An Interesting Letter.

Mr. Editor-The Elkhorn Irrigation Company's ditch is now a certainty. The contractors are at work in earnest throwing dirt and in a few weeks time, nothing now unforeseen preventing, water will be running through it. While too late to do much good to crops this season, it will be ready to furnish all the water necessary for next season's

In order to make this ditch the benefit to our town and county which is hoped for, it will be necessary to settle up the now vacant lands along it capable of being irrigated. At present scarce a tenth of these lands are under cultivation, though a finer body of land cannot be found anywhere. One difficulty we have to meet is the fact that these lauds are mostly owned by non-residents, many of whom will be slow to open them up for cultivation or improvement.

It thus becomes necessary for our business men and citizens to assist the ditch people in every way that they consistently can to call attention to these lands and endeavor to get settlers upon them. Some of these lands can now be bought very cheap and on easy terms with a small payment down. I believe it is safe to say that they will double in value inside of twelve months. At least this has been the case in all irrigated countries and why should ours be an exception. Others can be leased at fair rentals. Nearly all of the nonresident land owners are represented locally by some one of our several real estate agents and parties wanting lands under the ditch should negotiate with

It is quite likely that much of the raw land can be leased the first year for the breaking, and large yellds of some crops can be raised on the sod. Potatoes do well on breaking as does rye, alfalfa, corn, beans, etc.

Under irrigation 40 to 50 acres makes a large farm where the land can all be watered. I would not advise our farmers to undertake to cultivate more than 80 acres at the outside. Forty acres properly farmed is worth more than a half section as it is usually farmed in this country. Some irrigation companies that own the lands under their ditch refuse to sell over forty acres to any one person. In China many irrigated farms do not exceed one acre in extent and furnish living for large families. I would not advise any of our farmers to undertake to emulate the heathen Chinee in this and live off the proceeds a single acre, but this fact illustrates hat can be done with irrigation on hall tracts of land, and shows the mpracticablity or loadvisability of tryng to farm too much. In a few years, Mr. Editors, I confidently believe that the little section of country under this ditch will be a most beautiful and productive spot and the happy homes of some 200 families. A nicer laying country or more fertile soil is not to be found anywhere in the state, and with plenty of water accessible when needed no locality presents greater agricultural possibilities or a finer field for the exercise of farm effort and art.

To parties contemplating locating along this the company will take pleasiving any information or s ance in its power concerning the lands, manner of irrigating, crops to raise, etc. It is what we are here for and we hope to establish profitable and friendly relations with all parties interested. Yours truly, CLARENCE SELAH,

A Great Big Cut.

Owing to the hard times nearly every The Nebraska State Journal, which has lity has been lessened in price. forged to the front as the best paper in state, realizes that the public is entitled to cheaper state papers, and therefore reduces its price from $10 to $7.50 per year, including the Sunday issue, or $6 per year for six days in the week. There will be no reduction in quality but the increased circulation, even at the lower price, will permit of larger expenditures for telegraphic news, etc. The Journal is for Nebraska first, last and all the time, and every effort is put forth to build up state interests. Pub-lished at the state capitel it is of par-ticular interest to Nebraskans.
