"THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET."

Brought Down to Date in the Light of Medical Hagnanoos.

How dear to my heart are the scenes of my childhood.

When fond recollection presents them to view:

The orchard, the meadow, the deep tangled wildwood.

And all the loved spots that my infancy knew.

Yet one thing I can but recall with a shudder—

I wonder I live now the story to tell: Of how I oft drank from the old oaken bucket.

The germ-breeding bucket that hung in the well.

How oft as a boy, when returning from working.

I came from the meadows where long I had toiled.

And seized the rude bucket where microbes were lurking.

To drink of the water, unfiltered, un-boiled!

I might have caught typhoid, marasmus, or measles:

I wonder that ever I lived to grow up.

For using that unhygienic old bucket.

Instead of employing a sterilized cup.

I thought it was sweet from the brim to receive it;

The draught so refreshing could not fail to please;

Oh, foolish I was, for I could not believe it;

That water no doubt contained germs of disease.

'Twas strange that in days of my earliest childhood

The bells of the village had not tolled my knell

For drinking bacteria out of that bucket.

The non-sterile bucket that hung in the well.

REFRAIN.

The old oaken bucket, the germ-laden bucket.

The death-dealing bucket that hung in the well.

TRUTH ABOUT TRAPPING.

Mr. W. H. Wright, the noted grizzly bear hunter, declares in the World Work that the trapper of to-day lacks every characteristic which romance has interwoven with his name. He says: "People who have not seen can form no idea of the suffering trappers cause, nor of their ruthless destruction of game. Nothing escapes them; even the squirrels are sacrificed to bait traps for marten and fisher; and not only the squirrels but all kinds of birds, whether game or song birds.

In trapping mink, otter, beaver and a few other fur-bearing animals, the trap is nearly always set near the water, where the animal when caught is soon drowned, so that its suffering is soon ended. But with bear, marten and fisher it is different. One must drag a heavy clog about until it catches in some root or bush. There he must wait until the trapper comes to kill him, and this in some cases is not for days. The bones of the leg are almost invariably broken by the trap, and the leg swells to incredible size.

One trapper in one day shot nine, ten large blue grouse, merely to try a new rifle. The birds were nesting; he had no use for them, and not one did he even bring to camp.

Three years ago, in British Columbia, an old trapper camped near our bear-hunting party. He shot everything he could find, even little ducks and marmots. A goat he killed fell over a cliff; and as it was harder to recover it than to shoot another, he shot another. He was trapping beaver out of season.

I have seen the spot where a bear, fast in a trap, had been caught for more than a week in a thicket through which it was impossible to drag the trap and clog. I knew an old French trapper who shot seventy-three moose and elk in one winter, for bear bait for the spring catch.

Bishop of Wheeling.

Some years ago when bicycling was more popular than it is to-day, Bishop Donahue of Wheeling, W. Va., essayed to learn to ride. He had the usual experiences of a novice. Some days later a friend, who had seen the bishop performing feats on a wheel, asked, "Bib, do you wheel now?" "Certainly," replied the dignitary. "I am bishop of Wheeling."—Boston Globe.

The Bird Inside.

Mr. Kidder—That cat you insisted upon having about the house is around your canary bird now.

Mrs. Kidder—She is? Oh, drive her away!

Mr. Kidder—Too late. I say she's already round your canary.—Philadelphia Press.

An application of the new analysis recently adopted by the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor to the trade of the United States, from 1870 to 1906, shows that articles in the natural state formed but 25.72 per cent of the imports in 1870 and 45.62 per cent in 1906; while of the exports, articles in the natural state formed 67.85 per cent in 1870 and 39.88 per cent in 1906.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Profit by the Experience of One Who Has Found Relief.

James R. Keeler, retired farmer, of Fenner street, Cazenovia, N. Y., says: "About fifteen years ago I suffered with my back and kidneys. I doctored and used many remedies without getting relief. Beginning with Doan's Kidney Pills, I found relief from the first box, and two boxes restored me to good, sound condition. My wife and many of my friends have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, and I can earnestly recommend them."

ATTRACTIONS OF WESTERN CANADA.

Magnificent Crop Returns for the Year 1906.

The manner in which the Canadian West has attracted settlers in recent years has caused many of our journals and public men to sit up and take notice, to use a current phrase. From every European country and from almost every State in the Union large numbers of settlers have flocked to the prairie provinces of Canada, where free homesteads and wide opportunities are open to all who desire to avail themselves of them.

The greatest factor in attracting settlers lies in the inherent richness of soil and suitability of climate for producing what is universally considered to be the finest wheat in the world—the "No. 1 hard" of Canadian growth—and other cereals that rank in the very first class. This year the harvest returns were: Wheat, 90,000,000 bushels; oats, 75,000,000 bushels; barley, 17,000,000 bushels; and when it is considered that the entire population of the three provinces—as evidenced by the quinquennial census just completed—is only 810,000, it is easily seen that the lure of the Canadian West is in its agricultural potentialities.

Another feature which attracts the settler is that railway construction is proceeding with such rapidity that almost every district is within easy reach of outside markets, and that good prices for all lines of farm products rule practically from the commencement of agricultural operations. This is a factor which did not prevail when the earlier settlements in the West were made in Canada and in the United States, and has given a great impetus to Canadian Western settlement in recent years.

The free grant system of homesteads which prevails in the prairie provinces, by which every settler who is able and willing to comply with the conditions of actual settlement (by no means onerous) is given 160 acres free, except $10 for entry, is a great drawing card, and in the last fiscal year gathered in over 180,000 additional to the Western population, of which 57,796 were from the United States.

The further fact, as is strongly brought out by the agent of the Canadian Government, whose address appears elsewhere, that a splendid common school system, practically free, prevails throughout the entire country, and is easy of access in even the most remote districts, is another great inducement to the settler who has the future welfare of his family in mind, and this, coupled with the fact that Western Canadian law and order are proverbial, completes a circle of good and sufficient reasons why the tide of immigration has set in so steadily toward the country to the north of our boundary line.

HORSE STEALER CAUGHT

HALL COUNTY SHERIFF TAKES EARL GODDARD FROM CUSTER

J. R. Goddard Released for Lack of Evidence—Agent at Calloway Dismissed by Union Pacific

BROKEN BOW, Neb.—In the case of J. R. and Earl Goddard, who have been in the custody of Sheriff Richardson at this place charged with being implicated in the Union Pacific safe blowing at Calloway, the county prosecutor concluded the chain of circumstantial evidence to be so incomplete as to dispense with a preliminary hearing. The old man was accordingly released, but Earl Goddard, the son, has been positively identified by Charles Wescott of Grand Island as the man who took a horse and buggy from him some time ago. Sheriff Dunkel of Grand Island came from there and took his prisoner away on No. 42 Howard the alleged leader of the safe crackers, is still at large. It now appears that between four and five hundred dollars were taken away from the Union Pacific safe at Calloway and Agent Grimes of that place, according to his statement, has been dismissed because he would not make good the amount stolen.

Coopers on Strike

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—The coopers, at the Morton-Gregson packing house, went on a strike over some petty grievance. Eight men walked out. The packing company put other men to work and have declared it an "open shop" and in the future will ignore the union and will allow all comers to work. They experienced no trouble on account of the strike.

Miss Stella Clark, a young lady who attended the cigar stand at the Watson hotel took a dose of laudanum and tried to end her life. She has been very despondent of late and was sick for a few days. She purchased three bottles from different drug stores and took the contents of one. She was found shortly after taking the poison and physicians saved her life. The young lady has been a resident of this city for the past six months and came here from Falls City where it is said she attempted to take her life about a year ago.

Assault Made on Japanese

TACOMA, Wash.—Manager Chester, of the Alder Mill company, thirty-five miles south of Tacoma, says that there was a little trouble there, caused by a few hangers on at a saloon, who would not work and who assaulted two Japanese in an endeavor to drive them away. Two deputy sheriffs arrived and the Japanese are now at work in the yard doing common labor, for which other men could not be secured. Mr. Chester says the mill crew is satisfied and the mill is running all right.

The employment of Japanese laborers is not a new thing on the line of the Tacoma Eastern railroad. They have been doing section work for several years, and there is hardly a mill among the twenty-five on the line that does not employ from ten to a dozen Japanese.

Teller of Bank Missing

KANSAS CITY—William O. Anderson, collection teller of the First National bank of this city, is missing, and E. F. Swinney, the president, admitted that he was short $9,000 in his accounts. Mr. Anderson, who has been in the employ of the bank for nineteen years left the city recently supposedly on a hunting trip. It developed that he had abstracted $9,000 from the bank's funds, taking the money in three lots during the week. Anderson is forty-nine years old, and has a wife and grown daughter here. The bank officials have sworn out a warrant for his arrest and claim to know where he is. Anderson was under bond in a surety company.

Creditors Demand Money

PARIS.—The reply of Maitre Cruppi, counsel for Count Boni de Castellane and the former countess, in the suit of their creditors consumed the entire session of the tribunal of first instance of the Seine. Mr. Cruppi described how the tradesmen's and users' bills had been cleverly mixed up, and reiterated the perfect willingness of Madame Anna Gould to settle the legitimate debts although a delay was necessary as there were no funds from the trustee of the estate at the disposal at present. Counsel argued that it was unjust and illegal to attempt to make Madame Gould responsible for the enormous sums borrowed by Count Boni of users to meet his "mad extravagances and princely prodigality."

BIG DAM IS OUT

TOWN OF CLIFTON, ARIZ., BADLY SWEEP BY FLOOD

Fifty Reported to Be Lost

WIRES DOWN AND IMPOSSIBLE TO GET THE DETAILS

Concentrator Dam Goes Out, Sending Wall of Water Down the Creek—Heavy Rains in Canal Zone

PHOENIX, Ariz.—It is reported that fifty persons have been drowned in the floods at Clifton, Ariz. Attempt to confirm have been futile, as all wires are down.

EL PASO, Texas.—From information received here it is believed that the town of Clifton, Arizona, has been practically washed away. The Copper Queen hotel is said to have been swept away by the flood and at least fifty persons lost their lives. The concentrator dam which gave way, precipitating the great flood on the town, was constructed entirely of earth. The dam was carried away two years ago as a result of the swollen streams and a number of persons were drowned.

A message received here from Tucson, Arizona, says the town of Clifton is half destroyed. The report that between fifty and sixty persons were drowned is partially confirmed.

GLOBE, Arizona.—A message from the operator at Solomonville, Arizona, reports eighteen persons drowned in the floods at Clifton, but gives no details of property damage, which however, is believed to be great. Half the town, principally the business section, the message says, is destroyed.

No Details of Damage—MORENO, Arizona.—Eight lives are reported to have been lost in a great flood at Clifton. The Detroit concentrator dam broke, sending a wall of water down Chaso creek. Wires are down between Morenci and Clifton and no definite news can be obtained until the messengers return from Clifton. The Central telephone station at Clifton has been abandoned, having been pronounced unsafe.

From Seven to Twenty Dead—BISSBEE, Ariz.—One of the worst floods in the history of Clifton, Ariz., came down the San Francisco river and Chase creek. The principal business section of the town was almost completely ruined. From even to twenty persons is the report of the loss of life. The name of only one victim however, has been obtained. Mrs. Joseph Thom, who, with her husband and children, was caught in a falling building and killed. The other members of the family had narrow escapes. One of the saloons which was washed away carried several men into the torrent and they are believed to have been lost. A woman and child were lost in a small restaurant which was dashed to pieces in the flood. A number of small buildings in which people were known to be living, were also destroyed and it is believed that a number of families perished.

The Coronado railway, from Clifton to Longfellow is destroyed. It will be several weeks before business can be resumed over the road. The financial loss cannot be estimated.

Counsel and Court Clash

OMAHA, Neb.—Constant bickerings between the attorneys making it necessary for Judge Sutton to interfere half a dozen times, delayed the progress of the trial of S. E. Nowell, charged with violating the state trust laws, in district court. The case promises to be the hardest fought of any trial seen in district court for many a day. Objections by County Attorney Slabaugh punctuate the opening address of W. J. Connell, attorney for the defense, and when the state's first witness Walter Willis former secretary of the coal exchange, went on the stand almost every question asked him was vigorously attacked as improper by the defense. Once during Mr. Connell's opening address the discussion became so heated that Judge Sutton threatened to fine Mr. Connell for contempt for refusing to pay attention to the direct questions of the court. After that the fight cooled down some, but it still continued to be warm and every inch of ground covered by either side was contested to the finish.

Mr. Connell resumed his opening statement when the court convened in the morning. The jury was on hand early.

LIMB WASTED WITH ECZEMA.

Suffered Untold Agonies—Doctor Said It Was the Worst Case—Wonderful Cure by Cuticura

"I used the Cuticura Remedies for eczema. The doctor said it was the worst case he ever saw. It was on both limbs, from the knees to the ankles. We tried everything the doctors knew of, but the Cuticura Remedies did the most good. I was obliged to lie with my limbs higher than my head, for the pain was so terrible I could not walk. I suffered untold agonies. One limb wasted away a great deal smaller than the other, there was so much discharge from it. I found the Cuticura Remedies very soothing, and I still keep them in the house. I am very thankful to say that I am cured. I found the Cuticura Remedies all that you say they are. I hope that you may be spared many years to make the Cuticura Remedies for the benefit of persons suffering from the torture of skin diseases, such as I had. Mrs. Golding, Box 8, Ayr, Ontario, Canada, June 6, 1905."
