It was found that his jugular vein had just been missed, and after the wound was dressed Yo-cum was taken home. Asked as to the affair he stated that while walking on the street on the evening previous two men undertook to hold him up and he resisted, drawing a pruning knife for his protection. The footpads immedi-ately precipitated a scuffle and knocked Yocum down and then slashed his throat. The robbers sot $70.

GREAT DAY FOR BISMARCK.

He is Welcomed to Berlin as a Conquer ing Hero.

BERLIN, Jan. 27 .- For the first time since March 18, 1890, when he resigned the chancellorship of the German empire, which he had so long held, Prince Otto von Bismarck, the hero of the masses and the man who cemented the empire, entered the royal palace today, as the guest of the Emperor and the reconciliation between the young Kaiser and the venerable confidential assistant of the old emperor was completed. It is the sincere wish of all Germans that there will never be a new severance of the relations of friendship between the two.

Prince Bismarck and his family breakfasted at an early hour this morning and the family servants were delighted when they noticed that he had donned his historic cuirassier uniform, for the first time in several years. He seemed pleased at his appearance for the handsome uniform made him look like a giant when compared with his appearance in the frock coat of civilian attire which he had been in the habit of wearing recently.

When he left the castle of Friedrichsruhe the ex-chancellor was accompanied by Princess Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck and Drs. Schweninger and Chrysander. The whole neighborhood of Friedrichsruhe turned out to cheer him, and six beautiful young girls, dressed entirely in white, presented to him a handsome laurel wreath inscribed: "A Happy Journey." These six young girls also carried large baskets of flowers and preceded Prince Bismarck's party to the railroad station, strewing the road with flowers amid the vociferous cheering of the immense crowds which lined the route.

In Berlin itself the people were astir at a much earlier hour than usual and the streets soon became filled with people, in holiday attire, pressing on-ward in order to take up the best poward in order to take up the best po-sition possible along the route which the prince would follow from the Lehrte-Hanoverian railroad station through the Para through the Brandenburg gate and along Under den Linden, to the castle.

The emperor intended to welcome Prince Bismarck in person, at the railroad station, but, at the last moment, was obliged to send his regrets to the prince as he was obliged to meet the king of Saxony at the Anhalt railroad station, at exactly the same hour that Prince Bismarck was to arrive in

Just after noon Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of Emperor William, surrounded by a large and brilliant staff, rode up to the station, where he was heartily received. The station was tastefully decorated with flags, flowers, evergreens and bunting and carpets were laid on the platform and down the steps leading from the station.

In addition, there were present representatives from nearly every society in and about Berlin and a large force of municipal officers and students.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the train bearing Prince Bismarck and his party from Friederichsruhe to Berlin entered the station and slowed up at the platform. Bismarck was seen at the window of his carriage and was londly cheered.

When the train had come to a standstill Prince Bismarck stepped upon the platform where he was met by Prince Henry of Prussia and a large crowd of distinguished officers. Prince Henry extended a most cordial greeting and the ex-chancellor shook hands with matter of the distinguished. with many of the distinguished offi cers present, several of whom, especially the veterans, were affected considerably at thus meeting the iron chancellor once more.

After a short interval, during which number of most complimentary little speeches were made, Prince Bis-marck was escorted by Prince Henry to one of the imperial carriages which was in waiting at the entrance of the depot. As the prince emerged from the station and was recognized by the people, a storm of cheers arose from the crowd until it assumed a deafening, roaring sound which could be heard for miles. He was the first to enter the imperial carriage and he took a seat on the right of Prince Henry of Prussia, who followed him into the vehicle.

From the windows of the houses along the route followed by the prince's carriage to the palace and the crowds of people gathered in the streets, showers of flowers were thrown into the carriage and people shouted themselves hoarse.

At the palace Emperor William, surrounded by a brilliant staff of officers of the highest rank, received the venerable ex-chancellor and extended a welcome extremely cordial, and it was evident that the prince was much touched at the heartiness of the emperor's manner. The three eldest sons of the emperor were present at the reception.

Later an enthusiastic succession of demonstrations was on, thousands upon thousands of people packed the square in front of the eastle, singing the national anthem, "Wacht Am Rhein," and "Deutschland Ueber Rhein," and "Deutschland Ueber Alles." The enthusiasm was so great that the emperor and empress and the repeatedly appeared at the window in response to these manifestations, which continued throughout the after

At 3 o'clock Chancellor von Caprivi followed by all his secretaries of state, called at the castle and left their cards for Prince Bismarck.

THE WILSON TARIFF BILL.

VERY FEW AMENDMENTS MADE IN THE HOUSE.

TWO IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE.

The Sugar Bounty Knocked Out and Wool to Be Free Immediately on the Passage of the Act - Representative Burrows Speaks of the Plan of Campaign of the Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. - The Wilson tariff bill emerged to-day from the ordeal of amendments to which it had been subjected the last two weeks and is now in its perfected form so far as the house can perfect it. The additional days of debate next week, will be given exclusively to the income tax. It has been so difficult to keep track of the different amendments from day to day that the ways and means committee have not copies of the perfected bill.

COf the two material alterations in the bill-sugar and wool-that on sugar is of far reaching consequence. The committee had decided to gradually extinguish the sugar bounty by taking a part off each year for eight years. But the radical anti-sugar element succeeded in passing their amendment doing away with the bounty at a single stroke. The radicals also amended the bill so that refined sugar, as well as raw, goes on the free list.

The wool amendment changes the bill so that free raw woot and reduced duties on manufactured woolens go into effect as soon as the tariff bill becomes a law. The bill had fixed August I as the date for free raw wool to take effect and December 1 as the date for the reduced duties on manufactured woolens. But the radical element would accept no delay, and as a result, there is no postponement of dates in the woolen schedule. The difference of four months between free raw wool and reduced duty on manufactured wool was given in order to allow the trade to adjust itself to the change.

Among the lesseramendments made are those raising the duties on diamonds from 10 per cent under the bill to 30 per cent and the specific repeal of the reciprocity clause of the McKin-

Representative Burrows, Republican, of Michigan says: "The Republican members of the house will have no caucus on the tariff or income tax questions. Neither have they agreed on a policy. There is no need of an affirmative policy. We are simply passive while the majority proceeds to execute its commission. We recognize it would be futile for us to attempt to execute any affirmative policy. We have offered amendments, but they have failed of recognition, or have been defeated by the majority. What need, therefore, is there on our side of the house of a policy? We will quietly wait while the other side furnishes Representative McMillen, in charge of the income tax bill, said as to the prevailing reports that the income tax might defeat the tariff bill: 'I would be the last to jeopardize the tariff bill by an income tax or anything else. But I am absolutely positive that the bill as a whole—tariff and income tax -will pass.

NO CHANGES IN LEAD.

The House Refuses to Alter the Wilson Schedule-Cockran Gives Up. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.-In the house to-day all the amendments to the lead schedule were defeated after a debate of only an hour.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 .- After the reading of the journal in the house this morning, Mr. Haines of New York made the point of no quorum and the speaker ordered the roll is was in pursuance of a policy decided upon by the New York members to filibuster against an order from the committee on rules extending the tariff debate authorizing the offering of the internal revenue bill as an amendment to the tariff The call developed the presence of 181 members and the filibustering came to an ignominious collapse.

The speaker recognized Mr. Out-waite of Ohio from the committee on rules and he reported the special or-der for the Wilson bill and income tax amendment providing for a vote there-on February 1 and he demanded the previous question.

The opponents of the income tax realized their helplessness and did not even make a show of resistance. Mr. Cockran of New York, however, suggested a slight modification of the or der, so as to close general debate on the internal revenue amendment on Tuesday. To the other terms of the order he had no objections. "We can make but a poor show of resistance." he said, "against both the friends and enemies of the main bill who have united on the income tax proposition and this slight modifica tion is all we ask." Hatch of Missouri loudly demanded the regular order and, although appealed to, refused to withdraw it. Without further ado then the special order was adopted.

The house then resolved itself into committee of the whole and the con-sideration of the tariff bill was resumed, the pending amendments ing those relating to the lumber schedule. Mr. Doolittle, Republican, Washington, made a strong plea for the substitution of the lumber schedule of the present law for that of the Wilson bill. Free lumber, he said, would force the laborers of his state into competition with the cheap Chinese and Japanese labor employed across the Canadian line.

James McCullough, who was post-master at Waverly, N. J., under Har-rison, has been arrested for refusing to give up the office to his successor.

OKLAHOMA STANDS ALONE.

Probably Insurmountable Objections to Including the Teroltory in a State. WSHINAGTON, Jan. 29 .- Most of the orguments, written and verbal, thus far presented to the senate committee territories for the admission of Oklahoma as a state, have advocated that the lands of the five civilized tribes be included in the boundaries.

However desirable such a consummation may appear—and in fact would be—there is the very gravest danger that persistency of effort on these lines will postpone Oklahoma's ad-mission for some time. Lawyers of standing in the house and senate even hold that the supreme court would de-clare the act invalid by reason of the explicit declaration of the treaties that the lands in question should never become part of any state or territory without the consent of the Indians.

There are immediate practical diffi-culties no less formidable than the more distant legal ones. General Wheeler, chairman of the house committee on territories, without specifically defending his own position yet says those treaties create an insur-mountable bar and the lands of the five tribes cannot be added to the proposed state without trampling those treaties ruthlessly under foot.

POPULIST INCOME PLANS.

A Substitute for a Graduated Tax to Be Laid Before the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. - The Populist members of the house have arranged with Representative Richardson, presiding officer of the committee of the whole, for the recognition of one of their number to move the substitution of their provision for a graduated in-come tax in place of the fixed tax of two per cent in case the income tax feature is added to the Wilson bill.

The substitute measure has been prepared and is now ready to be offered at the first opportunity. In-stead of 2 per cent on all incomes of over $4,000, this amendment proposes a graduated increase, fixing the tax 1 per cent on all incomes between $2,500 and $10,000; at 2 per cent on in-comes between $10,000 and $30,000; at 3 per cent between $30,000 and $60,000; at 4 per cent between $60,000 and $100,000, and at 5 per cent on all incomes over $100,000.

OIL STRIKES IN KANSAS.

Nineteen Flowing Wells in Wilson Coun ty-Gas Also in Quantity.

NEODESHA, Kan., Jan. 28.-An oil company of Pennsylvania, which has been prospecting for oil and gas near this city, has drilled twenty-one wells and only two have proved valueless. Five wells have been "shot" with nitro glycerine causing them to flow in great quantities into large tanks. One of the wells has yielded oil at the rate of twenty-four barrels per day. The average depth of the wells is 855

Two gas wells have been sunk with capacities equal to any of the great gas wells of Indiana or Ohio. The engineer in charge of the works claims that this will be the most valuable oil and gas field west of the Mississippi

TO AVOID THE LYNCHERS.

A Negro Arrested for the Vernon Outrage Spirited Out of Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 29.-Yesterday a message was received that Katie Jacobs, the girl brutally assaulted at Vernon last Sunday, would arrive here to-day to identify the negro Barclay arrested here. The officers to-day said the girl was too sick to come and that the negro had been taken to Mount Vernon, and that she would go to that point to see him. It is, how-ever, asserted that the girl was in town to-day and recognized the negro, and that the officers are taking him to Kansas City to avoid lynching.

BANDITS FOUND GUILTY. The Three Lincoln, Ill., Train Robbers

Convicted in Short Order.

LINCOLN, Ill., Jan. 29.-The case of the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville bandits was to-day given to the jury and within one hour it decided that all three were guilty. VanMeter was sentenced to ten years in the state's prison. Woodward and Howe, having proved that their ages were 19 and 18 respectively, were sentenced to the reform school.

Opponents of Income Tax Refuse to Answer Roll Call. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. - When the house met to-day the Democratic op-ponents of the income tax bill refused to answer to their names, but at-

to answer to their names, but attempted to break the quorum unsuccessfully, the roll call developing the presence of 202 members.

Mr. Wilson tried to make an agreement to close the debate on pending amendments relating to the machinery schedule, but Mr. Cochran objected and Mr. Wilson moved that the debate be closed. Mr. Cockran began filibusterieg, but could only rally to his support ten New York members, not sufficient to secure tellers and the motion was carried. Terry's amendment to the amendment placing agricultural im-plements of all kinds on the free list was lost, 24 to 13.

Mr. Cochran made the point of no quorum, but tellers disclosed the presence of a quorum and the amendment was lost, 85 to 105.

was lost, 85 to 105.

Before consideration of the tarin bill was resumed, Mr. Hopkins, Republican of Illinois asked that an hour be set aside for consideration of the lead schedule, but Mr. Cockran objected and the house went into committee of the whole.

Mr. Hare's amendment to the sub stitute, imposing a 35 per cent at valorem duty on agricultural imple-ments, except as against countries ad-mitting similar articles free, in which case they shall go on the free list, was

FOUND WITH HIS THROAT CUT A Former Nebraskan, Now in California

Tells a Peculiar Story. HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 26 .- Advices received from Pasadena, Cal., tell of the finding of Captain A. D. Yocum the streets there with his throat cu one night last week. He was taken to his home, medical assistance sun moned. and there is some chance of his recovery. Yocum claimed he wa the victim of footpads, but as it wa his own knife that was used, tha theory is not believed.

Captain Yocum was a few years ago Mayor of Hastings, wealthy, a lawyer of pronounced ability and a politicia whose influence extended over the state. Two years ago on the street of this city he shot and killed Myror Van Fleet, a young man who had defamed Yocum's daughter, a beautiful young girl, by claiming that she was unduly intimate with the negro coachman.

At the trial he was convicted manslaughter and sentenced to on year in the penitentiary, but was in mediately pardoned by Governo Boyd. He than left with his family for California. There was some doub as to Van Fleet's guilt

Senate Procedings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 .- In the senat to-day, Mr. Squire of Washington presented resolutions of the chambe of commerce of Seattle, Wash., protesting against placing coal an lumber on the free list. He state that 20,000 men in his state were de pendent on the coal industry for en ployment and that lumbering was or of the greatest industries of the state In presenting a petition of Kansa citizens against the Wilson bill, M
