SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The republican electors of the Thirteenth senatorial district are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at O'Neill, Nebraska, on the 30th day of August, 1892, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for senator from said district, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention.

The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the vote cast for Hon. George H. Hastings for attorney general in 1890, same as in state convention.

It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention and that the absent votes of a county be cast by the delegates present.

OUR TICKET.

The republicans of Holt county in convention assembled did themselves proud last Saturday. If money was the guiding star and the ticket nominated is a good one without an exception. Lou Chapman is the nominee for county attorney. It is not necessary for us to introduce Lou to the people of Holt county. They all know him to be honest and capable and will vote for him in November. W. F. Eisele of Chambers, and A. J. Clark of Inman, were nominated by acclamation for representatives. The convention made no mistake in these selections. The candidates are not politicians. They are farmers who farm and make money by attending strictly to their own business. They were looking for no political honors but had the nomination thrust upon them. They are intelligent and conservative men and will be a power for good in the next house.

THE FRONTIER will have a great deal more to say about the ticket next week.

WELL, how does the ticket suit you?

CROUNSE will be the nominee for governor.

THE next congressman from the big Sixth will be nominated at Chadron next Wednesday.

DAY CITY, MISS., was destroyed by fire last week. $1,630,000 worth of property was destroyed.

EVONNA MOORE, of Norfolk, is strictly "in it" for the nomination for auditor, judging from present appearances.

GROVER has not been heard to say anything about the one term limit, lately. But the people understand. It is well.

GEORGE F. KEIFER was nominated by the democrats of the Third congressional district. Meiklejohn will have a walk-a-way.

ONE half of the Douglas county delegation go to the convention pledged to Crouse, and it seems now that he will be the nominee.

WE sometimes wonder if there is such a man as D. B. Hill. Since the democratic national convention at Chicago we hardly ever see his name mentioned.

IT is said that it cost Calvin S. Brice something over $300,000 to be chairman of the democratic national committee. Calvin's shrinking desire to occupy a less conspicuous position can be understood when this fact is taken into consideration.

SEVERAL counties have instructed their delegates to the state convention for J. S. Bartley, for treasurer, and he is certain to be nominated on the first ballot.

LIBERTY, an independent paper published at Lincoln, says it will not support Van Wyck for governor, and is trying to secure the nomination of John Powers.

THE legislative ticket is a good one, both candidates being farmers and old soldiers, and have the confidence and respect of all parties where they are known.

L. C. CHAPMAN will make a good official and one in whom the people can depend upon in having their interests attended to, and he will be elected by a good majority.

IT is said that D. B. Hill contemplates resigning as senator from New York, because, whether Cleveland or Harrison is elected, he will have no official patronage to dispense. He might arrange to have himself appointed first assistant postmaster-general. Candidate Adlai Stevenson can tell him how much fun that is.

TWO years from now the whole country will be glorying in the success of the world's fair, and the whole world will pay tribute to the energy and enterprise of the American people in planning it and carrying it to a successful culmination. By that time Bro. Holman and the democratic party will be convinced that they had offered every support and encouragement to the great exposition, but now is the time for the American people to take note of the fact that it is the democratic house that has refused its aid to the world's fair.

WHEN the Bland silver bill first came before congress, D. B. Hill's man Rockwell had his contest pending for Congressman Noye's seat. In order to secure the votes of free silver, and the southern democrats ousted Congressman Noye, who had been fairly and justly elected, and, at the command of Hill, seated Rockwell. The other day when the silver bill came up in the house again, for its final chance, Rockwell voted against it. The southern democrats are thus justly disappointed for juggling with the title to a seat in congress.

DEMOCRATS in public life feel as much confidence in President Harrison's wisdom and patriotism as do republicans. The bill according to the president's power to levy retaliatory canal tolls on Canadian vessels passing through our canals passed both houses without a single dissent from any democrat, although Representative Turner (Dem., Ga.) pointedly called attention to the fact that the power conferred on the president is exactly like that in the reciprocity clause of the McKinley law. Democrats know that this large discretionary power is safe in President Harrison's hands.

DEMOCRATS weep over "the burdens of taxation" that are put upon the people, but they have never accomplished the removal of any of these burdens. The promise of the republican party is, if the burden is specified and pointed out (which the democratic shouters cannot do), to remove the burden if it lies within the authority of the government to do it. The people are showing ample capacity to learn that the alleged burdens that the democrats point out do not, in fact, rest upon the people. The people have insight to perceive that the burdens that afflict them are not those due to a protective tariff.

OUR fire department is all right, and the citizens who used to say that the chemical engine was "no good" have now changed their minds. The boys at the fire Tuesday morning clearly demonstrated their ability to successfully control a fire, and foreman Trigg demonstrated the fact that he was right at home when fighting fire. Although the chief was not in the city to take charge of the department his foreman ably performed his duties. When our water works system is completed and O'Neill has a hose team she will then be amply provided with protection. Had it not been for the protection we now have an entire block would have been burned and several thousand dollars worth of property destroyed.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Record Good.
Judge Crouse seems to be winning favor. Fact is the judge has always held an enviable amount of popularity and his record is clear.—Randolph Times.

Good Policy.
It looks now as if Dorrington would be nominated for congress on the first ballot. If not the northwest counties will go solidly for Judge Kinkaid, for one thing is settled "the candidate must be from the republican part of the district.—Chadron Journal.

A Delegate's Opinion.
"Holt county," said one of the delegates from up the Elkhorn, "is going to go to the congressional convention at Chadron united and enthusiastic for Judge Kinkaid. The judge has plenty of good support and, while he is not so active as some of the other candidates, there is no doubt in my mind that he will be in the fight to stay as soon as the convention meets.—State Journal August 3.

THE PLATFORM.

We reaffirm the American doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the republican congress.

We believe that all articles which cannot be produced in the United States, except luxuries, should be admitted free of duty, and that on all imports coming into competition with the products of American labor there should be levied duties equal to the difference between wages abroad and at home. We assert that the prices of manufactured articles of general consumption have been reduced under the operations of the tariff act of 1890.

We denounce the efforts of the democratic majority of the house of representatives to destroy our tariff laws by piece-meal amendments, and we ask the people for their judgment thereon.

We point to the success of the republican policy of reciprocity, under which our export trade has vastly increased, and new and enlarged markets have been opened for the products of our farms and workshops. We remind the people of the bitter opposition of the democratic party to this practical business measure, and claim that, executed by a republican administration, our present laws will eventually give us control of the trade of the world.

The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetallic money, and the republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and such provisions to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, and the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests of the producers of the country, farmers and workmen, plead in demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government, shall be as good as any other.

We commend the wise and patriotic steps already taken by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world.

We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be allowed to cast one free and unrestricted ballot in all public elections, and that such ballot shall be counted and returned as cast; that such laws shall be enacted and enforced as will secure to every citizen, be he rich or poor, native or foreign born, white or black, the same rights, guaranteed by the constitution. The free and honest popular ballot, the just and equal representation of all the people, as well as their just and equal protection under the laws, are the foundation of our republican institutions, and the party will never relax its efforts until the integrity of the ballot and the purity of elections shall be fully guaranteed and protected in every state.

We denounce the continued inhuman outrages perpetrated upon American citizens for political reasons in certain southern states of the Union.

We favor the extension of our foreign commerce, the restoration of our merchant marine by home built ships, and the creation of a navy for the protection of our national interests and the honor of our flag; the maintenance of the most friendly relations with all foreign powers; changing alliances with none; and the protection of the rights of our fishermen.

We reaffirm our approval of the Monroe doctrine and believe in the achievement of the most distant destiny of the republic in its broadest sense.

We favor the enactment of more stringent laws against frauds for the punishment of criminal, pauper and contract immigration. We favor efficient legislation by congress to protect life and limb of employees of transportation companies engaged in carrying on interstate commerce, in mining and manufacturing.

The republican party has always been the champion of the oppressed and recognizes the dignity of manhood irrespective of faith, color or nationality. It sympathizes with the cause of home rule in Ireland, and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia.

The ultimate reliance of free popular government is the intelligence of the people, and the maintenance of freedom among men. We therefore declare anew our devotion to liberty of thought and conscience, of speech and press, and approve all agencies and instrumentalities which contribute to the education of the children of the land, but which insist upon the fullest measure of religious liberty, we are opposed to any union of church and state.

We reaffirm our opposition, declared in the republican platform of 1888, to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise, to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens.

We heartily invoke the action already taken upon this subject, and ask for such further legislation as may be required to remedy any defects in existing laws, and render their enforcement more complete and effective.

We approve the policy of extending to towns, villages and rural communities the free delivery service, now enjoyed by the larger cities of the country, and reaffirm the decision contained in the republican platform of 1888, pledging the reduction of letter postage to 1 cent at the earliest possible moment consistent with the maintenance of the postoffice department and the highest class of postal service.

We favor the spirit and evidence of reform in the civil service, and the wise and consistent enforcement by the republican party of the laws regulating the same.

The construction of the Nicaragua canal is of the highest importance to the American people, both as a measure of national defense and to build up and maintain an American commerce, and it should be controlled by the United States government.

We favor the admission of the remaining territories at the earliest practicable date having due regard to the interests of the people of the territories and of the United States. All the federal offices appointed for the territories should be selected from the bona fide residents thereof, and the right of self government should be accorded as far as practicable.

We favor the cession, subject to the homestead laws of the land, public lands, to the states and territories in which they lie, under such congressional restrictions as to disposition, reclamation and occupancy by settlers as will secure the maximum benefits to the people.

The world's Columbian Exposition is a great national undertaking, and congress should promptly enact such reasonable legislation in aid thereof as will insure a disbursement of the expenses and obligations attendant thereon, and the attainment of results commensurate with the dignity and progress of the nation.

We sympathize with all wise and legitimate efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of intemperance and promote morality. Ever mindful of the services and sacrifices of the men who saved the life of the nation, we pledge anew to the veteran soldiers of the republic a watchful care and recognition of their just claims upon a grateful people.

We commend the able, patriotic and thorough American administration of President Harrison. Under his country has enjoyed remarkable prosperity and the honor and dignity of the nation at home and abroad, have been faithfully maintained, and we offer the record of the pledges he has made as a guarantee of faithful performance in the future.
