

MRS. EMMA FLEISSNER
Suffered Over Two Years—Health Was in a Precarious Condition—Caused
By Pelvic Catarrh.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH RESTORED BY PE-RU-NA.

Mrs. Emma Fleissner, 1412 Sixth Ave., Seattle, Wash., Worthy Treasurer Sons of Temperance, writes:

"I suffered over two years with irregular and painful periods. My health was in a very precarious condition and I was anxious to find something to restore my health and strength.

"I was very glad to try Peruna and delighted to find that it was doing me good. I continued to use it a little over three months and found my troubles removed.

"I consider it a splendid medicine and shall never be without it, taking a dose occasionally when I feel rundown and tired."

Our files contain thousands of testimonials which Dr. Hartman has received from grateful, happy women who have been restored to health by his remedy, Peruna.

On Ascension Island sea turtles are caught in very large numbers. They each weigh between 500 and 800 pounds, and their average price is 50 shillings.

The largest rain-tubs, the bucket-folds that we tell about, are about one-fifth of an inch in diameter. They are measured by all wing them to fall in flur. Each drop forms a pellet of dough. These pellets are compared with others obtained from drops of known size.

Probably the best treatment for a sty is to bathe the eye frequently with warm boracic lotion (five grains to one ounce of water) and apply at night a piece of boracic lint wound out of boiling water; cover with a piece of jaconet and a pad of cotton-wool on top and fix with a bandage.

Some of the Chinamen in the Philippines are adepts at this. One of their tricks is to remove whiskers from a bottle and substituting vinegar without breaking the seal. They do this by soaking off the label and drilling a tiny hole in the side of the bottle. They then take out the whisky and substitute a liquid similar in color, fill up the hole and cover it with the label.

THE SECRET OF YOUR HEALTH.

De Soto looked for the secret of youth in a spring of gushing, life-giving waters, which he was sure he would find in the New World. Alchemists and sages (thousands of them) have spent their lives in quest of it, but it is only found by those happy people who can digest and assimilate the right food which keeps the physical body perfect that peace and comfort are the sure results.

A remarkable man of 94 says: "For many long years I suffered more or less with chronic costiveness and painful indigestion. This condition made life a great burden to me, as you may well imagine.

"Two years ago I began to use Grape-Nuts as food, and am thankful that I did. It has been a blessing to me in every way. I first noticed that it had restored my digestion. This was a great gain, but was nothing to compare in importance with the fact that in a short time my bowels were restored to free and normal action.

"The cure seemed to be complete for two years I have had none of the old trouble. I use the Grape-Nuts food every morning for breakfast and frequently eat nothing else. The use has made me comfortable and happy, and although I will be 94 years old next fall I have become strong and supple again, erect in figure and can walk with anybody and enjoy it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

JUDICIAL DECISIONS

The right to a writ of mandamus to compel the arrest without warrant of certain designated persons for the alleged commission of a misdemeanor is denied in State ex rel. Livingstone vs. Williams (Ore.), 67 L. R. A., 166.

The insertion in a renewal lease of a clause giving the tenant the right to remove trade fixtures is held, in Riley vs. McCurdy (Pa.), 67 L. R. A., 359, not to be necessary to enable him to remove, before the termination of the extended period, fixtures which he might have removed before the expiration of the original term.

One who employs a person in ignorance of the fact that he is under a time contract to work for another, in violation of which he has left the latter's service, is held in Wolf vs. New Orleans Tailor-Made Pants Co. (La.), 97 L. R. A., 65, not to be liable in damages to the former employer because when informed of the servant's breach of contract he fails to discharge him, since, though offering to release his new employer, he expresses his determination not to return to the one whose service he has abandoned.

A Supreme Court which has arrested a judgment of conviction in a criminal case because of a fatal defect in the indictment as presented to it, is held, in State vs. March (N. C.), 67 L. R. A., 179, to have the power, even after the close of the term, to grant the State an opportunity to correct the record so as to show that the alleged defect did not exist and proceed to hear the appeal upon the correct record. The amendment of a record to cure defect for which motion in arrest of judgment has been made is the object of a note to this case.

Glad He Was No Longer President.

"From what I know of his tastes and tendencies, I am not at all surprised that Grover Cleveland should prefer to keep out of politics," recently remarked a friend of the ex-President. "I remember that when he stepped out of office at the end of the second term as chief executive he felt vastly relieved. His spirits rose with a bound. A few days after the inauguration of President McKinley, Mr. Cleveland was in New York, and I happened to walk down Broadway with him. He was beaming, and was taking note of the interesting things about him, with all the zest of a big, hearty boy just out of school. The shop windows were engaging not a little of his attention. Upon a glance into one of them, that of a photographer, he stopped short. In the window was an oil painting of himself.

"Well, well," he exclaimed, with a laugh, "here is the most interesting thing we've seen yet! It's old Grover. Let's see what he looks like." Mr. Cleveland and his portrait stared at each other for a moment, and then the ex-President remarked with a chuckle: "So this is the man we have all heard so much about: I must say that this picture makes him out a good deal better-looking than some of the portraits I have seen of him in the newspapers. He looks healthy, but a little worried. I would be willing to wager that he's glad he's no longer President."—Success Magazine.

Disliked the Flavor.

When a cherubic youth of 4 was brought in as a candidate, says the Columbia Ledger, the kindergarten teacher fell in love with him at sight. "O you darling!" she cried. "Have you any brothers like you?" "Yes'm," he replied. "Me and Billy and Jimmy. I like Jimmy best." "And why do you like Jimmy best?" "Cause he did such an errand for me. He hit Billy's leg." "But, deary," protested the teacher, "why should you want Jimmy to bite Billy's leg?" "Cause I hate the taste of Billy's leg," replied the cherub.

Only a Few Left.

"But, doctor, how does it happen that after so many years' practice you have no honorary degree?" "Ah, I have so many enemies in this world!" "And in the next world—?"—Tales.

Within His Rights.

The Judge—Was your chauffeur guilty in this accident?
The Prisoner—No, your honor, the victim was run over in entire compliance with the ordinance.—Tales.

An excellent remedy for burns is to pour equal parts of luscious and cold boiled water into a bottle and shake well before applying to the spot.

One invention sometimes makes another necessary. A gramophone which can be heard a distance of three miles is the latest. Now, what is needed is a sound deadener with a three mile range, to smother the noise of the gramophone.

GREAT SONG WRITER.

Paul Dresser, the Popular Composer, Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills. Paul Dresser of New York, author of "Banks of the Wabash" and many other great song hits, writes: "Gentlemen: I wish to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, in the hope that my endorsement will be read by some of the many thousands of sufferers from kidney complaint. I was so wretched from this malady that I could not sleep, rest or eat, and had a weak and aching back. Doan's Kidney Pills effectually cured me, and I wish that others may know." Mischiefous Legislation Threatened.

Legislation is threatened in many States during this coming winter for the suppression of the so-called "patent" medicines. The success of such legislation would mean the abolition of the home medicine chest and would force persons, no matter how remote their homes from a physician, to call in a doctor for every minor ailment. The legislation as proposed would mean frequent long delays awaiting the arrival of a physician, when a simple remedy administered by a member of the household would accomplish the result desired, or at least give temporary relief.

Many Know This—Do You?

The following very interesting conversation between Mr. White, banker, and Mr. Waiter Wellman, retired, two prominent citizens of the town, was recently overheard: "I never buy patent medicine," said Mr. White. "Which I feel the need of medical assistance I call our physician. I don't believe in taking a lot of stuff that I know nothing about. I know, however, that a great many do use it, and apparently with good results, but I am for getting a doctor every time."

"Your circumstances render this possible," replied Mr. Wellman, "but the majority of people must consider the expense. My experience is that some patent medicines frequently cure what the doctor's skill is unable to. Take, for instance, an affliction; say like constipation and stomach trouble. Did you ever hear of your family doctor curing a case like that?
