Tuttle, the man who attempted to murder G. P. Baldwin at Liberty in July, 1891, cutting his victim's throat with a razor, has been captured and is being held for requisition by Chariton, Ia., officers.
Three burglars entered the rooms over the Farmers bank at Fairmont and secured $150 worth of plunder. Citizens started in pursuit of the thieves and captured one, but the other two are still at liberty.
Daniel Troxell, aged 75 years, died suddenly at his home near Harvard. He was one of the earliest settlers in Clay county, having taken a homestead in Marshall township twenty years ago. He was a charter member of the first church organized in the county.
While out hunting near Kearney Frank Lord had the seat of his pants torn away and was quite seriously wounded in the thigh by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a companion. Lord was stooping over getting a drink at the time of the accident.
A telegram was received from the city marshal at Chariton, Ia., stating that they held under arrest at that place, one Tuttle, alias Hicks, who some time in July, 1891, assaulted Mr. Baldwin of Liberty, this state, whose recovery for a time was very doubtful. An officer went at once to apprehend the prisoner and bring him into Gage county for trial.
Joe Wahl and William Stader, who assaulted Wensel Weiden in Frontier county and who were captured in Kansas City, are now in jail at Curtis, having been held for appearance at district court for assault with intent to commit murder. Weiden has poor chance to survive, and it may be the boys will yet have to answer to the charge of murder.
Wallace Birch, yardmaster for the Union Pacific at Kearney, was nearly killed last week while uncoupling cars. The wheel caught his foot, threw him down and tore the skin from the bone on the right leg from the knee down. The doctor thinks no bones are broken, but the flesh may slough away from the bone before healing when the leg will have to come off.
Virgil Rice, foreman of the Torrey Cattle company, passed through Cheyenne with Charles Natcher, the horse thief, on his way to Fremont county. The horse thief was captured about six miles south of Alliance, Neb., with some thirty head of horses in his possession. The horses are of all kinds and brands and are supposed to belong to various cattle companies and ranchmen.
Sheriff M. S. McGrew of Tekamah was in Lincoln last week and secured requisition papers for the return to Nebraska of John Woods, a barber, formerly of Lincoln, but who is wanted in Tekamah for running off with an outfit intended for tonsorial uses, some clothing and jewelry. He also took a pocket book containing $11 from a young woman with whom he had been keeping company. He is now under arrest at Guthrie Center, Ia.
Peter Persons, who runs a livery stable in South Omaha was found the other morning lying on his bed at the stable. His body lay in a pool of blood and near by was found a bloody club. His skull was fractured and his face was a mass of bruises. His injuries were thought to be fatal and he was removed to the hospital. Frank Bender, alias Rodeman, who had been staying with Persons for some time, was there the night before and is suspected of doing the deed. He cannot be found.

A committee consisting of A. L. Clark, Dr. J. N. Lyman, W. J. McClary and Isaac Ledloy of Hastings went to Kearney to investigate the water power and ascertain its advantages. The committee returned very favorably impressed with the Kearney canal and favorably inclined toward the proposed Hastings canal.
At Dakota City the suit for $10,000 damages instituted by Mrs. Alice E. Sides against P. J. Keefe, William Riley, et al. for the death of her husband caused by whisky sold by the defendants, which was commenced in the district court, resulted in a disagreement of the jury after being out sixteen hours. At one time the jury stood nine to three in favor of awarding damages.
In the case at Hastings, of the estate of John Yeazel, deceased, against the estate of Abraham Yeazel, deceased, a verdict was rendered in district court in favor of plaintiff for $5,215.54. Abraham Yeazel held funds in trust for his brothers and sisters from the estate of John Yeazel, their father, and died without an accounting. The other heirs then brought suit against the estate for funds so held.
Jacob Fries of Dubois placed a telegraph pole and a railroad tie across the B. & M. railroad track between Table Rock and Pawnee City, and a freight train ran against the obstruction, but was not wrecked. Fries was arrested, and was bound over to appear at the April term of district court at Pawnee City, his bond being fixed at $1,000. The prisoner admitted his guilt, but does not seem to be very bright. He is about 23.
A small wreck occurred at Wyomere, on the B. & M. The switch engine was in the west end of the yard when train No. 74 came in on the same track. The result was a badly smashed engine, two tenders and one box car. Engineer Tucker of the switch engine saw there was danger and made a heroic effort to get out of the way, but the train was coming too fast and caught them at the O'Dell switch. No one was hurt.
Mr. White, contractor for the new government postoffice building in Fremont, arrived last week from St. Joseph, Mo., accompanied by his foreman, Mr. White states that he proposes to go right ahead immediately with the work and as part of the material is already on the ground, the foundation walls will be commenced at once. The contractor also says it is his purpose to employ Fremont labor as far as possible in the construction of the building.
Charles Calloway (colored) of Omaha, was last week sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for arson, he having set fire to a drug store. "Who hired you to do it?" Judge Ogden asked, "Mr. Raley. He promised me $50 and a suit of clothes." "Would you kill a man if anyone offered you your price?" inquired the judge. "Oh, no, sir," Calloway hastened to affirm. It is understood that Calloway will testify against Raley who hired him, he says, to do the burning.
The annual meeting of the Southeastern Nebraska Educational association convened in Beatrice last week, with a large attendance of educators from the southern portion of the state. The meetings were held in the high school building, presided over by President C. C. Pool. The evening formal reception was tendered the visitors. President L. M. Pemberton of the city board of education delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by C. E. Atkinson of Fairbury. President Pool then delivered the annual address, which was followed by a social reception.
Some time ago John Carnes of Plattsmouth perfected a horse trade with two young strangers. The actions of the men aroused suspicion, and when John met one of the fellows last week he resolved to make them tell how they first obtained the team. He said the team was purchased by him and his partner from a farmer near Mapleton, Neb. Not satisfied with this the man was taken to the telegraph office and the Mapleton farmer telegraphed. When an unfavorable answer came back they were lodged in jail. Later, a confession was secured from one of them that he was wanted for burglary committed at Sioux City. They gave their names as Scott and Sanford.
The following were elected officers of the Southeastern Nebraska Educational association: H. T. Hosie of Auburn, president; Miss Evelyn Birss of Peru, vice president; Miss Ida A. Tew of Beatrice, secretary and treasurer; executive committee, C. K. Atkinson of Fairbury, J. S. Baer of Lincoln, Miss Mattie H. Gregg of Beatrice. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association in Beatrice. The association was entertained by a lecture on "American Politics and Politicians" at the Paddock opera house by ex-Senator J. J. Ingalls of Boston. Upon the conclusion of Mr. Ingalls' lecture the prize banner for the county having the largest percentage of teachers present was awarded to Nemaha.
Many months ago a band of "white caps" called as the farm house of Bernard Zelting, several miles from Schuyler, and proceeded to discipline him. The guardians of the public good accused Zelting of cutting a neighbor's harness, and although he strenuously denied the charge, the guardians put a rope around his neck and hung him up three or four times. They finally left him on the ground more dead than alive. Zelting recognized his assailants and had them arrested. They were tried and convicted, and released under bonds pending a decision on motion for a new trial. Judge Marshall overruled the motion, and two of the "white caps," Phelps and Sabine were sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. Peter Botsch, Henry Botsch and John Foehlich were sentenced to the county jail for ninety days.
Auburn was last week the scene of a shooting which resulted in the death of a man and the dangerous wounding of a woman. Ed Sterrett, a veterinary surgeon living in Auburn, went into Iowa and a few days ago received a letter from his wife at Hamburg informing him that she had left him. He returned home to find the report true, and that she had taken with her all the valuable papers and things about the house and left the city. He went to Beatrice in search of her and both he and his wife returned to Auburn. Later they met on the streets. He spoke a few words to her and then threw his left arm around her neck, drew a revolver and fired at the woman. The ball entered the mouth and passed through the neck. He at once turned the weapon upon himself and pulled the trigger. The ball entering the forehead just over the left eye, causing instant death.

SLATES OF NO GOOD.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND PROPOSES TO SMASH THEM.
He Will Not Be Bound by Agreements of Delegations in Regard to Appointments.—The Commissioner of Pensions—Thos. F. Bayard Appointed Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain—Evading the Chinese Exclusion Act—Cholera Reports Do Not Create Alarm in Washington.
President Cleveland Announces His Policy in Regard to Appointments.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—There were no signs of a letting up in the rush of office seekers at the white house yesterday.
"But, Mr. President, what are you going to do with the 'slates' that the congressional delegations are fixing up about the distribution of local patronage?"
"I am going to smash them."
This is the question reported to have been put to the president by a congressman and the reply of the president. It is said to have followed a conversation which is said to have proceeded some time between the president and several members of a certain delegation of congressmen over the question of local appointments. They learned that while the agreement of a delegation upon local officers may have weight, the president will not be bound by it. So plain has this policy of the president become, that the Alabama delegation had decided to abandon its slate heretofore agreed upon. This lead will be followed by other delegations with the result that probably the contest for office will be a free-for-all race, and each candidate will run on his own merits. This will probably be satisfactory to many congressmen, for it will relieve them of considerable responsibility.
A strong pressure is being brought to bear on Mr. Cleveland to have him select a commissioner of pensions from a state east of the Alleghenies. Those who are exerting influence to this end argue that the west had the office too many times, and it is now the turn for the east. But he intimated that the new commissioner will be a young man of well known ability, not too closely allied to practical politics.
The president told a recent caller that he had information which led him to believe that the force of clerks in the pension office could be reduced by about 400 or 500 to the benefit of the government, not only in economy, but in the more rapid disposition of the work.
Bayard for Great Britain.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—The president sent the senate the following nominations:
Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware, ambassador extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain. The nomination was confirmed without reference.
Ministers—J. D. Porter of Tennessee to Chili; J. A. McKenzie of Kentucky to Peru; Lewis Baker of Minnesota to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Sansalvador; P. M. Young of Georgia, to Guatemala and Honduras; Edwin Dunn of Ohio to Japan.
John M. Reynolds of Pennsylvania, assistant secretary of the interior.
J. I. Hall of Georgia, assistant attorney general.
T. M. Stephen of Illinois, consul to Annaberg.
Newton B. Eustis of Louisiana to be second secretary of legation of the United States at Paris.
Lawrence Maxwell, jr., of Ohio to be solicitor general, vice Charles H. Aldrich, resigned.
First on the list of nominations and first in long public service and in diplomatic experience was Thomas F. Bayard, and it was by unanimous opinion declared fitting that he should be the first of the ambassadors created by the last congress. His distinguished record is well known.
James A. McKenzie of Kentucky, who goes as minister to Peru, besides representing his state in congress, has been a delegate to the last national democratic convention. It was McKenzie who made the celebrated speech at the St. Louis convention, wherein he likened Cleveland to a thoroughbred Kentucky race horse, ready for victory. At the Chicago convention he broke away from Henry Watterson's lead and by another timely speech carried a number of his fellow delegates from Kentucky over to the Cleveland line.
James D. Porter nominated to be minister to Chili to succeed Patrick Egan, is a resident of Paris, Tenn., where he is at present engaged in the practice of law. He is an able lawyer, was assistant secretary of state under Mr. Bayard and from 1874 to 1876 was governor of Tennessee.
Merice M. B. Young, nominated as minister to Guatemala, was a distinguished major-general of cavalry in the confederate army.
Another Chinese Trick.
WASHINGTON, March 31.—Another sleek scheme to evade the exclusion act is causing considerable trouble to government officials. The scheme is practiced principally on the Pacific coast and is that Chinese laborers who may have accumulated a certain sum of money, put it into Chinese business firms, the real officers of which, for a consideration, declare the newcomer a partner. The latter is thereby allowed the privileges of a "merchant," and is entitled on leaving the country to return to the United States as other merchants can do. Assistant Secretary Spaulding has sent instructions to collectors on the coast to closely scrutinize the certificates which may be presented at their ports by returning Chinese and to require evidence of the standing of the holders as bona fide merchants, actively engaged in business. In no case should Chinese be permitted to enter as merchants unless their right to the privilege is clearly established, and where it appears that the practice therein referred to is attempted, the certificate should be ignored, the holders arrested and the facts reported to the department.
Does Not Create Alarm at Washington.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—The cablegrams announcing cholera in Austria and Russia do not create any alarm in official circles here. No official confirmation of the news has been received

VIGOROUS SWINGING OF THE POLITICAL BEHEADER.
How Secretary Carlisle Proposes to Give All States their Just Share of Offices—Diplomatic Appointments—Valuable Parchments that Will Not be Sent to the Fair—Expenditures of the Bering Sea Commission to be Looked Into—Early Adjournment of the Senate Predicted.
Morton Swinging the Ax.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1.—Secretary Morton of the Department of Agriculture has devised a plan to test the fitness of applicants for positions not governed by the civil service rules. Each applicant, on filing his application, will be required to answer a set of questions as to his moral and physical qualifications for the work which he will be required to perform. He hopes by this means to secure a high standard in the department.
Mr. Morton has appointed five agents in the department of agriculture to take effect April 1. They are: Frank A. Dillilush of Illinois, vice S. D. Fisher, removed; A. S. Mercer of Wyoming, vice E. A. Slack, removed; G. L. Fryer of Tennessee, vice T. H. Reeves, removed; L. M. Fay of Wisconsin, vice H. L. C. Adams, removed; Nathan Pratt of Detroit, vice D. B. Stewart, removed.
Carlisle Making Changes.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—Secretary Carlisle is having prepared a list of the employes of the treasury department, with the salaries they receive, and will have it arranged by states. When completed it will show the number of employes credited to each state, the aggregate salary the people from that state receive, and a column showing what, by law of appointment, the state should receive. The list has been prepared already to such an extent as to show a great disproportion among the states. The District of Columbia is credited with more than 1,000 out of 4,000 employes, when its quota, it is said, should only be eleven people. Secretary Carlisle it is understood, intends by every means within his power, to reduce the District of Columbia's list of employes, that the states may receive their proper quota.
Secretary Carlisle was busy today, this being the last of the month, in making official changes in the treasury department. He called for the resignation of H. C. McLean, chief clerk of the architect's office, and in his place appointed Charles E. Kemper of Staunton, Va. The resignation of Frank Smith, a chief of division in the architect's office, was tendered and accepted.
General Daniel McCauley, late appointment clerk of the treasury department, was appointed chief clerk of the immigration bureau, vice Hall resigned.
Two messengers were discharged and two democrats appointed in their places. One of the discharged men had been in his place twenty-one years.
Diplomatic Appointments.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—Two diplomatic appointments are expected to be made shortly. They are: Mr. Hannis Taylor of Mobile, Ala., to be minister to Spain and Mr. John Vanalen of New York, to be minister to Italy.
These appointments are believed to have been practically decided upon. Mr. Taylor is a lawyer of ability and an author of some repute.
Mr. Vanalen is a man of great wealth. He married into the Astor family and is a gentleman of culture and refinement.
In regard to Minister Eustis and the French mission, it has been practically decided to renominate him to the senate as ambassador as a safer plan of action than for the president to assume the authority of designating him as such under his confirmation as minister plenipotentiary. In order that Mr. Eustis may have the distinction of being the second ambassador appointed, it is more than probable that his nomination will be sent to the senate early next week, probably Monday.
Will Not be Sent to the Fair.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—The original drafts of the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States will not be sent to the world's fair. Secretary Gresham has decided the risk too great and the precious old parchments will not be exposed to the perils of the journey and the chance of mishaps while on exhibition.
All preparations had been made to send both documents to the exposition, though there was some opposition to the project at the time it was decided upon. It was thought that they would form the most interesting portion of the exhibit of the state department and that it would be but justice to the millions who would visit Chicago to give them a look at the corner stones of the government. The secretary of state, however, under whose charge the documents are, has come to the conclusion that even so great an occasion does not warrant imperiling the documents. A railway journey, even under the most fortunate circumstances and the most careful handling of the instruments, would necessarily involve a certain amount of wear and tear of the fragile parchments.
Will Cut Down Their Allowances.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1.—Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle have been looking into the expenditures of the Bering sea commission, and it will not be surprising if the conclusion is reached that some of the allowances are extravagant and should be discontinued.
It appears that everybody connected with the commission has been given very liberal allowances which the officials of the administration include under the head of useless extravagance. There are, it is said, eight or ten officials connected with the commission who are receiving more than double pay by drawing from $6 to $15 per day in addition to their regular salaries, which range from $1,500 to $3,500 per annum. The rumors of these expenditures have made quite a stir in the de-

Looks for an Early Adjournment.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—A republican senator who stands high in the official investigation of private contracts and the reorganization schemes which come to nothing this session. It could not be considered while the tested seats were under consideration, and when that subject was disposed of the senate would probably adjourn inside of two days after the president notifies the senate that he has no further business to present to it.
Propose to Investigate Roach.
WASHINGTON, March 29.—After numerous conferences among themselves the republican members of the senate have decided that they will insist on an investigation of the charges which have been made in the public mind relative to the character of Mr. Roach, recently elected a senator by the legislature of North Dakota and now occupying a seat in the senate as a republican. Republicans say that it is the duty of the democrats to ask the committee for this purpose to be appointed, if Mr. Roach himself does not make the request. If this is not done it is understood that a motion, such a purpose in view, will be introduced by a republican. It is also understood that the republicans will protest against any attempt to adjourn this extraordinary session of the senate until the matter has been brought before it.
MARRIED AT A FUNERAL.
Daughter of Colonel Loney Carries Her Dead Mother's Wishes.
BALTIMORE, Md., March 29.—The funeral of the wife of Col. Henry Loney, the commander of the 1st Regiment Veteran Corps, which took place yesterday, was preceded by the marriage of Col. Loney's daughter, Miss Matilda Loney, and First Lieutenant George A. Linn of the Engineer Corps of the United States army, stationed at Fort Monroe. The ceremony was held in the home of Mrs. Loney, and was attended by a number of friends. Mrs. Loney wanted to be present, the physician advised a postponement, she feared the excitement would be too much for the mother. By general consent the wedding was postponed to-day. In the meantime, however, Mrs. Loney died, and just before the funeral it was decided by father and daughter that the wishes of the mother should be fulfilled in so far as the presence of the immediate family and couple, standing beside the bier in the parlor of the Loney residence, was united by the Rev. Dr. T. H. Eccles. Immediately after the ceremony the body of the bride's mother was taken to Emmanuel P. E. Church, where the funeral services were held.
TO MAKE WAR ON THE TRUSTS.
Donnelly Wants the States to Co-Operate Against the Coal Barons.
ST. PAUL, Minn., March 31.—Senator Donnelly introduced just before the adjournment of the Legislature yesterday a joint resolution reciting that "a gigantic Inter-State coal conspiracy exists, and requesting the Governor of Minnesota to correspond with the Governors of all the northern and western States, as well as with the Governors of Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware and Maryland, and request them to appoint commissioners to meet on the first Monday in June of this year at such place as the Governors may agree upon, to consider together and formulate such remedial measures as may be necessary to stop this great evil; and submit the same to their respective States of States and their consideration and action; and take all other steps which they may deem wise and proper for the protection of the members of said unscrupulous combinations in their respective States."
Illinois Nonagenarian Dead.
HINDSBLE, Ill., April 1.—W. J. Holcomb, Sr., died at his residence in Hinsdale at 10 o'clock last night. He was 96 years and 2 months old. Mr. Holcomb came to this State in 1840 and was identified with its history until age prevented active participation. He leaves two sons, W. H. Holcomb, General Manager of Transportation at the Columbian Exposition, and C. F. Holcomb of Colorado Springs, Colo., and one daughter, Mrs. M. M. Shroy of Paxton, Ill. Funeral services will be held at his residence in Hinsdale, 10:30 a. m. to-morrow. The remains will be carried to Knoxville, Ill., for burial.
