

comfort and improvement and to personal enjoyment when used. The many, who live betothers and enjoy life more, with mothers and enjoy life more, with expenditure, by more promptly ing the world's best products to eds of physical being, will attest liue to health of the pure liquid re principles embraced in the y, Syrup of Figs.

excellence is due to its presenting form most acceptable and pleasure.

form most acceptable and pleas-the taste, the refreshing and truly cial properties of a perfect lax-effectually cleansing the system, ling colds, headaches and fevers ermanently curing constipation. th the approval of the medical sion, because it acts on the Kid-Liver and Bowels without weakthem and it is perfectly free from up of Figs is for sale by all drug-n 50c and $1 bottles, but it is man-nred by the California Fig Syrup whose name is printed on every also the name, Syrup of Figs, eing well informed, you will not tany substitute if offered.

Dyspepsia. I had a fullness eating, and a heavy load in the f my stomach. Sometimes a ly sickness would overtake I was working for Thomas enry, Druggist, Allegheny City, whose employ I had been for years. I used August Flower weeks. I was relieved of all e. I can now eat things I not touch before. I have d twenty pounds since my rey. J. D. Cox, Allegheny, Pa. @ rated in the World!

EDUCATIONAL.

mmercial Colleger

Term orens Sept. 1. Board for 3 hours work. Send Catalog. Address Rohrbough Bros., Omaha, Neb.

WNELL HALL, YOUNG LADIES

meat school is now in its twentieth year under me Rector and Lady Principal. Fall term spent 30, 1883, For catalogue and particulars,

ROBERT DOHERTY, S.T.D., Rector, Omaha, Nob

DUCTED BY DOMINICAN SISTERS.
Plan of instruction carried out in this institunities every advantage which can contribute to dedication. Unequalled as a health resort, ed five miles from Dubuque, I.a., ten miles from
a. III. For further particulars address.
OTHER PRIORESS. St. Chara's Convent,
Sinsingwa, Grant Gounty, Wis-

MAHA BUSINESS HOUSES. MA SLATE & ROOFING CO., FELT and FING, Slate Roofing, Slate Blackboards, Etc.

nts, Awnings, Flags & CO., 708-5 8.

lents. Trade-Marks.

LEMONADE.

de! I sin thy praises! When it rets as hot as blazes
Then thy cooling virtues shine.
When June comes with torrid breeze
Then thine acid sweetness pleases.
More refreshing far than wine

Then thy flavor so delicious,
Titillates the taste capricious
Of the veriest epicure.
And the clinking in the glasses
Of the broken ice surpasses
Music of the spheres, I'm sura

Lemonade! I sing thy praises,
Not with long, high-sounding phrases.
But with zeal no less intense.
And to think that he who'd try thee
Almost any day can buy thee
For the small sum of five cents!

A FORCED LEAD.

There were only three people in the room besides the whist players; the old gentleman who sat in the corner of the room and was always reading, and Julia McCullough and young Stevens, who were in another corner, half shielded by the Japanese screen.

Of the card players one was old Mr. McCullough, to whom whist was the business of life. A second was old Mrs. McCullough, who played excellently, but never could be utterly deaf to the claims of the outside world. The third was Mr. Richmond, a successful lawyer, something over 50, with closely-cut, iron-gray hair, quick, keen eyes, a manner which very likely had been nervous, but was now only incisive, and an utterly absorbed attention to the matter in hand. People said Richmond had had a disappointment in love, which had kept him a bachelor and perhaps encouraged the habit of absorption— a fact which caused Julia McCullough and young Stevens to regard him with deep and respectful sympathy. The fourth player was old Mr. McCullough's partner, and just at present she groped under such a cloud of disapproval that it would have been a relief to have escaped notice alto-gether. She was a silent, smooth, unassertive, unmarried woman, whose game Mr. McCullough had trained, trimmed and pruned in season and out of season until, as a matter of self-preservation, she had learned to play better than he.

But it was owing to her that Mr. McCullough now fidgeted in his chair and glared at a nine-spot as if each club on its surface were a weapon of assassination. It was but 8 o'clock in the evening, and she was playing only till the stage came to take her to the train on which she was to leave-break up the game and leave. No wonder Mr. McCullough was almost speechless with rage. wonder that Mrs. McCullough fatally wandered, so that she mistook a knave for a king and pulled in her opponent's trick. Even Mr. Richmond, who scarcely knew how Miss Selwyn looked, so rarely he raised his eyes from the table, felt that her conduct was injurious.

"May I be permitted to inquire, Charlotte," asked Mr. McCullough in an awful voice, "since when a knave has been advanced to the distinction of taking a king of the same "Gracious!" admitted Mrs. Mc-Cullough, pushing the card to Miss Selwyn, who was so crowded by the universal disapproval that she received them as a free gift.

"Of course it is impossible to be even decently attentive in the midst of such willful disturbance," remarked Mr. McCullough.

"If it were not a case of illness,"began Miss Selwyn, agologetically.

ill," snapped Mr. McCullough. "Do you suppose Susan will be able to get there, too?" asked Mrs. Mc-

"I hope so," returned Miss Selwyn. "Come, come, Charlotte!" ex-claimed Mr. McCullough; "for heaven's sake, let us play while we can!" Julia McCullough and young Stevens were talking in low tones behind the screen. "Did you really pin it up?" asked Julia, with apprehensive pleasure. "I really did," returned young Stevens, "in the hall. I knew how strained the situation would be tonight, and as it is my last evening I wanted it to be peaceful. They might have asked one of us to take a hand. "I wouldn't have done it," said Julia, firmly.

"Yes you would, you poor lamb, or I would have taken your place and lost my temper. I can get along with your uncle anywhere but at the whist-table."

One of the hotel servants came to the door—the stage was leaving. Miss Selwyn rose, looking ready to cry. The cards had just been dealt.

"I am very sorry," she said.
"Sorry!" growled Mr. McCullough; "we may have to play with a dummy!" "There isn't a soul in the house that can play," sighed Mrs. McCullough. Richmond rose to go with Miss Selwyn to the door. He put her in the carriage and returned. Not a word had been spoken. He walked restlessly to a bookcase and read the titles. The old man in the corner buried himself deeper in his pages; the young girl and her companion became more involved in winding worsted. Mrs. McCullough sorted her hand mechanically. Mr. McCullough drummed on the table and looked ready to burst with rage. It was as if nature were preparing for a cataclysm. Suddenly they all, except the reader, looked up. A woman stood in the doorway-fine-looking, though not a young woman. Her gray hair rose straight from her handsome forehead; her clear complexion was a little flushed, but she spoke with perfect self-possession.

"I saw the notice pinned up in the hall," she said. "I am a good whistplayer. Would you like to have me make up the hand?" Young Stevhens rose with a side glance at Julia, who looked a little

"Pinned up in the hall?" repeated old Mr. McCullough, doubtfully. "Yes." she said distinctly, with a swift glance that took in all the occupants of the room; "the notice saying that there were three whistplayers in the east card-room who wanted a fourth at a quarter past eight. Only good players need apply."

Richmond glanced at the young man with a certain severity, behind which was a gleam of amusement, and came toward the card table.

"1"—began young Stevens; but it was old Mrs. McCollough who settled the matter.

"Well," she interrupted, "do come and sit down. I'm sure I don't know how you got here, but we're glad enough to see you. I'll play with Mr. McCullough because I am used to him. You can play with my part-

"We're wasting a lot of precious time," said Mr. McCullough, and the handsome woman came forward from the doorway and picked up the cards that lay at her place. Richmond seated himself opposite. and for ten minutes not a word was spoken. She did play well—one of those intelligent, pliable games which show science, memory and compre-hension. Richmond was delighted with her. If at a critical point he planned a brilliant stroke, she caught his intention instantly and co-oper-ated. He was not curious about her personally; he had barely looked at her; she was simply his skillful com-rade. It was her deal, and as she picked up the cards she shuffled them once. Richmond's eyes were on her fingers, and he started a little. She mixed the eards by an odd bit of manipulation. He had never seen but one other person do it. The next time he watched her; then he glanced from her fingers to her face in sudden. sharp inquiry. Her eyes were on his; they were a look that might have been triumph. The game went on. The low tones of the young people were almost whispers.

"If you had that ace you were a long time playing it, Charlotte," said Mr. McCullough. at the endof a hand. "One doesn't win by being in a hurry," she answered, easily.

"No," said the stranger, speaking for almost the first time, "one does

The words were simple, but to Richmond's ear they were emphatic. He looked at her with a certain air of suspense, and again she met his

ook. Another hand was played.
"You did it that time," said Richmond, at the end of it, as he scored three tricks.

"Yes," said she, smiling, "I thought it was time I took matters into my own hands."

He turned a little pale, and dealt the cards with his eyes on her face. The evening slipped on; the game was close and interesting. "That play of yours was an unusual one," said Richmond, "but successful.". "Yes," she answered, slowly; "I broke all the rules to do it. It was a forced lead, but there seemed nothing else to do." There were bright red spots in her cheeks and she held her handsome head very high as she spoke. He laid down the cards as if to stop playing; then-"It saved the game," he said concisely, as he picked them up again.

"I thought you had that queen, Charlotte," said Mr. McCullough in ireful reproach, "from the way you played before."

"It is dangerous to draw inferences," said Richmond quickly, looking across the table.
"Not usually," she answered lightly, "if one knows one's partner."

"Not usually," she answered lightly, "if one knows one's partner."
At 10 o'clock Richmond, instead of taking up the hand she had just draught, and if hungry ate the coarse morsel, with double relish. dealt him, put both his arms on the table and leaned across it. Mrs. Mc-Cullough looked as if the skies would fall, and Mr. McCullough said: "Come! Come!" Richmond heeded neither of them.

"Will you tell me why you played as you did?" he asked with sudden sternness. His partner looked at him and her eyes fell for a moment. Then, with her first full composure, she answered:

"It has taken 'me a long time to return your lead; but I found, soon enough, that it is from what is my strongest suit as well."

"Come, come!" said Mr. Mc-Cullough; "a great deal of talk about a hand that is past and gone. Pick up your cards, man!"
Instead of doing so Richmond stood up. The young people stopped talk-ing, and even the reading old man laid down his book. "Is your name still Frances Effing-ham!" he asked.

"Yes," she said, rising too. "Have you come back to me!" "Yes," she said again.

went on.
"Yes." There was a pause. "Will you come with me into the parlor across the hall and let me

"I have waited a long time," he speak to you?" She bowed, and tossing down her cards she passed out of the room and he followed her. If Mrs. McCullough had ever allowed profanity in her presence she might have had to listen to it then. For several moments Mr. McCullough found nothing appropriate in his volcabulary.

"Are we never going to have a de-cent game of whist!" he thundered at last. -Storiettes.

A Notable Instance.

Professor in Natural History to His upil-Can you cite me an example of the higher order of animals, showing the absence of teeth? "Yes, sir; first, there is my grandmother-"

BakingPowder

Absolutely Puro

If you wish the lightest, sweetest, finest cake, biscuit and bread, Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in their preparation.

THE ROYAL Baking Powder surpasses all others in leavening power, in purity and wholesomeness, and is used generally in families, exclusively in the most celebrated hotels and restaurants, by the United States Army and Navy, and wherever the best and finest food is required. All teachers of cooking schools and lecturers upon culinary matters use and recommend the Royal.

Chicago Health Authorities Certify.

"I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior SER to all the others in every respect. It is purest and strongest.

"WALTER S. HAINES, M. D.

"Prof. Chemistry, Rush Medical College, "Consulting Chemist, Chicago Board of Health," etc.

Made from pure grape cream of tartar, and the only Baking Powder containing neither ammonia nor alum.

Woman Everywhere. I have found among all nations, says Ledyard, that the women adorn themselves more than the men; that, wher-ever found, the same kind, civil, obliging, humane, tender beings, that they are inclined to be gay and cheerful, timorous and modest. They do not hesitate, like man to perform a hospitable, generous action; nor are they haughty, arrogant or supercilious; but full of courtesy and fond of society; industrious, economical, ingenious; more liable in general to err than man, but in general more virtuous and performing more good actions than he. I never addressed myself in the language of deceases, and friendship to the second control of the in general more virusing more good actions than he.

ing more good actions than he.

addressed myself in the language of decency and friendship to a woman, whether civilized or savage, without receiving a decent and friendly answer. With man it has often been otherwise. In wandering over the barren plains of Denmark, through honest Sweden, Denmark, through honest Sweden, Tartar Lapland and churlish Finland, Densaia and the wide-lapland and churlish Finland, Den -if hungry, dry, cold, wet or sick, woman has ever been friendly to me, uniformly so; and to add to this virtue, so worthy of the appellation of benevo-lence, these actions have been per-

A Typical Englishman.

A Mr. Kirkbell who had never been out of England until he went to Vienna, seems to have been a typical Briton and stubbornly insular to the extent of refusing to alter the time of his watch as he traveled eastward from England. No argument would induce him to budge, and when at Vienna he had risen at unearthly hours and perambulated about the city alone, having persisted in being guided by his watch, stoutly asserted that the d—d foreign clocks were all wrong. Kirkbell was very anxious, also, to keep a record of all the places he visited, and was always jotting down in his pocketbook the names of the various stations where he had stopped or passed. "How curious it is that there are so many stations of the same name," he once remarked to a fellow passenger, who replied that he had not observed it. Kirkbell then showed his record to prove that he was right; and, sure enough, over and over again occurred the word "Ausgang," which he had confidently entered as the name of many stations on the

This pretty story is told of a distinguished lawyer. He and his wife were at a social gathering, where the question was discussed: "Who would you rather be if you were not yourself?"

His wife asked him for his reply to the question.

He answered promptly. "Your second husband, dear."

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co.. doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY. Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6 day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public. SEAL !

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo. O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

A housewife who is fond of experi-menting made one day a delicous snow pudding, flavored with preserved pine-apple. It was served with a custard sauce, also flavored with the pineapple, the solid part of the preserves being used for the pudding and the syrup for the sauce. The pudding was a great success; and, thinking to make it more success; and, thinking to make it more delicious, the next time the pudding was made, fresh, uncooked pineapple was used, and the pudding, which is a preparation of gelatine, whites of eggs, and sugar, well beaten until stiff and set away in a mould to harden. The housewife, feeling sure of a dainty dessert, waited with pride for the sweet course of her dinner. But alas, when it came to her table it was a thin watery liquid, with bits of pineapple float.

I Cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. Drugs merit, for 2c stamp. a wonderful digestive power, and that it had probably consumed the gelatine. The principle discovered has lately been applied to a new preparation of beef extract to be used for beef tea, sauces, and soups. Its superiority to other extracts is based on the fact that not only the extract of beef, but the solid meat fiber are a part of it, being made soluble by a pineapple ferment.

A Granite Camel.

One of the most curious rock forma-tions in the world is to be seen in Arizona. It is a short distance east of the stage road between Tucson and Oracle and stands on a knoll several feet above the surrounding sand hills. It is a most perfect representation of a camel and is formed of one piece of granite. It is about sixty feet high and is very white and smooth. There are very few fissures on the surface, and they strangely are in the proper place to form features. The only real project. form features. The only real projection from the surface is exactly placed for an eyebrow. The two humps are plainly to be seen, and the neck is curved beautifully. Nature Demands a Tonic.

We ought never to forget, even those of us who possess vigorous health, that we are wearing out-that the vital clock work, so to speak, must eventually run down. This, of course, we cannot prevent, because it is in the ordinary course of nature, but we may retard the too speedy arrival of decay by the use of an invigorant which takes rank of use of an invigorant which takes rank of every other—namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This century has not witnessed a parallel in success to this famous medicine, which not only sustains health by promoting vigor, but overcomes constipation, dyspepsia, chills and fever, nervousness, rheumatism and other disordered conditions of the system fostered by weakness and an impoverished condition of the blood. The feeble, persons convalescing after exhausting disease, and the aged, derive infinite benefit from the use of this helpful and efficient tonic.

Regrafting Wild Plum Trees.

There are thousands of wild plum rees as well as the wildings of cultivated sorts that are no use what ever a they are. These should be regrafted with the best and most productive cultivated varieties. There is a common idea that plum trees must be grafted very early in order to succeed. The buds start very early, and it is little was to try to make a sureller had seen to the sureller had seen to the sureller had sureller had seen to try to make a sureller had seen to the sureller had su use to try to make a swollen bud grow. But if the bud has been held tad that is to be set, the swelling of buds on the tree will not affect it.

For sick headache, dizziness or swimming in the head, pain in the tack, tody, or rheumatism, take Beecham's Pills.

The man who makes no mistakes is not loved by many people.

One of the latest uses of aluminum is one of the latest uses of aluminum is for cooking utinsils. An expert of the metallurgical laboratory of Lehigh University says, after two years of actual experience, that in point of lightness, cleanliness, durability and all-round adaptability, vessels of alluminum are the perfection of cooking utensils. He instances two boilers which have been in daily use for cooking all sorts of food, for preserving

I Cure Dyspepsia and Constipation. Dr. Shoop's lestorative Nerve Pills sent free with Medical Book to prove merit, for 2c stamp. Drug-gists, 25c. Dr. Shoop, Box W., Racine, Wis.

There are sermon; in stones only for the man who knows how to break them up.

There are four circles of Moslem brotherhood in the United States.

"Hauson's Magic Corn Salvo."
Warranted to cure, or money refunded. Ask your lruggist forit. Price 25 cents.

Some reople work themselves almost to death in trying to find rest.

PRIVE ARTORER. No fit after first day's use-volous cure. Treatise and 20 to trial bottle free sames. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Philadelphi

Some people talk most about what they know least. If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy. Mas Winslow's Sootning Synur for Children Teething. The devil never wastes any powder on a

The devil loves the man who lives only to nake others unhappy.

THE WEAKEST SPOT in your whole system, perhaps, is the liver. If that doesn't do tis work of purifying the blood, more troubles come from it than you can remember.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts upon this weak spot as nothing else can. It rouses it up to healthy, natural action. By thoroughly purifying the blood, it reaches, builds up, and invigorates every part of the system.

For all diseases that depend on the liver or the blood—Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Bilionsness; every form of Scrofula, even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages; and the most stubborn Skin and Scalp Diseases, the "Discovery" is the only remedy so unfailing and effective that it can be quaranteed.

be quaranteed.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back. On these terms, it's an insult to your in-elligence to have something else offered as just as good."

MEND YOUR UWN HARNESS WITH THOMSON'S SLOTTED CLINCH RIVETS.

No tools required. Only a hammer needed to drive and clinch them easily and quickly; feaving the clinch absolutely smooth. Requiring no hole to be made in the leather nor burr for the Rivets. They are SIKONG, 100GH and BUBABLE.
Millions now in use. All lengths, uniform or assorted, put up in boxes.

Ask your dealer for them, or send 40a. in stamps for a box of 100; assorted sizes.

JUDSON L. THOMSON MFG. CO.,

NSURE in the Farmers and Merchants Insurance Comp. by of Lincoln. Capital and Surplus over 8:09. 00s. 1552 losses paid to Nebraska people since 1885 are eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water.