Have you selected all your XMAS GIFTS

Christmas is less than two weeks away now and as the day draws near late buyers begin to bestir themselves. This means busy times for us and precludes our giving each customer the attention and time usually given them. Therefore we urge you, those who have not made all their purchases, to do so at once

The vexing question, "What shall I buy for mother, father, sister and brother," or any friend, may be easily settled by a visit to our store now. Our stocks are not by any means depleted and if you will come this week you will be assured of good selections
