FIVE CHILDREN ASPHYXIATED. Entire Family at Nebraska City Has

Close Call.

Five members of the family of Horace Kuwitzky, a plumber and contractor of Nebraska City, were asphyxiated and came near losing their lives. They were Minnie, Ethel and Stenna, Clyde and Harry. Minnie was aroused by feeling sick at the stomach and started from her bedroom into the sitting room and fell on the floor near the hard coal burner, but in falling screamed for her mother. This aroused the other members of the family who slept in adjoining rooms and as they entered the sitting room each fell, being overcome by gas which had escaped from the hard coal stove. The parents, who slept in another part of the house, were aroused by the noise and came to their rescue and as soon as they saw what had occurred and the forms of their children lying around in the hall and in the sitting room, threw open the house and called a physician who soon restored them to consciousness. GOOD KING GONE

OSCAR OF SWEDEN DEAD AT THE PALACE OF STOCKHOLM.

THE END COMES ON SUNDAY

Idol of His People, for Whom He Labored Well-His Last Days of Sorrow-Grieved Sorely Over Separation of Norway.

A Stockholm, Dec. 8, dispatch says: Oscar II, king of Sweden, died at 9:10 o'clock this morning. The death of the venerable monarch occurred in the royal apartment of the palace, where, surrounded by the members of his family, including the aged Queen Sophia and the Crown Prince Oscar Gustave, and high ministers of state, the inevitable end had been awaited, while outside the palace great crowds stood with bowed heads and tearful eyes long after the announcement came of the death of their wells beloved sovereign. The whole count try is bowed with grief, for King Oscar was something more than a ruler of his people and had endeared himself to them an an intimate and personal friend. When the flag ou the palace was dipped to half-mast! there was a moan of anguish from the assembled multitude and many of them cried, "Our dear old king is dead."

The following official bulletin was posted after the king's death:

"The strength of the king continued to decrease throughout the night and the state of unconsciousness became more marked. His majesty passed quietly away at 9:10 a. m."

The death certificate was worded as follows: "We declare upon oath that his majesty, King Oscar II, expired peacefully at 9:10 o'clock this morning in the castle at Stockholm, at the age of seventy-eight years, nine months, seventeen days, as a result of calcification of the cerebral and cardiac blood vessels. (Signed)

"BERG. "EDGREN. "FLENSBURG."

The succession to the throne of Sweden now passes to Oscar Gustave Adolphe, Duke of Verland, the oldest son of the late king. At a meeting of the council of state this afternoon the new king took the oath of allegiance under the title of Gustave V. and adopted the motto: "With the People, for the Fatherland."

The last hours of the expiring monarch were passed in unconsciousness and up to the end he gave no sign of recognizing those about him. The queen was grief-stricken because he could not bid her farewell. Oscar II, king of Sweden, and previous to 1905, king of Sweden and Norway, was born January 21, 1829. He was the third son of King Oscar and of Queen Josephine, daughter of Prince Eugene of Leuchtenberg and grandson of Marshal Bernadotte. Oscar II succeeded to the throne at the death of his brother, King Carl XV, September 18, 1872. He was married June 6, 1857 to Queen Sophia, born June 9, 1836, daughter of the late Duke William of Nassau. Four children survive King Oscar-Crown Prince Gustave, born June 16, 1858; Prince Oscar Bernadotte, born November 15, 1859; Prince Carl, born February 27, 1861, and Prince Eugene, born August 1, 1865. Prince Gustave was married September 30, 1981, to Princess Victoria of Baden-Baden. Their oldest son, Prince Gustave, was married June 15, 1895, to Princess Margaret Victoria of Connaught. Prince Oscar renounced his succession to the throne and on March 15, 1888, married Ebba Munck of Fulkila. In the years 1892 and 1893 the late King Oscar steadfastly opposed the proposition of the Norwegian parliament for a separate consular service, which led to Norway, October 26, 1905, declaring the union of Sweden and Norway dissolved. The throne of Norway was offered to a prince of the reigning house of Sweden, but was declined by King Oscar, and after an appeal to the Norwegian people, Prince Charles of Denmark was elected king of Norway by the Norwegian parliament, November 18, 1905.
