Mrs. Rufus Rowen has been quite sick for two or three days.

Dr. Frazier reports the birth of a son to J. W. Courtney and wife, Thursday morning.

The grape harvest will now begin, but the main shipments will be peaches and a little later apples.

There is considerable sickness in Nemaha and vicinity but nothing serious that we have heard of.

Miss Faye Coulders of Auburn returned home Tuesday after a few days' visit with Dr. Frazier and wife.

Hill's drug store now has a phone—No. 42—so we can call up the druggist or doctor when we need anything in that line.

Found, by Wm. Aukrom, near Jake Handley's farm, a coat. Owner can have same on paying for this notice by calling at Kerker's meat market.

NOTICE

I would thank the party who took my ladder from the ice house without leave or license to return the same. P. KERKER.

Jim and Weldon Shiveley are now arranging to ship peaches by the car load. They have plenty of fine ones. The Beatrice canning factory ordered a car load of seedlings.

Peter Kerker got a long letter from Fred C. Scovill, now at Pueblo, Colo., a few days ago. Fred says he is doing well. He has a barber shop, working four men. He sends regards to all old friends.

Gilbert and Genevieve McCandless got enough of the Epworth Assembly at Lincoln and came home Wednesday evening. The rest of the folks are expected back today, as the assembly closed last night.

Peter Kerker's team took a motion to run a few days ago while Burl Curtright and Jim Collins were driving them. They didn't run far, but ran into a spring wagon of Pinkney Shiveley's, knocking nine spokes out of one wheel and bending the spindle in bad shape. No other damage was done.

The account of the old settlers picnic at Nemaha, sent from Auburn to the Lincoln News contains the following:

The principal address was given by ex-governor Crouse and was one fitting for such a gathering, the political side being entirely ignored. The oldest of the old settlers had a private meeting and recalled that forty-nine years ago the first picnic was held on that same ground and there was present both at the picnic yesterday and the one forty-nine years the following persons who greatly enjoyed living over old times: W. T. Russell, G. F. Bixby, David Jack, Mrs. J. M. Fuller, E. M. McComas, B. T. Skeen, Hugh Baker, James Culwell, R. T. Rainey, J. B. Cummings, Isaac Cooper, Dr. W. W. Keeling, Taylor Skeen, Henry Cole, Green Edwards, B. F. McIninch, Jerry Marlatt, D. H. McLaughlin, Henry Stiles, P. G. Swan, Nathan Sedoris, Fred Hoover, Casner Barnes.

Green Edwards had the distinction of living in the country longer than any other man.

The "underground railroad" which was operated in the days of John Brown, was recalled as Nemaha City was one of the stations where the negroes were halted during the day and during the night the march continued to Nebraska City and thence across the river.

[Mrs. J. M. Sanders, mother of the editor of the Advertiser, and who is keeping house for him, was also present at that celebration 49 years ago and at the picnic last week.]

Mrs. Jane I. May and Miss Stella Washburn went to Hastings Tuesday to visit Eliza Washburn.

E. L. Paris started for western Nebraska Tuesday to look at the country with a view of locating.

Alva Maxwell sent a basket of fine apricots from Colorado to his parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell divided them up with their friends. The Advertiser force was remembered. The apricots were delicious.

The Beatrice Creamery Co. will pay 16 cents per pound of butter fat for hand separator cream, delivered in Nemaha. Separators sold on easy terms. R. E. BUCHER, Agent.

The races at the State Fair the first week in September promise to be as good as can be found in the west. The management advertise fifteen harness and six running events. The "Derby" for Tuesday is attracting considerable attention.

The farmer who is searching for a good draft stallion, or who is interested in such an animal, will greatly profit by a visit to the State Fair the first week in September, where already over 100 stalls are reserved for the very best animals of this description to be found in the west.

Eli Knapp, wife and son, of Jewell county, Kansas, arrived in Nemaha Tuesday evening on a visit to M. W. Knapp and family. Eli and M. W. are brothers. Mr. Knapp has been at Hot Springs, Arkansas, for his health, and was improving, but had to leave on account of the extremely hot weather.

A. V. Farson, sr., and wife, who have been carrying water a distance of over a block, are now rejoicing that they will no longer have this to do. Wes Clark bored them a good well last week. They have over ten feet of water, at a depth of 45 feet, and it is fine water, too. No town has better water than Nemaha.

The Missouri Pacific hotel at Auburn was burned last Friday afternoon, fire catching in the upper part of the building which was a two story structure near the M. P. depot. Nothing was saved in the upper story. The loss is about $5,000, on which there was $2,500 insurance. The hotel was owned by J. C. Killarney and operated by W. G. Welch.

The delegates from Johnson county to the republican state convention were instructed for Ellis E. Good for state treasurer. They were also instructed for Norris Brown for United States Senator, George L. Sheldon for governor and J. L. McBrien for superintendent of public instruction. Congressman Pollard was endorsed and congressional delegation instructed to vote for his renomination.

A correspondent of the Nebraska City Tribune says: "We noticed a striking example of the efficacy of the split log drag on our road this week where the corn haulers passed over it and at the same time over that next to it which had not been dragged. Where the drag had been used the wagons did not make ruts while that where not dragged showed readily the effects of the wagon wheels."

Quite a shipment of walnut logs has been hauled in the past week from the Robt. Bennett place, west of this city, who, in turn, has disposed of the timber to a hardwood commission merchant. It reminded old settlers of the days when the bluffs along the Missouri river were clothed in solid timber and logging was quite an industry. Where once grew forests now grows fruit, while perhaps not quite so picturesque it is decidedly more profitable.—Auburn Herald.

The Granger in trying to make it appear that the postmasters were much in evidence in the republican convention at Auburn last week, says W. W. Sanders, postmaster at Nemaha, headed the delegation from this precinct and cast the vote for Pollard. As Sanders was not a delegate and as the entire vote of the precinct was cast for Jessen, it is evident that Dundas is simply making some mere wild guesses. He dreams dreams and sees visions and publishes them as the truth. But as nobody pays much attention to what the Granger says, it is hardly worth while correcting the false assertions.

A corps of C. B. & Q. surveyors are in Nemaha, working on the road between here and Bracken. The long bridge that was put in this side of Bracken will be lowered, as the grade each side has settled and the bridge is a little high. The bridge gang has been here for two or three weeks.

The regular monthly meeting of the Nemaha County Holiness Association will be held at Brownville M. E. church, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 14 and 15, 1906.

We notice that our old friend J. V. Graff has been renominated for congressman from the 16th Illinois district. From 1884 to 1887 the editor lived in South Auburn. Dr. McKean, J. V. Graff, who was an attorney, Geo. Fablinger, a real estate agent, and the editor were more or less chums. In 1887 the doctor moved to Omaha and in two or three years went to Siam as a medical missionary, where he is now. J. V. Graff moved first to Tobeka, Kansas, that same summer, and a few months later to Pekin, Illinois, and a few years later was elected congressman and has been reelected for every term since. In September, 1887, the editor moved back to Nemaha. Geo. Fablinger lived in Oregon for a few years, but most of the time has been a resident of Auburn.

A Lincoln ticket agent, who has been studiously reading the new interstate commerce law, says that after August 28 half rates for ministers and others to whom half fares have been granted will not be permitted. That is the way he interprets the act and he has had his opinion corroborated by a local attorney who has also looked into the matter. The ticket agent says:

"Part of the law is effective August 28. That part of the law prohibiting passes is not effective until January 1. In one section the law makes exceptions relating to passes, but I see nowhere that half rates or special rates are excepted. It may be legal to give passes to ministers and it may not, depending on the final interpretation of the law. It appears to me, however, that after August 28 we cannot issue half rates to preachers. If the roads want to give them passes that may be permitted. I don't think the roads will be so generous as that."

Ticket agents say that the elimination of half and special rates will lighten their bookkeeping work.—State Journal.

Calveston's Sea wall makes life now as safe in that city as on the higher uplands. E. W. Goodloe, who resides on Dutton St., in Waco, Tex., needs no sea wall for safety. He writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption the past five years and it keeps me well and safe. Before that time I had a cough which for years had been growing worse. Now it's gone." Cures chronic Coughs, LaGrippe, Croup, Whooping Cough and prevents Pneumonia. Pleasant to take. Every bottle guaranteed at Hill Bro's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Congressman Pollard has the endorsement of every county in the First district with the exception of Otoe. We go to press Thursday afternoon, and the congressional convention meets at Auburn that night. There is of course no doubt of his renomination. No one has attacked his record as congressman or his votes in such capacity in a single instance. But a strong effort was made to defeat him for the nomination. It was reported first that he would have trouble getting the Cass county delegation, as he and Sheldon, his cousin, both lived in that county, but both were endorsed. Then Holmes tried for the Lancaster delegation, but the people of that county were evidently satisfied with Pollard and refused to give Holmes another show. Then Judge Jessen of Nebraska City, one of the ablest and best men in public life in the state, was persuaded to announce his candidacy, upon the positive assurance that he would get Nemaha, Johnson, Pawnee and Richardson counties, besides his own county of Otoe, of which there was no doubt. But when Nemaha county republicans met last week they endorsed Pollard. On Saturday Johnson county endorsed Pollard, on Monday Richardson county followed suit, and Tuesday Pawnee did likewise. Otoe county instructed for Jessen. Under ordinary circumstances Nemaha would have been for Jessen for anything he wanted, but considered that Pollard had voted right and worked for the interests of the people, and they stood by him.

Hereafter when you open a letter that you take from your postoffice box you want to be sure that it is your own letter for if you should open some other persons mail you are subject to a fine of $200. The postoffice department has ordered that all mail must be examined when taken from the box and before you take it from the building and if there is any mail therein not belonging to you it must be returned to the postmaster, if you should overlook any and open some other person's letter you may have to pay the $200 fine. This is a good rule for it will make people more careful.—Ex.

TO REPUBLICANS:

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory. JAMES S. SHERMAN, Chairman. P. O. Box 2063, New York.

PLEASE TRIM YOUR TREES

"Please trim your trees," is a plea that is gradually ripening into a demand. Throughout the city, in many places, shade trees are so neglected as to be a nuisance to pedestrians.

"It is absolutely impossible to carry an umbrella," said one fair complainant. "On the occasion of a heavy rain, one is compelled on certain streets to choose the alternative of walking in the muddy street or lowering the umbrella and take a wetting under the trees, the branches are left to hang so low."—Neb. City News.

The above would apply equally well to Nemaha. It is a nuisance that should be abated.
