lived in Indianapolis four years, having lived at Bloomington, Ind., for many years where she was a member in the First Presbyterian church. Her husband Nicholas Wycoff, died four years ago at the age of 80 years.—[The Indianapolis Sun.]

Mrs. Wycoff has three sisters and a brother, Mrs. James Miller of Rush, Texas, Mrs. Dr. W. W. Keeling of Nemaha, Nebr., Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of this city, and Captain R. R. Speirs of Columbus, Miss. The dead are Mrs. James Winterspoon of Moorefield, Ind., Mrs. Capt. Harper of Vinton, Iowa, Mrs. Dr. Charles Stewart of Auburn, Nebr. She also has relatives and friends all over Jefferson county.—Madison (Ind.) Courier.

EX-GOV. FURNAS.

But few men in the United States have lived longer, worked harder and done more for the cause of agriculture than Robert Wilkinson Furnas, ex-governor of Nebraska, who passed away June 1, aged 81 years. Last winter, the senior editor of this paper had the pleasure of meeting him while in attendance on the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture. We noted then with surprise the remarkable vigor, both of mind and body, which characterized his appearance at the meetings, which were held daily for a week.

Governor Furnas went to Nebraska in 1856. He was a printer and realizing the value of the press in the diffusion of agricultural ideas, he started the Nebraska Farmer in 1859, as a monthly. Now it is one of the most flourishing weekly papers devoted to agriculture in the west.

He served his state and country in a distinguished manner during the Civil war and has filled many, and very important positions in greatly varied capacities. He has been secretary of the State Board of Agriculture for twenty-two years.

His term of office as governor was characterized by vigor of administration, sagacity of foresight and absolute integrity. He was the terror of the grafting politician.

For many years he has been a noted man in the agricultural circles of the nation. He was a grand old man, and Nebraska will wait long before she finds another son who will serve his state and times with greater zeal and ability.—Hoard's Dairyman.
