

Dr. Bourne fits glasses. So. Auburn
Call and see us when in town.

If you know an item of news tell the editor.

Corn shuckers are doing good work this kind of weather.

W. B. Norval has moved on the old Young farm northeast of town.

For rent—A good 4-room cottage, with good barn, etc. Inquire at this office.

Eli Knapp has sold his barber shop at Stella but has not yet decided what he will do.

Presiding Elder Wright preached at the Methodist church at Brownville Tuesday night.

It snowed some Sunday and Monday, but not enough to make much of a show on the ground.

Let us figure your lumber bills and show you we can save you money. E. & B. Lbr. Co.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker visited Harvey Hall and family, southeast of Shubert, over Sunday.

Mrs. Rose Lowe of Peru has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Isabel Seabury, for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Seid returned home Wednesday after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Seid's sister at Avery, Iowa.

Neil Piersol, who has been living in London precinct, moved to Barada this week, having bought a barber shop there.

We have been having a touch of winter weather this week. The thermometer has kept below the freezing point most of the time.

Clyde Hill, who is now a compositor in the Republican office at Auburn, stopped in Nemaha a few hours Saturday afternoon on his way to Shubert.

Noah Colerick and family and Mrs. Jeff Colerick, who have been visiting here for about two weeks, started for their home at Alliance, Nebr., Thursday.

Mrs. Merritt and Miss Victoria Merritt of Brownville visited their son and brother Sherman Merritt at Nemaha from Saturday until Monday.

Will Cummings of Crab Orchard came in to Nemaha last Saturday evening and visited V. P. Peabody and family and other friends until Monday.

Mrs. J. E. Crother and Mrs. E. C. Hodkins of Kansas City, Mo., who is visiting her, went to Auburn Thursday to visit Mrs. J. D. Rainey for a couple of days.

Prof. C. A. Jones, the Auburn piano tuner, is in Nemaha this week, and says for us to notify his out of town patrons that he will visit them next week.

A. L. P. Thompson came down from Shenandoah, Iowa, Sunday to see how the boys were getting along on the farm. He returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Our old friend T. J. Oliver was re-elected county superintendent of Richardson county by a good majority, running on the fusion ticket. The only officer the republicans elected was one road overseer.

John Minick came down from Dunbar Wednesday to attend to a little business and visit his parents. He expects to move to Oklahoma in about two months. He bought a farm in Pawnee county last spring.

Ed E. Sanders, editor of the Herald, at Spickard, Mo., arrived in Nemaha Monday morning on a visit to his mother and brother, Mrs. J. M. Sanders and W. W. Sanders. He started home Tuesday evening.

Harry Kreglo returned Friday from Jamestown, Va., where he has been attending the exposition and visiting relatives and old friends in the vicinity whom he had not seen for years. He formerly lived near there.

Dr. B. F. Lorauce of Auburn came down to Nemaha last Friday to see Mrs. J. M. Sanders, mother of the editor, in consultation with Dr. Keeling. Mrs. Sanders' friends will regret to learn that she is no better.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. N. Sanders of northeast London precinct drove down Sunday afternoon and visited with his mother for a few hours, and the next evening drove down to see his brother, Ed. E. Sanders, of Spickard, Mo.

G. H. Clendenin, who has been manager of the Bell Telephone exchange at Nebraska City for several years, and with whom many of our citizens are well acquainted, has been appointed manager of the exchange at Beatrice, and has gone to that city.

J. L. Curtright doesn't intend to let London precinct get ahead of this precinct in corn so he brought in an ear Thursday morning which he raised that is filled out with grains, no room being left for another grain. Although not large, the ear is about perfect.

T. L. Williams broke the large finger on his right hand a few days ago. He was building a bridge and was using a spade at the time of the accident. He made a thrust with the spade and struck his hand against a timber, with the result that the bone about half way between the first and second joint was broken square off.

Geo. W. Cummings is the first county commissioner from the first district to be elected to succeed himself since 1885, 24 years ago. In that year John H. Shook was reelected, three years later M. T. Conner was elected. In 1889 B. F. McIninch was the successful candidate. In 1892 he was defeated by John I. Dressler, who in 1895 was in turn defeated by Mr. McIninch. In 1898 John S. Stevenson was elected. In 1901 he was defeated by Mr. McIninch. In 1904 G. W. Cummings was the successful candidate and he was reelected this fall. B. F. McIninch served three terms but was never elected as his own successor.

"Get in the habit" of going To Sunday school on Sunday at 10 To church on Sunday at 11. To church on Sunday at 7:30. To choir practice Tuesday at 7:30. To prayer meeting Thursday 7:30. To prayer meeting Friday, 7:30. To the revival meetings. In Nemaha.

C. T. Minick and family went on to DeWitt last Friday forenoon, after a short visit in Nemaha. Mr. Minick has accepted the position of assistant cashier of the Bank of Nemaha, but will not assume his duties probably until about the first of the year. He has rented the Grandma Argabright property.

Next Sunday will be Rev. J. W. Sapp's last Sunday at Brownville, as he has decided not to accept the call made him to serve the Christian church another year. He will preach at Nemaha and Shubert next year. The people of Brownville regret very much that he cannot be with them for another year, while the Shubert people are rejoicing at getting him there again.

The Jamestown exposition was a dismal failure financially—and we judge every other way. According to an exchange the liabilities are $1,855,000 greater than the assets. The exposition owes the government $900,000 and will send a strong lobby to Washington when congress meets to induce the government not only to donate this $900,000 but also pay the remainder of the deficiency.

Some of our corn shuckers have been twitting the Kansas boys who came here to shuck corn, telling them that no corn to amount to anything was ever raised in Kansas and the boys could not shuck corn because they had never had any to practice on. But Uncle Henry Clark says the idea that these boys can't shuck corn is a mistake. Frank Dressler has two of them working for him, Don Clark, Uncle Henry's grandson, gets in 80 bushels a day and this is his first experience in shucking. Bert Wilson shucks 100 bushels a day. So they are shucking some corn, even if they were not raised in Nebraska.

We received notice a few days ago of the death of our old friend Jesse Shortledge, for many years a resident of Aspinwall precinct. He died at his home in Oregon City, Oregon, Sept. 27, 1907, aged 72 years, 11 months and 5 days. His death was caused by cancer of the stomach. His wife, four sons, two daughters, seventeen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren survive him, one of his daughters being Mrs. J. R. Boatman of Aspinwall precinct.

Jesse Shortledge was born in Chester county, Pa., in 1835. He moved to Nemaha county, Neb., in 1877, locating in Aspinwall precinct on the farm now owned by Elmer Stiers, where he lived for twelve years. In 1889 he moved to Oregon City, Oregon, where he resided until his death.

The first quarterly conference of the Nemaha and Howe charge of the Methodist church was held here Tuesday afternoon. Rev. G. I. Wright, presiding elder, was present. Mrs. W. T. Russell was added to the board of stewards at this place. The salary of Rev. G. W. Ayers was fixed at $700 and house rent. Of this amount the Nemaha church is to pay one-half and Howe church one-half.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevenson of this city received the intelligence the first of the week that their daughter, Miss Pearl, who is teaching school at Deadwood, S. D., is in the hospital suffering with a broken ankle. She and her brother were out driving when the team became frightened and ran away. She was thrown from the vehicle and suffered the painful injury above noted.—Republican.

To all members of the Christian Church and their families, greeting: There will be an all day meeting with Thanksgiving dinner at the Christian church Thanksgiving day, Nov. 28th, to which you are all earnestly requested to come and bring something toothsome with you. At this meeting past and future work will be discussed, reports from minister, treasurer, Sunday school officers and teachers will be read and a general business meeting held, as well as a spiritual consecration meeting. The brethren in town will try to arrange to care for teams of the brethren that drive in from the country. Please don't plan to go any where else on Thanksgiving day or to have any one to your house, but come to church and renew old acquaintances. The editor being an honorary member of the aid society will be welcomed to this meeting.

Also remember that there is now a revival meeting being held by Evangelist Samuel Gregg. Meeting every night and everybody invited.

J. W. Sapp, Pastor.

Prof. Searson Acquitted.
Prof. J. W. Searson of Peru, charged with criminal assault on Miss Katherine Hudson, a pupil in the normal school, had his trial in the district court at Auburn last week and was acquitted by the jury. We believe the verdict is a just one. Among those testifying to Prof. Searson's good character were Professor Good of Wahoo, Senator King of Osceola, Principal A. H. Waterhouse of the Omaha high school, Inspector A. A. Reed of the state university, President J. E. Delzell of the state board of education and others. Stull & Hawxby of Auburn and H. H. Wilson of Lincoln were Prof. Searson's attorneys. County Attorney Lambert was assisted in the prosecution by E. B. Quackenbush.
