Timid farmers in the neighborhood of Genesee, Idaho, are apprehensive lest their farms may sink into a subterranean lake. A man was recently digging a well, and when he had gone down sixteen feet water gushed out, filling the well and flooding the surface of the ground. Finally it settled back to the earth's level. A local paper says that peculiar sightless fish were brought to the surface in the overflow, indicating the existence of an underground lake.

Check cutters of stained ivory and silver are now made for those that care to pay $250 for such trifles. A few rich men and perhaps a good many rich women delight in costly appointments for the writing desk, and to meet this demand those that cater to the whims of the wealthy have taken to overloading all sorts of stationery articles with costly workmanship. A fully equipped desk outfit of this sort runs up into the thousands of dollars.

The Jewish Messenger, of New York City, in referring to Jewish immigration to the United States, says: "If Baron Hirsch would establish places of refuge in Europe where the Jewish refugees might be prepared for a new life and new homes, he would be rendering the best service. To transport poverty stricken thousands who are unable to cope with new conditions is no charity and yet that seems to be the highest ambition of European committees."

A new kind of a bird has been discovered in Wyoming. In company with a dozen buzzards it was hovering over the carcass of a dead horse in a pasture. It has the head and beak of a hoot owl, the body and neck of a rooster and its tail is similar to that of a peacock, and when shot made a noise not unlike that of a guinea hen. The bird will prove an interesting study for scientists and has been shipped to New York city.

He is a bachelor living near Strang, and is said to have become partly crazy over a love affair. He has been living alone and had not made any bad breaks until he took the trip into York county last week and abandoned his team at a farm house and started out through the fields like a mad man. THERE IS A HOWL IN ROME

Scoundrels Desecrate King Emanuel's Morganatic Wife's Tomb.

Austria Faces Trouble in the Future and is Getting Ready for It—The Lord Mayor's Show is Spoiled by Main—Other Foreign News.

ROME, Nov. 9.—This city was startled yesterday by the announcement that some scoundrel or scoundrels had desecrated the tomb of the Countess Mirafiora, the morganatic wife of the late King Victor Emanuel. Following close on the Pantheon incident, which occurred on October 2 last, the present outrage has created another burst of popular indignation and again dangerously strained the relations existing between the government and the Vatican. The rascals implicated in outraging the tomb of the Countess Mirafiora forced it open and set fire to the coffin, evidently with the object of burning the corpse. The ghoul, however, were unable to carry out their designs owing to the solidity of the zinc cell which formed the inner portion of the casket. They succeeded, it is true, in slightly burning the face and feet of the countess, and entirely destroyed the outer casket.

The police have not as yet made any arrests in the case; but they are following up several clues which may lead to the identification and punishment of the miscreants engaged in this work. A dark lantern, a wooden mallet, a piece of candle and cloth cap, such as those worn by men belonging to the working class, are in possession of the police, and are being used to hunt down the perpetrators of this latest outrage. Opinions are divided as to the cause of the government, who are in a very large majority, claim it is the work either of paid agents of the Vatican or fanatics who are incensed at the fact that there is a possibility of the pope being compelled to leave Rome. On the other hand the friends of the Vatican say that they can see in the Mirafiora incident further evidence of the desire of the Italian government, through secret agents, to increase the bitter, dangerous feeling already expressed against the Vatican.

A Grave Situation.

VIENNA, Nov. 9.—The Austrian budget for the year 1893 was made public today. The gravity of the situation of affairs in Europe can be judged from the fact that the estimated amount of money asked for the expense of the war department is 121,700,000 florins, or an increase of 4,500,000 florins over the estimates for 1891. With this additional money Austria proposes to raise forty-two reserve batteries of artillery to effective or war strength and she also proposes to spend 1,000,000 florins upon strengthening the Austrian fortress upon the Galician frontier and standing in the way of a Russian army which might be advancing from Russian Poland. Finally 225 lieutenants are to be added to the infantry regiment. For marine or admiralty expenses the sum of 11,600,000 florins is estimated to be the amount of money required.

A Great Show Spoiled.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—"The Lord Mayor's Show," the greatest of all London shows, was spoiled today by the ceaseless downfall of rain, but the new lord mayor, David Evans, Esq., a Welshman who represented the Castle Baynard ward in the boat of alderman, managed to enjoy himself considerably in spite of the weather. The Welsh nationality of the lord mayor received due attention in the fact that three out of five of the rain soaked triumphal cars were illustrative of the history of her industries of Wales. "Beef eaters" foresters, firemen, keepers of Epping life boat men etc., were there in all their glory, but the rain spoiled everything, dampened the most vigorous enthusiasm and may be said to have completely broken up the great annual show in which the cockney so much delights.

A Financial Crisis in Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—There is no disguising the fact that a financial panic of considerable gravity prevails here as a result of the recent startling financial disclosures, failures and the suicides attending them. The market is disorganized today and securities generally have taken a "slump," to use the "street" term. The influence of this decline of prices is already felt in London and Paris, and it would not be going too far to say that the Berlin troubles have disorganized every market in Europe. Siegmund Sommerfeld died today from the wound he inflicted upon himself on Saturday last at the same time that his son Felix took his own life. The Sommerfelds as already stated in addition to shooting themselves had opened veins in their arms, and when found were literally bathed in blood. Siegmund lived up to this morning with a bullet in his brains, but Felix, who, by the way, was a well-known epicure, and the author of a number of attractive articles on cookery which appeared in the Boersens Courier, died soon after he and his father were found.

Among the additional names of heavy losers by the financial crookedness of the Sommerfelds, these of Dowager Princess Mathilde, of Schwartzburg Rudolphstadt, Prince Blucher De Wahlstadt, Princess Putbus and Counts Szafsky, Hamfresch, Nesselode, Nordeak and many other members of aristocratic families. Among the noble depositors who were lucky enough not to get bit was Count Griebenow, who withdrew the sum of 90,000 marks from the Sommerfeld bank on Saturday morning last. Berlin, from one end to the other, are talking of nothing else but the earthquakes which have shaken the entire fabric of the private banking system of the Empire. No such day as this has ever been known in the history of German financiers and it is feared that the end of it is far from being in sight. A number of the banks here this morning are beset by client desperately anxious to withdraw their accounts and some of these institutions may find it difficult to stand the run. These clients, on foot and in carriages, are pressing for the banks from all sides, evidently being under the impression that in these times of terrible financial crashes it is safest to lock up their money at home.

THE WAR CLOUD PASS'NG.

There is No Probability of Trouble With Chile and Affairs are Quiet.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—The latest advices from Chile received at the department give no occasion for alarm, and all information which has been received from Brazil indicates that the affairs of that country are assuming a settled state and that our interests are in no danger. Naval officers, in explanation of the unusual activity reported at the several navy yards, say that it is desired to advance vessels being built as far as possible and to put vessels now in commission in condition for their winter cruises before the winter season sets in. None of the officers will admit that they expect any trouble from foreign powers and they say that the executive work at the various navy yards should not be construed as indications for war.

TWO FIREMEN KILLED.

A Cincinnati Fire Ends With Serious Results—Names of the Killed and Injured.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—Two firemen were killed and four badly injured at 9:30 o'clock this morning by the breaking of a ladder. The picture frame establishment of Oscar Oeneker, 134 West Second street, caught on fire in the cellar shortly after 9 o'clock and in a very few minutes the building was enveloped in flames. An employee named Myers was in the cellar at the time and his escape was cut off, but he was finally rescued by the firemen who carried him to a place of safety. He was badly burned about the head and upper part of the body.

The two firemen who were killed are Wm. Bookings and Ed Anderson, of Gifts company. The injured are: Captain Hurley of the Two's firemen, Beebe, John Conway and Jerry Doherty, all of the Gifts. It is thought all the injured will recover. The loss is about $30,000. Insurance, $15,000.

The Ship All Right.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Herald's Valparaiso despatches this morning say that Captain Schley and his officers are indignant about the yarn of the sinking of their vessel, as it gives their families at home a great deal of unnecessary anxiety. Everything is quiet in Valparaiso and the Baltimore is as safe as if she were in home waters. Schley will permit the victims of the recent assault to appear before the investigating judge, but has stipulated that officers of the vessel must also be present when the men are examined.

The Tennessee Situation.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—The situation of affairs in Tennessee is becoming alarming. Suspicious communication is being held between the east Tennessee miners and the miners of Kentucky, Alabama and Virginia. The hardy mountaineers who released the convicts have sworn that the governor shall not rebuild the stockades and that if he sends the convicts back to the mines they will be butchered in cold blood.

GOSSIP OF FOREIGN LANDS

An Ex-President of a Stock Exchange Must Serve Eight Years.

Detectives Are Trying to Recover Some of King George's Library—An Important Discovery in Edged Tools—A New Castle Defaulter Confesses.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A London dispatch says the home secretary has declined to grant a temporary suspension in the case of Frank E. DuBedat, formerly president of the Dublin stock exchange, and who a few days ago was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude upon his plea of guilty to an indictment charging him with having defrauded a number of people of large sums of money. It was sought to have the ex-president, who was at one time a millionaire, confined in the city jail for a period of six months in order that he might be accessible for the settlement of the affairs of various estates and interests which had been entrusted to his charge. This clemency, however, was refused by the home secretary, and DuBedat will be taken to the convict prison tomorrow.

During the long illness of King George III, many valuable books, prints and manuscripts were lost or stolen out of the royal library at Windsor castle, and the royal collections were in hopeless confusion until Prince Albert took the matter in hand and re-arranged them under his own supervision. During the past two years three detectives from Scotland Yard have been engaged under the direction of Hon. John Holmes, the librarian of the castle, in tracing many of the missing treasures and it is said that over fifty volumes of great value have been recovered. Some of these were in possession of people of wealth and high position, and in some instances the volumes had been in possession of the families in which they were found for over a quarter of a century. The latest recovery is a copy of Spenser's "Faerie Queene," which belonged to Queen Elizabeth.

A remarkable discovery and one of great interest to persons using edge tools, has been made by a prominent cutter of Sheffield and is made public in the weekly organ of the iron trade. It is the effect that knives, drills, scythes and sickles assume a blue color if for any length of time they are left in the sun. The sharp edge then disappears and the tool is rendered absolutely useless until it is retempered. A similarly prejudicial effect has been exercised by moonlight. Among other experiments made during the past month was one that demonstrated that an ordinary cross-cut saw had been put out of shape in a single night by exposure to the light of the moon. At Newcastle, Sidney Old, formerly cashier of the Tyne Pontoon bridge company, and who after embezzling over $20,000 from that concern, fled to the United States, where he was apprehended, pleaded guilty. Strong influences, however, were brought to bear in his behalf and he was let off with a sentence of twelve months' imprisonment without hard labor. In the same court and within a hour after this case had been disposed of, an unfortunate wretch who had snatched a ladie's purse while on the verge of starvation, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—German authorities have dismissed from the magistracy which he held, Herr Dryer, another Alsatian manufacturer who attended the banquet in honor of M. Jules Ferry at Bussang, a French village in the Vosges, of the occasion of the inauguration of the St. Maurice frontier railway. The expulsion of Herr Gros from Strausburg has been followed by the resignation of the mayor of Wesseling.

An Irish Manifesto.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—A manifesto has been issued by Messrs. McCarthy and Sevton, in which they say that the assurance put in writing January last by the liberal leaders concerning the control of the police in Ireland and the land question communicated to them in a meeting by the Irish parliamentary leaders a few days later as the public declaration of the liberal policy. They were published in newspapers at the time and nothing has since been added to them. The claim that the secretary was enjoined is an error.

Fear More Fenianism.

Tomorrow that memorable day will be appropriately observed by the members of the large element in this city that sympathizes with the views enunciated by the executed men, and who have never ceased to bemoan their fate. Preparations for the observance have been in progress for several weeks, the executive committee in charge representing no less than forty-two local organizations. The program embraces a street procession tomorrow, and it is expected that fully 5,000 men and women will be in line. No red flags will be carried. After the procession trains will be taken for Waldheim cemetery, where there will be impressive services over the graves of the executed men. There will also be a profusion of floral tributes. The orator of the day will be Robert Reitzel, of Detroit, who will speak in German, and Henry Wightman, of New York, who will make an address in English. On Wednesday next there will be a mass meeting, to be addressed by Prince Krapotkin, of Russia, and several others. AN ODD CONSUMPTION CURE.

An Indiana Young Lady Making Novel Use of a Newfoundland Pup.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 7.—Miss Maggie Doniger, a winsome young lady, 18 years of age, began today a most unique treatment for consumption, which may yet rival the famous Dr. Koch's lymph as a remedy for tuberculosis. For some time Maggie has been suffering from pulmonary affection. Finally, under the direction of her medical adviser, she has concluded to take a course of dietetic treatment, which is to consist exclusively of young dog flesh. For this purpose, a fat, healthy Newfoundland pup was killed and nicely dressed, and she began eating it. Today it is claimed that dog flesh in the course of assimilation is converted into a lymph of more than ordinary vitality, which, being absorbed by the blood corpuscles, supplants the decayed tissue and adds new strength and vigor to the patient. Whether this be true or not, Maggie proposes to test its efficiency.
