PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

James Whitcomb Riley was in his younger days an enthusiastic and clever amateur actor. It is believed that had he gone on the stage permanently his career would have been famous. One of his friends says that at one time when Riley was cast for the character of an old man, he went about the streets for weeks studying the gestures, poses and utterances of an aged acquaintance, instead of trusting to mere imagination.

Boston Transcript: Hicks—By George! but this is a good cigar, the best cigar I've smoked for months. Where did you get them? Wicks—Some that my wife gave me for a Christmas present. As you say, they're prime. [N. B. This is a departure from the conventional joke on the subject; but that has been repeated so many times that it is time there was a change.]

"What avails it for a man to work hard down town earning money, while his wife is home being cheated by peddlers?" asks the editor of the Atchison Globe, with a well developed pain in the tone.

The bills now before congress would extend from Washington to New York it spread out and laid end to end. The speeches that Billy Bryan seems disposed to make this session would encircle the globe about thirteen times and then lap over half a mile.

Samuel K. Royall contributes to the New York Times a never-failing preventive of the grip. It is simply to wear a salted undershirt. Take a summer undershirt and soak it in brine made with, say, half a pint of ordinary salt to about a quart of water and put out to dry. Wear this next to the body. It is not unpleasant to wear and will, I am sure, keep off grip and bad colds, and, I firmly believe, consumption.

General Garfield's son Henry was not successful in his ambition to become a state senator, but he will get there ultimately. He has plenty of grit and great tenacity of purpose.

Prince Bismark is reported to have stated to the mayor of Wansbek: "Formerly I stood on the stage of the world; if I have now moved back to the auditorium I do not intend to abdicate the right I possess, with every other spectator, to criticize."

Lady Sandhurst, who died in England Friday, was a leader in the women's rights movement in England. She was elected to the London county council three years ago, although the courts afterward held that she was ineligible on account of her sex.

A Washington special to a mugwump paper says: "The talk about the nomination of Gov. Boies, of Iowa, for second place on the ticket is becoming very dull and democrats from the west who are now in Washington do not think that the Iowa governor stands even the ghost of a show of having his name presented to the democratic convention."

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of the gripple if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's cough remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. This remedy also counteracts any tendency of gripple to result in pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it during the epidemics of the past two years we have yet to learn of a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. C. Corrigan, Druggist.

We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without a warning. The first symptom is hoarseness; then the child appears to have taken a cold or a cold may have accompanied the hoarseness from the start. After that a peculiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the croup. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain's cough remedy will prevent the attack. Even after a rough cough has appeared this remedy may be prevented by using this disease as directed. It has never been known to fail. 25 cent, 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

A POPULAR FAMILY. JENNIE: "How is it, Kate, that you always seem to 'catch on' to the latest fads? How do you do it? I may, you always seem to get ahead of me." KATE: "I don't know; I certainly do not make any exertion in that direction." JENNIE: "Well, during the last few months, for example, you have taken up painting."

THE COMPLETE SET OF DOCUMENTS WILL BE SENT TO ANY ADDRESS, POST PAID, FOR FIFTY (50) CENTS. Address, Wilbur F. Wakeman, Sec'y., No. 22 West Twenty-Third Street, New York.

Without any teacher; you came to the rescue when Mr. Lutz, our District Clerk, was so suddenly, and certainly we are all improving in grace under your instruction; I heard you telling Tommy Eames last evening how his club made mistakes in playing baseball; you seem to be up on all the latest 'fads,' and know just what to do under all circumstances; you entertain beautifully; and in the last month you have improved so in health, owing, you tell me, to your physical culture exercises. Where do you get all of your information from in this little out-of-the-way place?—for you never go to the city."

KATE: "Why, Jennie, you will make me vain. I have only one source of information, but it is surprising how it meets all wants, I very seldom hear of anything new but what the next few days bring me full information on the subject. 'Magic?' Not 'Magic'! And a great treasure it is to us all, for it really furnishes the reading for the whole household; father has given up his magazine that he has taken for years, as he says this one gives more and better information on the subjects of the day; and mother says that it is that that makes her such a famous housekeeper. In fact, we all agree that it is the only really FAMILY magazine published, as we have sent for samples of all of them, and find that one is all for men, another all for women, and another for children only, while this one suits every one of us; so we only need to take one instead of several, and that is where the economy comes in, for it is only $2.00 a year. Perhaps you think I am too lavish in my praise; but I will let you see ours, or, better still, send 10 cents to the publisher, Wm. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th Street, New York, for a sample copy, and I shall always consider that I have done you a great favor; and may be you will be cutting us out, as you say we have the reputation of being the best informed family in town. If that be so, it is Demorest's Family Magazine that does it."
