

WASHINGTON.

Senate.

In the Senate May 20 the river and harbor appropriation bill was taken up and Mr. McPherson moved to recommit the bill with instructions to reduce the amount 50 per cent.

At the request of Mr. Turpie the Senate May 22 passed a bill granting a pension of $20 a month to George W. Jones, 88 years of age, now a resident of Dubuque, Iowa, and formerly a Senator of the United States, in consideration of services rendered by him as a drummer boy in the war of 1812-14 and as Aide-de-Camp to Gen. Dodge in the Black Hawk war of 1832.

House.

In the House May 20 Mr. Watson (Alliance) asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution requesting the Committee on Ways and Means to report back the sub-treasury bill, but Mr. Beltzhoover (Democrat) of Pennsylvania demanded the regular order and the matter went over.

In the House Mr. Watson (Alliance) endeavored to obtain unanimous consent for passage of a resolution directing the Committee on Ways and Means to report the sub-treasury bill, but was unsuccessful, meeting an objection from Mr. Beltzhoover.

Notes.

With the passage of the fortifications and postoffice appropriation bills, only three more will remain to be acted on by the House—the legislative, executive, and judicial, the agricultural, and the general deficiency bills.

Representative Herbert of Alabama, Chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, will probably oppose all the Senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill. His estimate is that if the Senate plan should be adopted, with its proposed addition of twelve new ships, the amount necessary to be appropriated for the navy for the fiscal year 1893-'94 would be $23,000,000 or $24,000,000, or about $7,000,000 more than would be necessary to carry on the work of construction according to the House plan.

By a vote of 9 to 5 the House Judiciary committee has decided to make a favorable report on the Torrey Bankruptcy bill. The members opposed to it are Goodnight of Kentucky, Stockdale of Mississippi, Buchanan of Virginia, Ray of New York, and Broderick of Kansas.

The Senate Commerce committee has applied the knife to the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. The result is the reduction of the total appropriation to $20,281,368, which is nearly $1,000,000 less than the appropriation made by the bill as it came from the House.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.

A Pleasure Party Goes Over a Small Niagara.

A terrible scene was witnessed near Woodside Island, on the Miami river, the other day. A skiff, containing a man and three women, went over the falls before the eyes of a large crowd of fellow beings helpless to give assistance.

OVER THE FALLS.

Lizzie Tenhuendfield, all members of the Woodside Island Boating club. They set out on the river for a Sunday evening ride, and an hour later only two lived to tell of the awful experience.

Holen and his party were seen by several people to pass the buoys and then disappear from view around a bend in the river. This was a short time before the hundreds of persons attending a picnic were preparing to return to the city.

As the last train-load was being made up one of the policemen stationed at the boat-house heard a shout across the river and saw Holen standing on the opposite bank. He called to the officer that his boat had been upset and that his companions were lost.

In the House Mr. Watson (Alliance) endeavored to obtain unanimous consent for passage of a resolution directing the Committee on Ways and Means to report the sub-treasury bill, but was unsuccessful, meeting an objection from Mr. Beltzhoover.

THIS IS LEAP YEAR

And the Ladies Are Reminded of Its Many Pitfalls.

It seems but just that those who assume the privileges of leap year should accept its perils. Without wishing to discourage those who constitute the forlorn hope of unmarried ladies, and who appreciate that for them it is "now or never" in the field of matrimonial aspiration, we have to call attention to the fact that a Missouri jury has awarded damages in a breach-of-promise case in which a youthful member of the "hard sex" was plaintiff, and a gay and deceiving widow was defendant.

We illustrate the first scene in this domestic drama—the scene of revelry at a leap-year ball—where the heroine first breathed the words of honeyed falsehood into her victim's ear. It was the old, old story, with the relative situations reversed, of course, to suit the exigencies of the leap. Whether there came some blight across the young man's material fortune, owing to a fall in stocks, or some other of these monetary unpleasantness peculiar to the period, or whether the lady simply changed her mind—as ladies sometimes do, without any apparent cause—she failed to redeem her promise, and the broken-hearted swain brought suit for damages. The jury rendered a verdict in his favor; but it may be proper to state that the damages were assessed at the sum of six cents only.

The principle, however, was established, and there is not the slightest doubt that had the jury been composed of women there would have been millions in it.

Fred Toedt, a car builder employed in the Evansville & Terre Haute railroad shops at Evansville, accused his wife of infidelity, gave her a thrashing, and then blew out his brains.

RUES HER STEP.

Another American Heiress Has Come to Grief.

New York society was shocked the other day when the Baroness Blanc appeared in the Police court as complaining witness against one Gilbert Leonard.

Leonard is a private detective. The Baroness did not know his business or perhaps she would not have had him arrested for shadowing her. She was THE BARONESS.

amazed in court when Leonard stated that he was in the service of her husband, the Baron Blanc. When the latter was placed on the stand he admitted that the statement made by Leonard was true. The Baron and Baroness had occupied a suite of rooms at the Albemarle hotel for two years.

They mingled in society considerably and were received in the most exclusive circles. Recently the Baron asked his wife for some money (she was formerly Ellen Lawrence, an American heiress) with which to carry on a certain deal.

She refused to make the advance. It being her first offense in that line he immediately concluded that she was being alienated from him. So he concluded to put a shadow on her track.

An American girl that purchases a foreign title is smart enough to know when she is being watched. She "dropped" on Leonard in a very few days. She inherited a considerable fortune from her grandfather, Mr. Nicholson of Philadelphia, while the Baron has an income of $8,000 a year from the estate of his mother, who was a sister of William Gebhard, the father of Freddie Gebhard. The developments in the police court trial led to a separation and a divorce will probably follow.

Patrick O'Sullivan, one of the men convicted of the murder of Dr. Patrick Henry Cronin, died in the Illinois penitentiary last week, in which institution he was serving a life sentence with Martin Burke and Dan Coughlin. It is well known that the chief conspirators in the crime have escaped even a trial. It was thought that O'Sullivan would make a confession. He received the last rites of the Catholic church. To Father Damien he made a long confession, the first in many years. What that confession was only one man knows. The priest will never reveal it. "Do you believe O'Sullivan's story of his innocence?" was asked of Father Damien. "Yes, he was truly innocent of that crime," the priest answered. "God would not allow an innocent man to suffer for a crime he never committed." This does not say that O'Sullivan did not implicate others. Only Father Damien knows.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Terrible End of the Life of a Kentucky Girl.

Lizzie Rice, the belle of Walton, Boone county, Ky., ended her life the other day in a manner that has few parallels. After saturating herself with coal oil she touched a lighted match to her skirts and calmly awaited the swift and terrible agony that was to consummate her designs.

The slow advance of death that followed the daring act makes the story of the tragedy all the more terrible. Though outwardly burned into a crisp, the heart-beats of the victim continued for two hours, and other indications proved that she was conscious in the most subtle manner of her hideous state.

Once the forlorn victim opened her livid mouth just long enough to recite the cause of the deed, then lapsed into a fretting, groaning mood until death came as a welcome messenger. Disappointment in love was the cause.

In a recent letter to the proprietors, Mr. H. M. Bangs, the druggist at Chatsworth, Ill., says: "I am very much pleased with Chamberlain's cough remedy. During the epidemic of the grippe here it took the lead and was very much better liked than other cough medicines." The grip requires precisely the same treatment as a very severe cold, for which this remedy is so efficient. It will promptly loosen a cold and relieve the lungs, soon affecting a permanent cure, while most other medicines in common use for colds only give temporary relief. 50 cent bottles for sale by P. C.
