ONE SPECIES OF BLACK MAIL.

Threatening to Build a Stable in a Good nce Neighborho

There is no other city in the United States where the negative use of private property has become such an abuse as in New York. In many instances this dog-in-the-manger policy -won't build himself an! won't let anybody else build-is but a species of conservatism that belongs to the middle ages. But in very many it is simply and purely a species of blackmail. The property owners next door or in the near neighborhood would willingly buy out the objectionable place only the price is fixed far above the market rates.

"We can't pay such a price as that. Why, it's twice as much as the prop-erty is worth!"

"Very well-it's my price-you can take it or leave it. I'm going to build a stable on it if you don't purchase!" And there you are. All through the heart of business New York this real estate blackmail is held over the heads of those who would build befitting the grandeur of a great city. It is not by small holders, but by very rich men, or by estates managed by agents. Whenever an enterprising man or big corporation desires to build a new business block anywhere, he or it is almost sure to find some owner of this kind to embarrass or stop the projected improvement. It may be the estate is founded on ground rents, or it may be the property of some resident abroad who is satisfied with the present investment and won't sell at all. The probability is, however, that the owner will sell, but demands such an exorbitant price that it comes very properly under the head of blackmail, It is to pay me so much-you can't get along without my plot-it is my price, or stop!

WOMAN'S LATEST. She Has the Creases Pressed Out of Her

Dresses. When a man wants creases put in his trousers he sends them to the tailor and pays for the work. When the New York tailor-made woman wants the creases taken out of her skirt and coat-tails she walks into the up-town shop where she bought her gown, pulls off her Prince Albert, drops her dress on the floor, tells the clerk to "hurry them up," and waits. It takes about half an hour for two pressers to do the work, and neither gets a penny. That's where the com-manding spirit of the tailor-made woman shows itself.

Friday is the great busheling day, and often there are thirty damsels any if it wasn't for the funerals, I reckon." "That's right. It's funerals that keeps business alive." Some time and I was troubled with

There are some droll spectacles among them. While waiting for her clothes to come up one girl will do Delsarte exercise; another will put in the time showing her stout mother how to stand.

Books on everything, from Sandow to the "Heavenly Twins," are seen; occasionally a woman shines . her finger nalls while her neighbor has a hand glass looking for holes in her back teeth.

The suits come up, one by one, in beautiful shape; an obliging little girl assists in putting them on, and

A PRETTY CUTE JUSTICE.

He Was Not Great on Dears, But He Knew How to Raiso a Fh

It was the law of the village that all showmen, itinerants and organ grind-ers must get a license before doing business there. One day a fat police-man, who had been on the force about six months without doing anything, concluded it was time he arrested somebody. Soon afterward along came an Italian with a performing

"Hev yez got yer license?" asked the policeman. "No," said the exhibitor of the bear.

"Then yer my prizhers," said the policeman, and he triumphantly marched off with them to the village station house, he leading the Italian and the Italian leading the bear.

Arraigned before the police justice the Italian pleaded guilty and the judge officiously gave him a most severe and scorching lecture on the enormity of his offense, ending by fining him $10, the full extent of the law.

The culprit had a lot of small change ,in his pocket, but being mostly pennics and nickels, it only up to $7.50. For a few counted moments the judge was in a quandary. He didn't want to send the fellow to jail, nor yet lose the $10. Presently a bright idea struck him—a happy solution of the problem, and he said: "Here, officer! Take this fellow out to the market place and let him per-form with his bear until he makes up the balance; and when he gets it drive him out of town."

"Who is the young man that lost so heavily on the races today ?" "Oh, he's the sporting editor of a daily paper, who gives his readers tips on the winners."
