My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoes Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will awnser any inquiries regarding it when stamp is inclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability Wm. Roach, J. P., Primroy, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by P. C. "I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Edward Shumpik, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold the remedy in this city for over seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by P. C. Some very good people can never see any harm in sin while it can wear good cloth and ride in a coach.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. Whenever the world comes face to face with unselfish love it has to stop

At the last meeting of the Society for the Study of Comparative Psychology in Montreal Mr. Anderson gave some of his personal experiences in connection with the lower animals, among others a rather interesting one concerning a dog in his possession.

The dog had conceived a great liking for one of the members of the household, and nothing pleased him better than being allowed to rest at the door of his room. The room was situated at the end of a hallway, which was covered by oilcloth, consequently any person immediately below could hear the dog when its claws came in contact with the glazed surface. One day the dog, as usual, had taken up its place at the bedroom door, but was sent downstairs. In a little while he was heard again crossing the oilcloth upstairs Before removing again this time he was given a good scolding, and it was easily seen from his looks that he was ashamed of himself.

One of the members of the household went into an opposite room, leaving the door slightly open, and awaited developments.

In a short time the dog was seen approaching, walking with a peculiar gait; the whole weight of his body was placed on the ball of his foot, and it was impossible to hear his Sept. 15. claws touch the oilcloth.

Have we not here a perfect case of reasoning somewhat as follows: "If I can only succeed in passing the oilcloth I will be all right!"

The Hotter the Iron the Less Paln to the Suffering l'atlent.

"I have never been able to understand," said Dr. C. T. Glenarm of Denver, "why it is that the pain resulting from a burn with a red hot iron is so much greater than when the flesh is touched with an iron at a white heat, but I have seen the experiment demonstrated so many times that I know it to be a fact. Whenever it becomes necessary for me in my practice to cauterize a wound I am always careful that the iron I apply shall be of an intense white heat, and in a great majority of cases the patient has always said there was absolutely no pain felt, while if the iron should simply have been red hot, the effect would have been agonizing. This applies to animals as well as man. I ones saw a veterinary surgeon apply a white-heated iron to the shoulder of a horse; the animal never winced under the operation, and seemed hardly conscious of what was

The Dutch Alarm Clock.

In the back streets of most of the towns in Holland, there may be seen houses with this curious sign-board, "Here they Knock and Wake Persons;" for in the large comfortable Dutch beds folks are apt to oversleep one bottle cured them all and he had themselves, and so the men and women who have to rise very early for their work pay a man a small sum every week to call them at daybreak. And call them he does, for he knocks and rings until his customers appear at their windows, and the row he makes is often enough to disturb a careful Dutch housewife has taken the stoves out of the rooms, the waker-up earns a little extra pay supplying hot water as well for an early cup of tea or coffee.

Worst Railroad in England.

way in England." The following letter may be recommended as an admirable model: "Sir: The Southeastern railway is the very worst railway in the world. Its engines are asthmatic: its lamps are trimmed by foolish virgins; its fare excessive; its carriages let in the snow in the winter, and are furnaces in summer; its motto is unpunctuality; its principal station is approached through the neck of a bottly. It ruins the temper, destroys the digestion and enables one to realixe the horrors of Dante's Inferno. I am, sir, yours obediently, The Worm Who Turns."

Palpitation of the Heart Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Legs and Feet.

ROPED BEAR AND BRONCHO. Made a Good Throw But Hada't Rockoned With His Horse. Tom Buckley was working on the spring round-up in the employ of one of the large cattle outfits in Southeastern Montana. While riding through a clump of brush one day hunting cattle a full-grown silver-tip bear suddenly arose and confronted him. The only weapon at hand was his lariat, and with visions of juicy bear same time spurring his horse, and the shock came. It was very severe, for, unluckily, the bear's foreleg as well as his head was through the loop of the rope. Tom was about to drop the rope like a hot cake when his horse suddenly put his head down and started buck-

Looking back from his position of comparative safety he could see that both animals had become entangled in the rope and were having it out in great style, making frantic efforts to free themselves. The rope finally parted and away they went in opposite directions, or, as he expressed it: They quit the country, hitting only the high spots."

An Ostrich Skin Rug.

One of the most interesting curiosties for which sea captain's cabins are noted is possessed by Captain Pea-body of the ship Tam O'Shanter. It is a rug made of six ostrich skins, with feathers entire, sewed with catgut strings. The captain obtained it on one of his voyages to Patagonia. The Pall Mall Gazette has been publishing opinions as to "the worst railard an eye for color effects possessed by the Patagonians, for the colors are most artistically blended. Captain Peabody asserts that it is aimost impenetrable to the cold, and maintains its pristine freshness and durability against all the rough handling on shipboard.
