for the ample maintenance and support of an average family. If so, then we have here water enough to make 79,475 happy farming homes. We cannot take more than three-fourths of the water out of any stream, but the Minichaduza, the Pines and many lesser streams still remain and constantly flow and swell the remaining proportions of this same river to fill other canals for different communities farther down stream in the counties of Keya Paha and Boyd. It is generally admitted that this country needs irrigation and though many doubt feasibility, expert and scientific skill demonstrates the fact that there is plenty of water in sight for the accom-plishment of the desired purpose.

plishment of the desired purpose.

The one great and paramount question is how is the thing to be done?

Well, I say if there is a proper will there is going to be found a possible way. The undertaking is not such a gigantic thing as it seems to be, and my estimate is that a ditch 30 feet wide, 6 feet deep and 15 feet at the bottom can be constructed at the following figures:

In Cherry for $2,000 per mile: in Rock.

In Cherry for $2,090 per mile; in Rock, Brown and Holt for $1,700; Knox, Ante-lope and Madison at $1,900 to $2,100. My scheme does not invite corporation capital seeking the shighest rate of interest on invested money, as I think the nation or state should have it done at prime cost and tax back on the beneficiary land owners a sufficient sum to cover interest by taxing all lands in proportion to the benefits derived or even possible. These benefits to be guaged by the county water superintendent in conjunction with the board of county or township commissioners acting under the authority of the state engineer and in conformity with and under a wise code of laws to be enacted in our state legislature next winter.

But if we cannot have these needed canals and ditches built and operated in accordance with the above plans, then the next best thing is to have the work done by capitalized corporations, as it is a dire necessity. Did you ever think of the splendid possibilities on and along a 200 mile canal with more than 1000 feet fall in the way of water power rights to cities and manufacturing points? In my opinion all the counties of this water circuit should hold aconvention, and other districts should do the same, and ask the federal government to do something in the matter. I don't say that we can force Uncle Sam to build our system of irrigation, but I know we can force a lot of bright young men, educated at the public's expense in West Point and Aunapolis, out of a state of idleness and dry rot into a glorious field of useful activity which will redound to our activity which will redound to our country's general good.

Our army is reported by the newspapers to be over officered, and this being the case, I would have the surplus letailed to make an exhaustive topographic survey of the country aftersome such plan as the ordinance survey of Eng-land, giving the main lands altitudes and levels, with the number of miner's inches and horse power of water in all inches and horse power of water in all our streams. Here is a long felt want in which I'd like to see my friend, Secretary Morton, make himself a glorious niche on the path of the immortals by supplying, and I think it comes within the province of his department, though the requisition of the army officers would possibly require a special act of congress. There is so much to be said and so much to be done in this field, and as this letter is already too long. I'll close for the present by too long. I'll close for the present by saying that every man should constitute himself a committee of one and the cheif one at that, and we will soon find ourselves entering the golden gate of the promised land. God helping us, as it is said He helps those who help themselves.
