

CONGRESS IN AUGUST.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND COMES TO THE RESCUE.

A Proclamation Calling Congress Together in the Dog Days—The Law-Makers Notified to be on Hand August 7th—Reasons Actuating the Chief Executive to Change his Original Plans—Distress and Uncertainty Demands that Something be Done to Restore Confidence and Stability to the Country—Text of the Proclamation.

President Cleveland Acts.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The President left here at 4:30 yesterday afternoon over the Pennsylvania road for Buzzard's Bay, Mass. He will be absent from the capital three weeks or more, his stay depending upon circumstances.

Victoria Alone is Serene.

Queen Victoria leads a quieter and less ruffled life than the sovereign of any other country in Europe. She is not bothered with the business of running her government; she never gets involved in the squabbles of parties; she moves from one of her royal residences to another according to her pleasure; she indulges in a foreign tour whenever she is disposed; she does not need even to keep an eye on the prince of Wales nowadays, and the New York Sun thinks that her domestic cares must be light.

Sweet Corn.

Genuine sweet corn is one of the things that city people—who stay in the city—know nothing about that is worth knowing. The "sweet corn" they buy in the market, hours after it has been gathered, has nearly if not quite lost its saccharine quality, and is little better than common field corn in the milk. To be enjoyed in all its pristine sweetness, sweet corn must be plucked from the stalk and dumped forthwith into the pot. Then—if it is indeed sweet corn, and not a miserable pretender to that distinction—it is food for the gods.

It Was a Surprise.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—There seems every reason to believe that all the speculations as to the time of the meeting of congress indulged in prior to 1 p. m. yesterday were guess work. Some of them, as it turns out now, were very lucky guesses, and others were equally unfortunate. It is almost conclusive established that the calling of an August session was not determined upon until after midday, and consequently could not have been communicated to any person in confidence or otherwise, days in advance. The plain facts appear to be that the disturbance of values arising from the uncertainties of the situation grew so alarming that Mr. Cleveland was at last compelled to acknowledge that "the unexpected contingencies necessitating an earlier meeting of congress," which he spoke of in his celebrated interview of June 5, had arrived. The action of the British government in India had brought matters to a crisis. Previous to that startling event, Mr. Cleveland had manifested a firm determination to adhere to his plan of calling congress together in September.

Uncle Sam's Receipts for the Year Will Be in Excess of His Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Treasury officials are deep in the mystery of figures today, closing up the vast money accounts of the government for the fiscal year 1892-93. The figures will be officially proclaimed tomorrow and will show in round numbers that the total receipts for the year have aggregated $395,000,000, while the expenditures will foot up $395,000,000, leaving a surplus of receipts above expenditures of $2,000,000. This was the estimate submitted by Secretary Foster to congress as the probable surplus of the fiscal year closed yesterday and results prove it to have been prophetically accurate. In this estimate, however, Mr. Foster did not take into account the payment of the Cherokee Indian claim of $3,000,000. Had this not been paid the receipts would have been $5,000,000 in excess of the expenditures.

A Word About Bath Sponges.

A bath sponge is a satisfactory toilet article only when it is well cared for. If it is put away half cleaned and dripping wet it will soon become offensive, and then its restoration to cleanliness is very difficult. Every time a bath sponge is used it should be washed with soap and warm water, rinsed in cold water, and then squeezed, not wrung, vigorously. In the summer it should be hung in the open air, and when possible in the sunlight. In winter it should be dried by artificial heat. A sponge should never be shut in a box, and the best place to keep it is on a hanging earthen tray or in an open basket of wire. A good bathing sponge has rather coarse pores, but is strong and soft in texture. The most expensive sponges, however, are the ones which have the very finest holes and a silken texture. They are used for bathing little children and by surgeons.

More American Gold Comes Home.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The steamer Columbia, which arrived from Southampton, brings $500,000 in gold coin, consigned to Baring, Magoun & Co., New York.

Not Poverty, but Distrust that Affects the Country.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Ex-Senator John B. Henderson of Missouri, who has devoted long and careful study to the matters of finance, has addressed to Secretary Carlisle a communication in which he says: "I promised to give you in writing the substance of my statements made to you in conversation touching the monetary condition of the country."

"I then expressed the belief that the present stringency of our currency is produced, not by any lack or insufficiency of our currency, but by the loss of confidence produced among business men because of the bad quality and inferior character of a large part of that currency."

Mr. Henderson then gives a history of our financial legislation from which he says that neither individual prosperity nor commercial prosperity is controlled by the circulating medium and that the present financial distress is due entirely to the silver acts of 1873 and of 1890. In conclusion he says: "Of the five of $5,000,000 of gold which we began in 1873, none can now be found in circulation. What has not gone to foreign countries, enjoying the blessing of a single standard, has been hoarded, not to re-appear until its holders have some guarantee, if loaned, that it will be repaid in money equally good. The gold certificates not already redeemed upon the government for redemption are no longer seen. The United States notes for redemption which the $100,000,000 gold reserve is supposed to be held for by the government, constitute the best security of national banks, and hence the greenback is rapidly disappearing. The national bank notes are necessarily held, if possible, by the banks issuing them in fear that in the extremity of distress their redemption may soon be asked in gold. Nothing is left but silver certificates and treasury notes. The banks are unable to maintain their lawful reserves. Hence they can give no relief to the suffering community."

"The government treasury is depleted of its surplus. Government expenditures exceed government receipts. Extravagant appropriations, made upon a silver basis, must now be paid in a medium of value. The heedless promise to pay has now run its own course and its performance comes with suffering and tears."

"Whereas, The present perilous condition is largely the result of a financial policy which the executive branch of the government finds embodied in unwise laws which must be executed until repealed by congress."

Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, in performance of a constitutional duty, do by this proclamation, declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the convening of both houses of the congress of the United States at the capitol in this city of Washington on the 7th day of August next, at 12 o'clock, to the end that people may be relieved through legislation from present and impending danger and distress."

All those entitled to act as members of the Fifty-third congress are required to take notice of this proclamation and attend at the time and place above stated.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States at the city of Washington, on the 30th day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and seventeenth.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

The president had left directions for the issuance of the proclamation before his departure for Gray Gables. The determination to call the extra session the first week in August instead of the first week in September, it is understood, was only definitely arranged at yesterday morning's cabinet session, after giving full weight to the numerous telegrams received from all parts of the country urging this course. A consideration which caused the president to change his mind was foreshadowed in the remark made by one of his cabinet officers two days ago, that if the president received reasonable assurance that there was a likelihood of a prompt repeal of the so-called Sherman purchase law, he might be disposed to call congress together earlier than he had announced. It is inferred from the fact that the president has done so that he considers that he has obtained the assurance he desired.

Most of the cabinet members have followed the president's example and left the city, or are leaving the city for brief vacations. Those who remain say the president's proclamation speaks for itself and decline to discuss the situation further.

G. N. CLAYTON, N. W. P. Art., Omaha, Neb.

The author of "The History of Brazil" tells of a species of monkey called "preachers." Every morning and evening these monkeys assemble in the woods. One takes a higher position than the rest and makes a sign with his forepaw. At this signal the others sit around him and listen. When they are all seated he begins to utter a series of sounds. When he stops these cries he makes another signal with his paw, and the others cry out until he makes a third signal, upon which they become silent again. This author, Mr. Maregrove, asserts that he was a witness to these preachings, but no other traveler has confirmed the statement.
