Waiter (the morning after the rumpus) What will you have with your steak sir? Some Saratoga chips? Prince Hatzlost (wrathfully)-Donner blitzen, fellow how dare you mention ze cheeps to me!

My boy was taken with a disease resembling bloody flux. The first thing I thought of was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Two doses of it settled the matter and cured him sound and well. I heartily recommend this remedy to all persons suffering from a like complaint. I will awnser any inquiries regarding it when stamp is inclosed. I refer to any county official as to my reliability Wm. Roach, J. P., Primroy, Campbell Co., Tenn. For sale by P. C. "I know an old soldier who had chronic diarrhoea of long standing to have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." says Edward Shumpik, a prominent druggist of Minneapolis, Minn. "I have sold the remedy in this city for over seven years and consider it superior to any other medicine on the market for bowel complaints." 25 and 50 cent bottles of this remedy for sale by P. C. Corrigan Druggist.

First Deacon-Dr. Thirdly wants his salary raised $500. Second Deaconwhat makes him so stuck up? No one is thinking of trying him for heresy. "No, but his picture is being printed in the daily newspapers."

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one bottle cured them all and he had some left which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. C. Corrigan Druggist

HE CHARMS SNAKES.

A Pennsylvanian Has a Peculiar Influence Over Snakes.

Pennsylvania has a snake charmer, who exercises a marvelous power over veptiles. He is Joseph Wood, of Carversville. Just how he hypnotizes the repulsive creatures is a mystery known only to himself. Wood has but to look at a snake and the creature instantly becomes a plaything in his hands. While working about the fields

Wood always keeps his eye open for the crawlers. He does not go through any special performance, but fixing his magnetic optic upon the reptile deliberately walks up and collars it. One day he captured an enormous blacksnake. The reptile, measuring over four feet in length, was large enough to choke a man to death. Wood wound it up in a snug coil and placed it in his trousers pocket. That evening he took it to Pickering & Walton's store, in Carversville. When Wood entered the store the usual assemblage of villagers had gathered. Grasping the snake at about the middle of its body, Wood pulled it from his pocket. The reptile's head darted to and fro as it writhed in the charmer's hands. The crowd scattered, leaping over tables and chairs. After amusing himself in this way for a time, at the solicitation of a nervous friend Wood whirled the snake over his head like a cart whip, cracking it like a lash, the snake's head flying off as neatly as though it had been severed with a knife.

HELPED THEM DIE EASY. Farmer Leach's Indorsement of the Hog

Cholera Cure. "In Nemaha county, southeastern Nebraska," said Representative Mercer of Omaha, "there lives an old farmer named Rufus Leach. The hog cholera was raging in the county and Leach's hogs were dying fast, when along came a smooth-tongued fakir with a patent cholera cure for hogs. He showed Leach his goods, read him the directions on the bottle, and sold him two or three bottles of the compound for $5.

Three or four weeks later Farmer Leach was standing at his gate in the evening when a well-dressed stranger, who was driving by, hailed him. There was an air of desolation about the farm, a lull as of death, unrelieved by the musical bass grunts of a lot of contented hogs.

"Good evening, Mr. Leach, called out the stranger, pulling up at the " 'Good evening,' said Leach. "'You don't remember me, I see, said the stranger.

"'No, not exactly,' said the farmer. "I sold you some cholera cure for your hogs a few weeks ago,' the stranger explained.

"'Oh, you're the man, are you?' said Leach, quietly.
"'Yes, sir,' said the fakir, 'and, by the way, how did it work?' "'Well,' said Leach, in his complacent style, 'I don't know that it done any good, except to make the hogs die a little easier."

Milk-Giving Male Animals.

Dr. C. Hart Merriam, chief of the division of ornithology and mammalogy in connection with the agricultural department at Washington, once made some interesting observagiving faculty of the males of a Western species of rabbit called Baird's hare. publication of these odd facts revived more of them. Sold at P. C. Corrigan's regularly gave milk. According to the famed St. Francis Xavier, in the year 1546, in the island of Amboya, he found "a he goat giving suck to his young kids with his own milk. He had one breast which gave every day as much milk as would fill a basin (size of basin not mentioned)." "This," the saintly Jesuit wrote, "I saw with my own eyes."

HEART DISEASE!

Fluttering, No Appetite, Could Not Sleep, Wind on Stomach.

"For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought that every minute would be my last. There was a feelling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I could not sweep a room without resting. My husband induced me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and am happy to say it has cured me. I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. Its effect was truly marvelous."

MRS. HARRY E. STARR, Pottsville, Pa. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $6, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Eikhart, Ind.

A Sheep That Hibernates

Unlike most curious creatures of the animal creation the Persian sheep has "two chief peculiarities." During the spring and summer months it accumulates an enormous amount of fat in its tail, that appendage frequently becoming so enormously en-larged as to weigh from 40 to 65 pounds, a two-wheeled cart being provided for its reception by most of the shepherds who raise this peculiar breed of animals. Its other "chief peculiarity" is this: During the winter or dry season the big-tailed sheep becomes dormant, hibernating like a bear, thus consuming the fat stored up in its tail during the more favorable months.

In Praise of Woman.

of inhospitable Denmark, through honest Sweden, frozen Lapland, rude and churlish Finland, unprincipled Russia and the widespread regions of the wandering Tartar, if hungry, dry, cold, wet or sick, woman has ever been friendly to me, and uniformly so; and, to add to this virtue, so worthy the appellation of benevolence, these actions have been performed in so free and kind a manner that, if I was dry I drank the sweet draught and if hungry ate the coarse morsel with a double relish.

Steam City Railroads.

The steam city railroads of London earn only $73,000 a mile, while those of New York city earn $300,000 a mile per annum. The New York railroads carry a far greater number of passengers, and run quicker and make more stops than the London roads. In New York it takes twelve to fifteen seconds for the people to get into and out of the cars, but in London it takes about thirty seconds, although the cars in London have side doors, which are supposed to afford greater facilities for the ingress and outgo of passen-
