A man in Pecatonics, Ill., will be buried alive, some time next week, in a grave six feet deep. Grain will be sown over him and when tall enough to cut it will be harvested and the man taken up from his resting place. Most people predict that the man will be very, yery dead when exhumed. Others claim that he will come up alive and well. We have it from no less an authority than Sir Edwin Arnold, that this feat has been accomplished several times in India. The person to be buried coes into a comatose state, the lungs are inflated to their utmost capacity and the tongue turned down so as to completely close the opening to the lungs. Th mouth, eyes, ears and nose are sealed with wax, and a solution is poured over the body which closes the pores of the skin. We are included to believe that if the Pecatonica man will make the attempt he will be successful.-Ex.

The editor of a weekly journal lately lost two of his subscribers through accidentally departing from the beaten track in his answer to correspondents: Two of his subscribers wrote to ask him his remedy for their respective troubles. No. 1, a happy father of twins, wrote to inquire the best way to get them safely oyer their teething, and No. 2 wanted to know how to protect his orchard from the myriads of grasshoppers. The editor framed his answers upon the orthodox lines, but unfortunately transposed the two names with the result that No. 1, who was blessed with twins, read in reply to his query, "cover them carefully with straw and set fire to them and the little pests after jumping about in the flames a few minutes will speedily be settled," while No. 2, plagued with grasshoppers, was told to "give a little castor oil, and rub their gums gently with a bone ring."-Ex.
