

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Tears of Howe were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Ayers Thursday. Mrs. Tears remained over night and the next morning, with Mrs. Ayers, went to Nebraska City, the latter lady returning in the afternoon by way of Auburn.

The Auburn city council is certainly a business-like body of men. At a recent meeting one of the questions debated at length was whether they would allow a bill of 50 cents presented by one of Auburn's enterprising citizens for burying three dead rats that had laid in the streets until they became offensive to eyes and nose. The bill was finally disallowed. Another question that caused lengthy discussion was whether the city would have a piece of sidewalk that had been overturned Holloween night put back at the expense of the city, or require the owner to put it back. This was left undecided and the walk left in the street.

Brownville may have its mine, with coal and iron and all sorts of other metals and minerals ready for the hand of man to exhume and transform into wealth.

Jesse Ellis, residing two miles south of the historic Nebraska town, has come upon a most curious geological or mineralogical formation which he believes to be of value. In a letter to the Star he describes the formation very carefully. The letter has been turned over to Prof. Erwin Hinckley Barbour, head of the department of geology at the university, and Mr. Ellis will receive a learned opinion, with possibly a visit to his place by the geologist.

Mr. Ellis says there is six inches of bright rust over the layer of what he believes to be iron ore. Under this is a deep blue rock and a steel colored shale which is very hard. The rock looks like blue marble or granite. Right underneath, says Mr. Ellis, is a formation of petrified stratum, three or four inches thick, which has a grain like wood, the grain running up and down. It is very full of glass, he says, which breaks out in small chunks, and is of a deep blue color. It is very easily split up and down, and is very hard. Any of this will heat red hot, he says, very red.

This vein starts in from the creek like the coal vein at Peru, except that Mr. Ellis feels that he has a good prospect for mineral and is anxious to get samples of his ore analyzed by state geologists and chemists. His coal lead, while good, he does not believe to be extensive enough to make it worth while to mine for it. The other formation, however, extends back into the bluff an indefinite distance.—Lincoln Star.

He Fought at Gettysburg

David Parker, of Fayette, N.Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took, for several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alternative and body builder; best of all for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by all druggists 50c.

Trial Catarrh treatments are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by All Dealers.

Consolidation of School Districts

A meeting has been called by County Superintendent Carrington, to be held at the opera house in Nemaha Monday, Nov. 18, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of discussing the question: Shall districts No. 33, 35, 36, 37, 59 and 60 consolidate, and build a large twelfth grade high school in Nemaha? Supt. O. J. Kern of Winnebago county, Ill., will lecture on consolidation, using stereopticon and showing pictures explaining how the plan works in Illinois and Ohio. Everybody in these districts invited.

District No. 33 is Happy Hollow, two and one-half miles north of Nemaha; 35 is the school in the bottom three miles northeast; 36 is the Nemaha district; 37 is Maple Grove, two miles northwest; 59 is Champion, four miles southwest; 60 is Larkin, three miles southwest.

As we understand the proposition, it is to establish a twelfth grade school in Nemaha, just what they have in Auburn, and do away with these outside districts. Enclosed wagons will go after pupils living very far from the school, going after them in the morning and returning them after school. No tuition, of course, would be charged any pupil living in the consolidated districts, and they would have the benefit of just as good schools as Auburn has. We believe the plan is a good one, and hope to see it adopted.

What Nebraska Soil Can Do

There has been much said about what Nebraska soil can raise, but from Talmage comes the best story backed up with good substantial proof as to its truthfulness. H. G. Tait, who resides on what is known as the second table land along the Nemaha river, planted eleven acres of corn in the spring and his sons planted larger tracts. This eleven acres was tended by Mr. Tait according to his ideas of farming, and recently he had his corn husked and cribbed and he finds that he has eleven hundred bushels of corn from the eleven acres, which is 100 bushels to the acre. That what his sons planted was not so good, because after they had plowed it and laid it by after a heavy rain fell and they never stirred the ground. This is the biggest yield of corn that we have heard of in this section of the state.

William Gehm, who resides in the city, did nearly as well from the five lots he farmed during the season. He raised two crops of potatoes from the same ground and each was a large one. He dug the first crop early and sold it and prior to digging it had planted potatoes between the rows and the second crop was growing when the first crop was dug. He never allowed a weed to grow but kept stirring the ground at all times and the result was that he raised more potatoes in one row in his patch than a man across the street grew on six lots. This simply shows what can be done with Nebraska soil when properly tended and looked after. There is no finer, more productive soil than that in eastern Nebraska and which pays a better return for the seed planted and the labor put on it.—Nebraska City News.

Notice to Taxpayers.

All taxes for the year 1907 are due November 1st. Personal taxes become delinquent December 1st.

D. J. A. Dirks, Co. Treas.

The exoneration of Prof. Searson of the Peru normal school by a jury in district court at Auburn from serious charges preferred by a young woman pupil of the school will be source of sincere gratification to the friends of Mr. Searson everywhere, none of whom ever believed that the charges were founded on any shadow of fact and all of whom knew Prof. Searson to be incapable of the offence charged against him. The evidence presented at the trial however indicates to the observing eye that there are some busybodies connected officially with the Peru institution who will not hesitate to expand a dangerous scandal from the most flimsy pretext and the best interests of the school will demand that all such should sever their connection with the school without delay or have their connection severed for them by short and sharp official action. A co-ed school like the Peru Normal is a dangerous place for an official scandal-monger who is ready to believe and circulate anything about anybody regardless of proven character and years of clean, upright and manly life.—Nebraska City Tribune.

A Hard Debt to Pay

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. ## DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

If real coffee disturbs your stomach, your heart or kidneys, then try this clever Coffee imitation—Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee.
