Our draymen say they always have coal, lumber, or sand to unload when the roads are in the worst condition.

C. L. Russell went to Omaha Tuesday, to see what kind of performance they go through at the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities.

Parties who raised a good crop of potatoes this year are like those having a good crop of fruit—they have a bonanza.

The best and strongest fence is the American. Get our prices. A full stock on hand. E. & B. Lbr. Co.

Marion Minick went to Nebraska City Tuesday and has gone to work in Wash McCullum's livery barn. He will probably stay there this winter.

Wm. Filmer has sold his farm near St. Deroin.

Miss Nora Aynes visited Auburn Wednesday.

Grandpa Lester returned to Brownville Tuesday.

J. W. Courtney is a new subscriber to The Advertiser.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hawxby went to Omaha Monday.

Dr. J. W. Bourne of Auburn was a Nemaha visitor Wednesday.

D. E. Littrell went to Omaha Monday, returning Wednesday morning.

Miss Minnie May went to Peru Wednesday morning, returning in the evening.

Mrs. Lee R. Parriott went to Peru Tuesday to visit her parents for a few days.

Charles P. Thompson and Ray Anderson went to Omaha Monday to buy some cattle.

Miss Hazel Parker of Auburn visited her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Berger, from Saturday until Monday.

W. S. Argabright started for Jefferson county, Kansas, Wednesday, to look at some land with a prospect of buying a farm there.

Mail clerks are now weighing all the mails on trains. The weighing commenced at midnight Monday and will continue 30 days.

The Clarinda Poultry Co. have made arrangements to buy poultry in Nemaha again, beginning next Wednesday. See their advertisement.

We learn that Ora Thorp has sold his Colorado farm. He paid about $22 per acre for the eighty about two years ago, and sold for $100 per acre. That is making money pretty fast.

C. F. Zook, who has been working at Peru, came home Wednesday forenoon. The work he has been doing is outside and it was so slippery and wet he concluded to lay off until the weather got better.

W. H. Barker and Alva went to Shubert Monday night, returning the next morning.

Rev. J. W. Sapp closed his meetings at Phelps, Mo., Sunday night and returned home the next day.

Our fisherman are bringing in some nice fish these days. Joe Littrell caught a sixteen pound carp, Sunday morning.

Mrs. J. H. Linn of Lincoln was the guest of her friend Miss Minnie May Monday and until train time Tuesday forenoon.

Miss Jessie Speece of Ord, Nebr., was the guest of her friend, Miss Mamie French, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The roads were nasty and muddy the first of the week. But it has been only a few days since we were kicking about the dust.

We had slow drizzling rains from Sunday moaning until Thursday, and the weather was so cool that fires were necessary for comfort.

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Dressler went to Omaha Friday of last week to visit Willard for a few days. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

Rev. G. W. Ayers returned home Tuesday morning after a week's absence at Lincoln attending the annual Methodist conference. He was returned to Nemaha for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Russell, who have been visiting at Guide Rock and Custer county, Neb., for the past two weeks, returned home Wednesday. They are well pleased with the country they saw on their trip.

Steve Cooper returned home Thursday morning from Nemaha county, Kansas, where he has been looking for a farm. He bargained for one of 160 acres, eleven miles south of Sabetha. His own farm is now for sale.

Jno. W. Ritchey went to St. Joe Saturday morning and bought a good stock of fall and winter goods. He returned Tuesday evening. His father-in-law, Geo Crow, who has been stopping in St. Joe for some time, returned home with him.

Ed Bourne, of Comanche, Okla, arrived in the city the latter part of last week, to attend the funeral of his mother. He was a candidate for state senator in his district in the recent election but was defeated by his democratic opponent.—Auburn Republican.

C. P. Barker had two breakdowns Tuesday. First his mail wagon broke down, while going over a bridge. He fixed it up with wire, but shortly after as he was pulling through a mud hole one tug gave way. Press fixed this up and then took the shortest route home.

Hon Church Howe left Auburn for Washington Tuesday, being called there to accompany a company of English manufacturers to New Orleans. He had expected to stay here about two weeks longer but could not refuse when duty called. The trip will be a very pleasant one, undoubtedly.

Winter is Coming

So you had better begin to get ready for it. You will not find a better place to satisfy your wants than our store.

Both Phones No. 20

NEMAHA, NEB.

A copy of the Review of Vernon, Nevada, of Sept. 28, gives notice of the organization of a strong mining company, to be known as the Vernon Mining company, with a capitalization of 1,000,000 shares of a par value of $1 each. The new company has bought two valuable mines and leased others. What makes this of interest locally is that Bert Smith, a nephew of Mrs. Dan Maxwell and a brother of Ed Smith, of the firm of Smith & Lynch of Auburn, is secretary-treasurer of the new company.

Methodist Appointments.

The annual Methodist conference, which met at Lincoln Wednesday of last week, adjourned Monday afternoon. The appointments were read just previous to adjournment.
